I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2344-The entire noisy scene fell silent.

Everyone looked at David in horror.

Everyone felt a depressing and suffocating energy from David, making them unable to breathe.

Even Old Man Amarelo, who was highly respected in the Wier business circle, looked at David with a look of horror at this time.

He had lived so many years but had never felt such powerful energy.

Perhaps no one in Wier could fight this.

'Who is this kid?

'He's so young and yet he possesses such powerful soul power.

Unbelievable!

"Go on! Keep talking. Why do you stop suddenly? You're making pretty valid points. I still want to hear more," David said with a grin.

No one in the audience dared to speak.

They were even finding it difficult to breathe, let alone move.

After a while, David continued, "Didn't you just say that you want to unite and deal with me, an outsider? Why are you not talking now? Huh? Why are you sweating on your head? Is it hot in here? Why don't I feel hot at all? Instead, I feel quite cool."

Still, no one dared to speak.

There was nothing but fear in their eyes.

Mr. Zachow and Old Man Amarelo were the ones who sweated the most.

It was not hot, but they felt cold and were drenched in cold sweat.

“Since you’re not speaking, let me say a few words. No one is objecting, right? If you don’t say anything, I will take it that you agree! Don’t say I didn’t give you a chance later.”

David said with a smile on his face.

“From now on, I don’t want to see people playing dirty tricks in secret, otherwise don’t blame me if I go to your door. If I do, it will not be as simple as today. Don’t worry, I’m just passing Wier and I’m resting here for a while. As long as you don’t trouble me, I will leave very soon and this will be good for everyone.”

After he finished speaking, David’s energy skyrocketed again.

Boom!

Crack! Crack!

The inn began to shake.

A shocking force directly lifted the entire ninth floor of the inn into the air.

The ninth floor was a thousand square meters, but the roof was effortlessly lifted.

Without shade, the sun shone into the room.

Although the temperature had risen, it still could not drive away the chill in everyone’s hearts.

As the people gradually looked up at the unobstructed sunlight, they only felt shocked in their hearts.

‘What the hell is that?’

They did not even see David making a move. By just relying on the energy he exuded, he had lifted the top floor of the inn.

In the real world, a lot of people could do this and many were capable of it.

However, this was The Spirit Cage.

Everyone came in via mind power.

Furthermore, mind power was notoriously difficult to cultivate.

So, such destructive power was absolutely rare in Wier.

With this move alone, David's strength in Wier would be ranked at least among the top ten.

Moreover, David's age showed that he was not simple at all.

Some of the businessmen had Wier's powerful forces standing behind them.

Yet in the eyes of those powerful forces, they were nothing more than dogs.

The forces would keep them if they were obedient, but if they were not, they would be replaced.

If they offended someone they should not, it was only a matter of time before they were abandoned.
