

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2313

Chapter 2313

In the spacious courtyard of the mansion, Leon, Angus, and the others already formed their ranks, waiting respectfully.

The Southern Boss and his group halted their steps about five or six meters away from Leon, Angus, and the others and both sides stood facing each other in confrontation.

What an elaborate formation! Leon and Angus thought as they glanced up, their hearts sinking.

The skilled members of the Spears that the Southern Boss brought with him this time numbered at least forty to fifty, each one exuding a sharp and powerful aura; despite the old and wary appearance of the Four Apostles, their spirits shone brightly, and their presence calm and profound, emanating an extremely dangerous sense of oppression!

At first glance, it was clear that they were not ordinary martial artists.

"Leon, you didn't expect to see us again so soon, did you? You've got quite the nerve to wait here after learning that I led this group! Now, there's nowhere left for you to run.

Prepared to die!" The Southern Boss mocked with a sneer.

He knew very well that their movement would cause a significant commotion, which certainly could not escape Leon's attention.

Initially, he thought that once Leon learned of this, he would likely be scared and flee in haste or find a place to hide.

To prevent Leon from slipping away, he even arranged several scouts to monitor Leon's movements around the mansion in advance.

To his bewilderment, instead of running or hiding, Leon stayed home to confront him, which caught him off guard.

Still, Leon's refusal to flee saved him some trouble and it was exactly what the Southern Boss wanted.

"Southern Boss, you've repeatedly sent people to ambush me in the past, and I haven't had a chance to settle that matter with you! Now, you're escalating things further, taking advantage of the Spears' influence to commit wrongdoing! I warn you, don't push it too far!" Leon rebuked in a deep voice.

"What if I push it too far? Let me give it to you straight, brat, you have one chance to survive this. As long as you hand over Cynthion Group and all the formulae for the alchemical pills, I might consider sparing your life! Refuse and you shall die today!" The Southern Boss assumed a superior posture, his words dripping with threats.

He and Rodney had been meticulously scheming against Leon recently, with the sole purpose of seizing control of Cynthion Group.

As the chairman of Cynthion Group, Leon held all the formulae and core secrets of the company and it would be ideal with Leon was willing to hand everything over.

The Southern Boss was willing to fulfill his promise and spare Leon's life.

After all, Leon was mistaken as the person who killed Yonas, so even if the Southern Boss let go of Leon, Arthur would still kill him three days later.

No matter what happened, Leon would only survive another three days.

"You want me to hand over Cynthion Group? Dream on!" Leon scoffed and stared at the Southern Boss in contempt, completely unaffected by his threats.

"Very well! You asked for this! If it's death you seek, I shall grant your wish!" Enraged by Leon's contemptuous attitude, the Southern Boss gathered a powerful force in the palm of his hand and intended to kill Leon on the spot.

Once Leon died, he should be able to achieve his goal by interrogating Iris and Cynthia.
