

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2355

Chapter 2355

"Wh- What's this?!" The three Apostles gasped in fear.

They finally realized that Leon took their attack to launch an even more powerful counter-attack.

Caught by surprise, they snapped out of it after a moment of daze and backed away from the attack.

However, the Hurricane Break was a wide-range attack and no matter how hard they tried, they simply could not escape it.

On top of that, Leon risked his own life to launch the attack while the three Apostles were on the momentum of their attacks, so it was too late for them to summon any strength for a counter-attack.

They watched with fear as the Hurricane Break transformed into countless turbulences that pierced through their bodies, before exploding within them.

Unable to even scream, their bodies were blown apart.

"What?!"

"How's that possible?!"

Everyone, including the Southern Boss, Devon, and the Thompsons, was stunned.

They all thought that Leon ran out of time to use his defensive tool and was powerless in the face of the Apostles ' combined attack. To their bewilderment, not only did Leon survive, but he also managed to kill all three Apostles with a single blow.

Even the Southern Boss and Arthur, who were in the Advanced Almighty State, would not be able to kill the three Apostles at the same time, yet Leon managed to accomplish it and they were all shaken to the core by the sight.

"How can this happen? Is that kid even human? How's it possible that he's getting more powerful as the battle goes on?"

The Southern Boss and Devon recovered from the initial shock and felt stricken.

The Southern Boss thought that Leon ran out of tricks and would undoubtedly die, only to be proven wrong shortly after.

He could not understand how Leon survived the combined attack, nor could he comprehend the nature of Leon's formidable attack that killed the three Apostles within the blink of an eye.

"Wonderful! Mister Wolf, you're the best!"

Contrary to the Southern Boss and Devon's despair, the Thompsons cheered.

They did not know how Leon killed the Apostles, but they knew that with the Four Apostles dead, Leon could join the others and the Thompsons would stand a chance of winning.

With that thought in mind, their spirits were uplifted as they saw a chance for victory.

It was at this moment that they finally understood why Leon refused to retreat and insisted on staying to fight the Southern Boss.

Leon was not arrogant; he was truly capable of achieving what he promised, and the others merely underestimated him. 2
