I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2461-“Um...”

Ted looked at Lorraine and fell into deep thought.

The disciples around Lorraine were all shocked at her confidence.

‘Mt. Surr has caused the entire sect to be passive, yet Lorraine wants to handle this on her own?’

‘Is it possible?’

‘That chief disciple from Mt. Surr is someone who can defeat Grant and Fred with one move.’

‘He has already been ranked as a top three peerless genius among the Somerland Chosen Ones.’

At this moment, the elder of The Kruns, Taylor, said, “Lori, come back now! The head of the sect will handle Mt. Surr. As a disciple of the sect, you only need to follow orders.”

Clearly, she did not think that Lorraine would have the power to deal with Mt. Surr.

Back then, she was the one who brought Lorraine back to The Krums when she passed by Capital City.

Despite Lorraine’s considerable talent, the fact that she had wasted 20 years meant that catching up gradually would be a reasonable approach.

What outstanding achievements did she have? It would be so hard!

“Master, believe me. I will not disappoint you!” Lorraine was not affected by what Taylor said.

She waited for Ted’s answer.

If Ted said yes, she would go to get the head of Mt. Surr and make him apologize.

“Lori, did you join other sects after you left?” Ted asked suddenly.

Lorraine did not know why Ted asked this. However, she still answered honestly, “Yes, the sect I joined is called the Iridescent Sect.”

“Gosh!”

There was a sensation in the hall.

It was considered taboo for one person to join two sects simultaneously, as it would be seen as an act of betrayal.

The Krums’ disciples did not think that Lorraine would do something like this.

Before Ted continued, Master Coda asked impatiently, “Lori, did you... get another master?”

“Yes, Master! I got into another sect. However, my master in the Iridescent Sect has died. As for what happened exactly, it’s a little complicated so I’ll tell you when I have time,” Lorraine continued without lying.

With her level of strength, she did not need to lie to hide her mistakes anymore.

Even if she was wrong, no one would dare to do anything.

When Ted knew her actual strength, he might even kneel and beg her to not leave The Krums.

This was the confidence she had in her strength.

“Lori, I have no idea what you’ve been through and I won’t dare to make assumptions as to whether you’re right or wrong, but no sect in the world can accept someone with two sects and two masters,” Taylor said in disappointment.

She had a look of disappointment in her eyes.

“Master, Lorraine was just confused. Please be lenient and forgive her!” Grant quickly begged Ted for leniency.

“Master Ted, maybe Lori had no other way and that’s why she chose to join another sect. Please be lenient and let her stay,” Fred also started to plead for leniency.

The two were worried that Ted would kick Lorraine out in anger.

Ted did not say anything. His eyes were on Lorraine, waiting for her to explain herself.

Lorraine did not pay any attention to Fred and Grant who were pleading for leniency on her behalf. Instead, she calmly and slowly said, “Master, what age are we in that you’re still concerned about this? Plus, the sect I joined is not from Earth. Now that I’m back, my senior and the head of the Iridescent Sect are here as well. Why don’t you ask them if they care about this? Earth is too small. If you go out, you’ll know that the universe is so unimaginably big. Earth is not even a grain of sand among it. In this vast universe, strength is the only capital for survival. Without strength, everything else is just delusions.”
