

Read I Am A Quadrillionaire Chapter 2487

I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2487-When David opened his eyes again, he had arrived in The Spirit Cage.

After he got up and walked out of the place he stayed in seclusion, he contacted Beanie and Thor as usual to ask them to report their progress. While he was at it, he would ask if the two had any problems that they could not solve.

After Beanie got the message, she looked at Pebbles who was sound asleep. She did not wake the little girl but instead went to find David.

Beanie ran into David in the living room.

“M-Maste!” Beanie called out, out of breath.

“Hmm? Beanie, are you nearby? How did you get here so quickly?” David asked curiously.

“Master, I’ve been at home watching someone recently so I never went out.”

“Watching someone at home? Who?” David was curious.

“Princess Pebbles!” 1

David frowned and thought he heard her wrongly. So, he raised his voice, “Who?”

“The little girl Pebbles you ran into in Sole. After that, you keep her around and she loved nuzzling in your arms. Didn’t she leave earlier? However, Rivers found her and brought her back. She kept saying that she’s been looking for you.”

“You’re saying... Pebbles?” David asked in confusion.

“Yes! It’s her!” Beanie answered affirmatively.

Once he got the answer, David got up from his seat. “Where is she?”

“She’s in the secret room where we store treasures. She just finished eating and is asleep.”

The moment Beanie finished talking, David disappeared.

She quickly ran after him.

David was astonished to hear what Beanie said.

Although Pebbles left without a word, she did leave a letter.

She said she needed to attend to some urgent matters so she had to leave temporarily.

David believed that something might have happened to Pebbles' family, which could be the reason she ended up in The Spirit Cage.

Once she remembered her past, she would, of course, go back to find her family.

Why did she come back to The Spirit Cage?

She was also looking for him.

Even though he was curious, this was not the time to wonder about all those questions.

He would only ask those questions after he saw Pebbles.

So, Beanie told him where Pebbles was, David left impatiently without a word.

In the next second, David appeared at the door of the secret room storing treasures.

He spotted the four or five-year-old little girl sleeping among the treasures.

David's first feeling toward this little girl was that she felt familiar.

Very familiar.

Even though Pebbles was a teenager when she left, David was sure that this four or five-year-old little girl in front of him was Pebbles.

Just like Pebbles said, a person's scent would not change.

As for how Pebbles became this way, David had no idea.

He approached Pebbles carefully for fear of waking her.

Approaching Pebbles, David crouched down gently to observe the little girl's face, which resembled a porcelain doll.

She was similar to the little girl he first met in Sole.

However, this one was younger.

David loved Pebbles in this state.

She had a chubby face and her voice sounded childish.

She was so adorable.

It was not that David did not like her after she grew up.

As she grew up, her body would start to develop. So, they could not be too intimate with each other. After all, there were differences between a man and a woman.

He reached out his hand and pulled the little girl into his arms.

The old familiar feeling was back.

After he took the little girl into his arms, she sniffed in her dreams.

She seemed to have smelled something familiar.

So, she groggily opened her eyes.