I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2580-Mother's tired voice was mixed with overwhelming anger.

The great Almighty's treasure was indeed extremely powerful when used.

It not only gave Mother, only a strong partial Heavenly Overlord, the power to fight a real Heavenly Overlord but also the power to severely damage or kill him.

If Mother did not have such a treasure, it would not be Lufian's match even if there were ten of it.

This was the method of a great Almighty.

He did not even need to show up. The treasure it left here casually had such great power.

However, the price paid was large.

A price so big that partial Heavenly Overlords could not handle it.

Mother, who knew it was short of time, stopped talking to Lufian.

Ten red rays penetrated Lufian's body and immobilized him.

The remaining 30 began to penetrate Lufian's body crazily.

Pfft! Pfft!

Lufian was stabbed countless times in an instant.

Lufian was like a target that was being ravaged mercilessly.

He did not make a sound during the whole process but just endured it silently. At the same time, he was secretly urging his strength to heal the wounds caused by the rays.

After a while, Lufian's flesh had been pierced hundreds of millions of times.

If it was someone else, they would have become minced meat, or there might be nothing left of them.

However, Lufian's body was still intact and had not changed much.

At most, his clothes had disappeared and blood continued to flow out of his body, dyeing the surroundings red.

One had to admire the recovery power of a Heavenly Overlord.

He had been attacked and penetrated hundreds of millions of times, but could remain intact.

However, the intense continuous pain made Lufian frown.

By this time, the Mother was like an arrow at the end of its flight.

The red light rays it controlled were disappearing one by one.

It had obviously reached its limit.

It was very draining for a partial Heavenly Overlord to use the treasure of a great Almighty.

After a while, its body would be drained.

"Hey, scrap metal, have you used your trump card? Is it my turn now? I will return what you did to me ten times or a hundred times to you later. I'd like you to feel what it's like being a target too." Lufian grinned, suppressing the pain in his body.

His expression was so scary.

Faced with this situation, Mother immediately broke down.

It kept asking itself in its heart, 'Why can't the Master's treasure kill him?'

'Lufian is only a Heavenly Overlord and Master said this treasure can deal with all Heavenly Overlords.'

'Even if it can't kill the opponent, it can still be used to save my life.'

'Master won't lie to me.'

'But why is this happening?'

'What exactly is the problem?

'What kind of monster did I encounter?'

"You are not human! You are not human at all! You are a devil! You must be a devil!" Mother yelled in terror.

It could not accept that it could not kill Lufian even after it had tried its best with its master's treasures. Moreover, Lufian even looked like he could still fight.

On the contrary, Mother had almost lost the strength to speak, let alone continue the fight. 2

In the beginning, it was the Robotias' wrath attacking Lufian, but now, the roles would be reversed. 2
