I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2491-Perry looked at Jumbo Court's door in front of him and scoffed, "Don't worry. Since I'm back, no one in Amber City will dare to threaten my interests. They will have to give me back double what they took from me. He's just an outsider. I think he's just tired of living."

As he said that a few people from Jumbo Court walked out.

The person in the lead was Thor.

Someone was blocking his entrance so, of course, he had to come out.

He had been staying in Amber City for so long and this was the first time he had encountered this.

Thor was not flustered.

He just contacted Master David.

So, he only needed to focus on his job as Master David would take care of the rest.

If Master David was still in seclusion, Thor would feel a little nervous.

However, after Pebbles reappeared, Master David did not go into seclusion anymore.

"May I know who you are? Why are you here in Jumbo Court?" Thor took the lead and asked.

"Are you the boss here?" Perry asked.

"Yes, I'm Jumbo Court's boss, Thor Rivers. May I know what I can help you with?"

When Thor saw how imposing the other party was, he also slightly humbled himself.

He had been a businessman for most of his life so he knew it would be best to keep the peace.

He would not cause trouble if he could avoid it.

Even though Master David had told him that he should just take action and not constrain himself, as the saying went, 'let sleeping dogs lie.'

If he could solve this peacefully, why should he make a fuss out of this?

"Are you the one disturbing Amber City's market while I'm away, causing everyone's livelihood to suffer?"

"Sir, you're hilarious. I'm not that capable. The market is decided by everyone. I just offered a slightly higher price, that's pretty normal, right? If I like something, of course, I'd pay a higher price to get it," Thor explained patiently.

"Alright, it's good enough that I know you're the culprit. I'm not here to reason with you. Everyone, go in and raid Jumbo Court. Take everything inside and arrest everyone here. I'll shoulder the responsibility if something happens," Perry waved his hand and ordered.

The moment he finished speaking, more than ten guards appeared from behind him immediately.

Judging from the movements and appearance of the guards, they were definitely not ordinary people. They were all top-notch powerhouses.

As he watched the more than ten guards walking over to him, Thor yelled, "Stop!"

"What? Are you regretting this now? Listen, it's too late. I gave you a chance to go to my house to apologize to me sincerely, but too bad you didn't appreciate it. Now, you're asking me to stop? No way in hell! No one who offends me can walk out of Amber City safely," Perry said arrogantly.

As the direct descendant of the Campbell family, he had the right to say this.

"Sir, don't you think it's a bit too much for you to raid my place and arrest my people without finding out the truth of the matter? Jumbo Court is doing legitimate business and this is a healthy competition. What's so wrong about this?" Thor asked in a deep voice.

“Your biggest mistake is offending me! As for whether I’m being a bit too much, I’ll make it even worse for you now. Not only will you not be able to escape, anyone who’s related to you will not be able to escape as well. What are you waiting for? Get him!”

Thor did not expect this guy to take action without any warning. He did not dilly-dally at all. So, Thor started to panic.

Master David was not here yet.

Thor might lose the countless valuable treasures in Jumbo Court.

He was not worried about his safety.

Even if he was arrested, he believed that David would come and save him.

More than ten guards started to approach Thor and the rest.

When the other employees in Jumbo Court saw what was happening, their legs started shaking.

One of them suddenly knelt and cried, “Sir, please spare us! Please spare us! I’m just a lowly subordinate so please spare me and let me live! I promise I will cut all ties with Jumbo Court in the future.”

With the first person taking the lead, the rest also knelt and begged for mercy.

Anyone with a discerning eye could tell that the other party did not come in peace because of how overbearing he was.

Even though Thor paid them handsomely, money was nothing compared to their lives.
