I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2410-With Viktor leading, David soon arrived at the reception hall of the mayor's residence.

A tall and burly middle-aged man stood guard at the door. His eagle-like eyes stared at everyone.

David was not bothered.

On the contrary, Beanie and the others behind him felt a chill all over their bodies, as if they were being targeted by a bloodthirsty ancient beast.

Viktor hurried up to greet him and said, "Captain Longer, this is Master David!"

There was only one person in the entire Amber City who Viktor would address as Captain Longer.

He was the boss of all law enforcers—Arian Longer.

He was also the right-hand man of the mayor.

He would not obey other people's orders but the mayor's.

In other words, he would only listen to whoever became the mayor.

Arian's status in Amber City was much higher than that of a small team captain like Viktor.

It would not be an exaggeration to say he could do whatever he wanted.

"Were you the one making trouble at the city gate?" Arian asked, staring at David.

If Arian stared at anyone in Amber City like this, they would be so frightened that they would become weak and not able to stand.

"I don't want to repeat myself," David said calmly.

He was not showing any respect to the other party at all.

“Not bad, kid. You are the first person to talk to me like this, no wonder you dared to make trouble in Amber City. You are brave enough! I just want to know if you can still be so tough after this,” Arian said with a half-smile on his face.

Faced with such a threat, David narrowed his eyes. He looked at the other party with a half-smile and said contemptuously, “And you’re the one who’s going to do that?”

“Kid, you’ve never heard of my name before, huh? Only a handful of people in Amber City dare to say that to me. Do you think you can become one of them?”

‘You’ll know if you give it a try. Why are you spewing so much nonsense?’ David looked disdainful.

“Do you think I won’t dare to do so?”

Arian felt that he was being provoked, so he glared at David with his beastly eyes. It looked like he was about to tear in half the prey in front of him.

Viktor did not dare to breathe too loudly so close to the two in conflict.

He could not afford to offend either.

One was Captain Longer, and the other one was the direct descendant of a middle or top-tier force of a main city.

Beanie and Thor’s hearts were in their throats.

They knew how powerful their master was, but this was Amber City after all. It was one of the eight main cities of The Spirit Cage.

If Captain Longer could become the captain of the law enforcement team and maintain order in Amber City, he must not be looked down upon.

“Stop spewing nonsense if you can fight! You’re as long-winded as a b*tch!” David continued to trigger Arian.

The energy he felt outside the city did not belong to this Arian person. Instead, it belonged to the mayor inside the room.

To David, Arian's measly strength was similar to Viktor, perhaps just slightly stronger.

'You're asking for it!' Arian said, word by word.

Just as he was about to show David what he was capable of, a voice came from the room behind him.

"Ari, tell Master David to come in."

Arian immediately stopped in his tracks and turned to reply respectfully, 'Yes, Mayor!'

Then, he turned to look at David.

"Go ahead, kid. The mayor is waiting for you inside."

David shrugged and walked forward. When he walked past Arian, he stopped and ordered, "Beanie, Rivers, wait for me out here. Don't worry, no one will dare to do anything to you. If anyone dares to even touch a hair on you, I'll end their f* eking life."

After he said that, he tilted his head to glance at Arian. Clearly, he was directing this to him.

Arian was so mad that he wanted to beat this kid in front of him to death.

When had he suffered such grievance since becoming Captain Longer of the Amber City law enforcement team?
