

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2394

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2394-He was very accurate in many things.

“Sylvio, you read my fortune? What’s the result?” Elora asked curiously.

“It showed that you will encounter this calamity, but you will also meet your benefactor in this life. In the end, your misfortune will turn into a blessing. As for who this person is, I tried to look into it but I couldn’t figure out who it is. Not only that, but I also suffered a lot from the backlash. It took a long time to recover.”

‘What?’

Elora’s eyes widened and she was extremely shocked.

‘Sylvio could tell that I would meet my benefactor? In the end, my misfortune will even turn into a blessing?’

‘Who is that benefactor?’

She only met one person and it was David.

‘Sylvio got a backlash when he tried to look into David?’

‘How is that possible?’

One must know that Sylvio was the longest-lived and strongest among the five Leila rulers.

He only suffered a little when he read Elora’s fortune, but he got a backlash when he tried to do that for David.

Elora felt that her brain did not have enough capacity to process this.

Seeing such a big reaction from Elora confirmed the result of Sylvio’s reading.

He only told Elora after he dismissed Lufian to avoid trouble.

It would be fine if the benefactor Elora met was a woman, but if it was a man, Lufian would not be able to accept it.

Then, things were likely to go in the worst direction.

Lufian had a dual personality.

Once his other personality appeared, it would surely cause unpredictable consequences.

Although Lufian was good at hiding it, Sylvio knew that if Lufian went berserk, even he might not be able to restrain him.

“S-Sylvio, I... I...” Elora did not know how to answer for a while.

She did not intend to let anyone know about David.

Not just Lufian, but anyone else too.

However, Sylvio had seen it in his reading and this confused her.

“Elora, you don’t have to worry about anything. I sent Lufian and the others away just to have a private chat with you. Don’t worry, no matter what you say today, I promise not to reveal anything.”

Elora stared at Sylvio for a long time and sighed inwardly.

Now that Sylvio had found out, she did not want to keep hiding.

Based on what she knew about Sylvio, if the other party promised not to say anything, then he would surely keep his promise.

Moreover, Elora did not know how to solve this matter, so it would be good to let Sylvio know so he could come up with some ideas for her.

In case Lufian knew of David’s existence and switched to his other personality, Sylvio would be able to control him.

No one in Star Kingdom could do that except him.

Knowing this could allow Sylvio to prepare mentally in advance.

However, Elora opened her mouth and did not say anything.

“Sylvio, what do you want to know? You can just ask me! If you want me to tell you myself, I won’t know where to start,” Elora shook her head bitterly and said.

“After your soul entered The Spirit Cage, did you meet your benefactor?”
Sylvio asked the first question.

“Yes!” Elora answered affirmatively.

“Is he a man?”

“Yes!”

“After meeting him, you don’t want to further your relationship with Lufian and even want to cut ties with him and have nothing to do with him, am I right?”

Sylvio’s question was straightforward and Elora was taken aback.

She recalled Lufian and David in her mind.

It was very strange.

Even though she had known Lufian for thousands of epochs, her impression of Lufian at this moment was actually vague.

On the contrary, she could remember every detail of her time with David clearly.

After she understood how she felt on the inside, Elora replied with the firmest tone, “Yes.”
