I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2474-“Just try it. Do you think I’m scared of you?”

The two super Overlords fought once again.

This time was different.

Just now, Sylvio mainly wanted to take Stark as far as possible so that they could not affect Elora’s restoration.

Now, all he wanted was to kill the Soul Devourer scoundrel.

Even if he could not, he must teach Stark a lesson he would never forget.

It took a long time for the super black hole in the void to disappear slowly.

Fortunately, this was a barren place, far away from the living planets.

Otherwise, the destructive power would be unimaginable.

It was a large black hole, so everything within a radius of hundreds of millions of miles would be sucked in.

After the void calmed down again, a space crack appeared and three figures walked out.

The two on the side were Lufian and Drogo, while the one in the middle was Valentin.

Valentin was extremely weak and needed the support of Lufian and Drogo to stand.

It could be seen how serious his injuries were.

When the Robotia Lv 6 self-destructed, he was facing the opponent at zero distance.

Fortunately, this was a defective product, so its selfdestruction power was reduced. Otherwise, Valentin’s injuries would have been more serious.

Lufian and Drogo also suffered backlashes, but compared to Valentin, they were much better.

“Drogo, look after Valentin. I’m going to look for Elora. She should still be in some dimension,” Lufian said with blood- red eyes.

There was nowhere to release the monstrous anger in his heart and he almost could not suppress his other personality.

Once Lufian’s violent personality came out, he would definitely barge into the Robotias’ lair to avenge Elora.

“Lufian, let’s decide when Sylvio comes back! He can find Elora’s whereabouts soon with Zwei Arithmetics. It’s much better than you looking around like a headless chicken.” Drogo persuaded.

“No! I must find Elora as soon as possible. She failed to restore her body this time. She must have been greatly hurt so she needs me.”

“But you don’t even know where she is, how can you find her? Sylvio will be back soon, you’re wasting your time doing this.”

Lufian did not say anything.

Concerned about Elora, the anger in his heart was getting stronger and stronger.

Just when he was about to be overwhelmed, a hand rested on Lufian’s shoulder.

“Lufian, calm down! Elora isn’t dead yet! What are you doing?”

The three turned their heads to look. Sylvio had returned and stood behind the three.

Sylvio also looked quite battered at this time.

After all, he had just fought Stark.

Since his opponent was able to escape in the tragic battle thousands of epochs ago, he was definitely not weak.

“Sylvio!” The three called out at the same time.

“Hey.”

Sylvio nodded and asked, “How are you doing?”

“Lufian and I are fine but we suffered some backlash.

Valentin is more seriously injured. At that time, he was right in front of the Robotia Lv 6 to prevent it from descending,” Drogo said.

“Sylvio, don’t worry! I’m fine, but I may have to rest for a while and won’t be able to participate in the battle.” Valentin comforted Sylvio with a forced smile while enduring severe physical and mental pain.

“Sylvio, now that Elora’s whereabouts are unknown, I hope you can use Zwei Arithmetics to find her whereabouts. This time, we failed to restore her body so her soul was severely damaged again. I don’t know what happened to her.” Lufian looked worried.

The appearance of Sylvio helped to temporarily suppress his other personality.
