The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 1171

Chapter 1171

"Damn, by the time I got there, the name tag was gone. They really took the start of the love story home!"

The picture attached is of a lost and found, with the spot for the name tag empty.

"My friend, you have a way with words. Thumbs up for the start of the love story!"

"They went to get the name tag. Doesn't this prove that Secretary Tesdal is Wayne's lifesaver? Wayne, think about how you treated your lifesaver in the past. You better treat her well in the second half of your life!"

"Holy moly, the park staff just told me that when Wayne left, he donated ten million for the park to replace old equipment!"

"My God! He must be really happy!"

"You guys only see the name tag, but what I see is that Wayne is all over Secretary Tesdal. Doesn't he know how tall and strong he is?!"

The netizens chatted all morning.

Rosalynn's alt suddenly updated, with a picture of the name tag.

"Lost and found."

"Wow, you remembered your Twitter password?"

Rosalynn replied: I've been using the account, just haven't been tweeting.

"So, the thing about you saving Wayne, is it true?"

Rosalynn didn't reply.

Wayne replied: "Yes, it's true."

Moonlit Lake.

Paige Owens hurried from the construction site, biting her nails, pacing back and forth in front of Wayne and Rosalynn.

"Mrs. Scott, sit down. You're making me dizzy," Rosalynn waved at her.

"You're the one who saved his life?" Paige stood still, her eyes sweeping back and forth between Rosalynn and Wayne.

"Yeah, don't you remember? I told you before that I saved a man in the lake one year..

"First kiss!" Paige clapped her hands, her memory finally returning. "That time we talked about first kisses, you asked if CPR counts, and I said it did! Then you were beating your chest, saying you saved a man from drowning and gave him mouth-to-mouth!"

"Then you immediately changed your tune and said, CPR doesn't count."

"How does it not count?" Wayne immediately protested, "It counts!"

"You kissed Olivia? That's why you're so eager to define CPR as a first kiss!" Paige immediately zeroed in on Wayne.

"No." Wayne frowned.

Hearing Olivia's name, he felt very irritated.

"You've been pursuing Olivia for so long and you haven't even kissed her yet, Wayne you need to step it up!" With the support of her husband and Rosalynn, Paige has become bolder, even daring to scold Wayne directly.

Wayne frowned, went silent for a while, and said unhappily, "We had a car accident just when we started dating. It was fate helping me avoid a bigger disaster." Actually, before becoming a cold man, Wayne was a very innocent person in matters of the heart.

To firmly attract Wayne, Olivia didn't rush the process, but used his innocence to slowly lure him.

Chapter 1172

Wayne and Olivia had been together for over two years.

Wayne was always a gentleman, always following the rules.

They never even held hands.

Wayne himself thought that maybe deep down, he wasn't truly into Olivia, which was why their relationship never progressed.

They had just made it official when the car accident happened. They were supposed to go on a beach vacation in a few days.

If it weren't for the accident…

Wayne didn't know what would have happened on that trip.

But what he did know was that when Rosalynn came into his life, he was incredibly drawn to her.

He wanted to possess her, he had a strong desire to claim her.

It's something he never felt with Olivia.

"You two are amazing." Paige gestured with both thumbs up. "To go through all that and still end up together."

"Maybe it's destiny, Wayne shrugged, proud.

Paige just chuckled.

"So, how are you planning to handle Olivia? She was ranting on the internet last night," Paige paused, "And she's pregnant… what a mess."

"This drama has been going on for too long, it's time to put an end to it," Rosalynn declared nonchalantly.

In the afternoon, right around work time..

Wayne's attorney posted a new statement on their firm's social media.

In short, it read: "Olivia has been impersonating my client's life-saver, exploiting his gratitude to seek shelter, benefits and profits. My client, out of gratitude, has always been very tolerant and accommodating…"

After laying out all the facts, it concluded that Wayne was ready to take legal action against Olivia. All the compensation from the lawsuit will be donated to charity. The lawyer's statement made it clear that Olivia was indeed a fraud.

Hector personally delivered the attorney's letter to Olivia.

He himself was shocked by the whole ordeal.

He couldn't even muster a professional smile when facing Olivia.

"Hector, please! I need to see Wayne. I can explain everything!" Olivia pleaded desperately, gripping Hector's sleeve as he was about to walk away. He impatiently shook her off.

"Ms. Whaley, please control yourself. Are you attempting to stage a fall and sue me, making me responsible for the child you're carrying?"

Olivia's face grew even paler, the weight of the situation hitting her.

"Do you honestly believe that Wayne wants to see you now? Even if he did, it would only be to seek retribution," Hector sighed. "I can't comprehend how someone like you could pretend to be someone else's savior. I'm just relieved that you decided to marry abroad with your inflated sense of superiority. Otherwise, Wayne would have been trapped with you for life!"

Olivia felt utterly devastated. In the past, she might have engaged in a heated argument with Hector, but now she was too broken to respond.

But now…

"I'm sorry, I know I was wrong. Just let me see him once. The baby inside me is really his. I don't need him to marry me, just to secure my and the baby's future. I promise… I promise I won't come back anymore!"

Chapter 1173

"Ms. Whaley, get a grip, will ya?"

Hector said so and left without looking back.

Olivia stood there.

Get a grip?

Considering what Rosalynn had done, where could she find her dignity now?

She still couldn't believe that Rosalynn was Wayne's lifesaver despite all the evidence.

She touched her belly.

The door of the ward was left open.

The people in the nearby wards knew who was in here.

They would take a peek inside when they passed by.

Olivia felt like she was the object of madness in their eyes.

Suddenly, she chuckled.

She went into the bathroom, looking at her haggard face in the mirror.

"You don't want to see me?" She whispered to herself, "then I'll come to you."

Hector left the hospital and called Wayne: "Yeah, she still insists on seeing you… Huh? What do you mean? You just let her off the hook like that?"

The trouble caused by Lizzy Lawrence before was far less severe than Olivia's, and she's still in the psych ward.

"Let her off?" Wayne chuckled on the other end of the phone, "When she gives birth to the baby, she will naturally enter the real hell."

Hearing this, Hector felt a chill down his spine: "Alright, I know your temper, since you've made up your mind, this must be the nastiest punishment for Olivia, right?" "Yeah, make it look good, don't give her a chance to come back."

"I will."

Hector hung up and immediately arranged to do what Wayne had asked.

Soon, Olivia escaped from the hospital.

She didn't know where Cory was studying, but because of the previous incident where Wayne and Rosalynn went to pick up Ivy and were exposed, she headed there right after leaving the hospital.

Ivy's school was having mid-term exams today. Once it's done, it's off.

After finishing the exam, Ivy happily headed towards the school gate.

The school's gate was crowded with parents.

Ivy spotted the tall figure of Calvin right away.

She immediately broke into a radiant smile, said goodbye to her friends, and ran towards Calvin.

Just as she ran out of the school gate, someone suddenly burst out from the side.

Before anyone could react, that person grabbed Ivy.

"Ah!" Ivy screamed.

"Don't come any closer!"

Olivia held a knife against Ivy's throat.

Her hand was shaking, the point of the knife had already pierced Ivy's skin, and blood began to seep out.

"Ivy!" Calvin cried out, and Mike beside him recognized Olivia.

"Back off! All of you, back off!" Olivia held Ivy tightly with one hand and waved the knife with the other, standing against the wall and yelling at the crowd. The parents who came to pick up their children were now scared stiff.

They were more concerned about protecting their own children than anyone else, and they quickly moved away.

"Ms. Whaley, please calm down. Adult conflicts shouldn't involve children. Please let the child go!" Ableson, a little farther away, ran over, trying to persuade Olivia. But, Olivia had already lost her mind.

Chapter 1174

She just wanted to see Wayne.

"Get Wayne here, now!" Olivia was shouting at the top of her lungs.

Other than a single initial cry, Ivy hadn't made a sound, she looked pitiful and terrified.

Wayne and his crew outside noticed the commotion.

They swiftly exited the car and hurried towards the scene unfolding before them.

As soon as they laid eyes on Ivy being held hostage by Olivia, their faces turned pale with shock.

"Olivia!" Wayne approached her hastily, his voice filled with concern.

Olivia, tears streaming down her face, finally saw Wayne. "Why won't you see me? You pushed me into this situation! It's all your fault!"

Wayne's gaze shifted to Ivy's bloodied neck, and a thought crossed his mind-he should have ended her life right then and there. She should have been dead by now.

"What do you want?" Wayne's voice was filled with a mixture of anger and worry. He noticed Olivia's firm grip on Ivy's waist, causing her to wince in pain. Ivy remained silent, refusing to meet Wayne's gaze.

Olivia couldn't afford to cry or show fear. It would only cause more worry for her parents, and she needed to remain strong in this dire situation.

"Don't touch her!" Wayne growled.

"The child in me is also yours, why won't you even look at her?" Olivia screamed angrily.

The knife in her hand was swinging wildly.

Wayne's heart was in his throat.

He was worried that the knife might accidentally hurt Ivy.

Rosalynn was terrified as well.

Olivia's gaze quickly landed on her, "Is it you? You're the one who won't let him see me, right?"

"Yes!" Rosalynn answered immediately.

"Do you even know what kind of person he is? He's willing to take responsibility, it's me who's been narrow-minded and petty. Let my child go, I promise I won't stop him from seeing you anymore, okay?"

Wayne's brow furrowed deeply.

Olivia didn't seem to believe her.

She turned to Wayne again, "Is she telling the truth? You didn't avoid me? You're not angry at me, right?"

"Yeah. Wayne nodded, "Let the kid go, we can find a place to talk it out."

"You're lying to me!"

Olivia tilted her head slightly, the knife tip pointing at Ivy's neck again.

"No!"

"Olivia!"

Rosalynn and Wayne shouted simultaneously.

"Your eyes are full of hatred when you look at me. You won't forgive me… Since you're not going to forgive me… I might as well find someone to join me in death, right?" Olivia started laughing maniacally, "Wayne, Rosalynn, it can't just be me who's suffering, right?"

After saying this, Olivia raised her hand, forcefully aiming the knife at Ivy's neck.

Everything was beyond repair now.

Might as well all go to hell together.

Thinking she would suffer alone? Not a chance!

Even if she impersonated the savior, even if the savior turned out to be Rosalynn, so what?

It was Wayne who got the wrong person, he was the one who caused the trouble!

She was the first one to date Wayne, Rosalynn was just a substitute.

Why could she have everything she wanted?

Status, love…

Just in the nick of time, a small rock accurately hit Olivia on the back of her hand.

"Ah!" Olivia cried out in pain, her hand went numb.

The dagger fell to the ground and Calvin quickly lunged at her.

He kicked Olivia down, snatched Ivy from her, held her tightly in his arms and quickly moved away from Olivia.

"Ivy!

Rosalynn, Wayne, Paige and Baillie all immediately ran over.

"We need to get to a hospital!"

Calvin was holding Ivy tightly, not daring to let go.

Rosalynn quickly checked Ivy's neck.

Thankfully, the wound wasn't deep.

"Baby, it's okay now, it's okay." Rosalynn gently kissed her cheek, soothing Ivy with a tender smile.

Chapter 1175

Ivy, who has been silent all along, burrowed into Rosalynn's arms the next moment, and started sobbing heavily. It felt like a knife to Rosalynn's heart.

She glared at Olivia, who was still on the verge of breakdown but under control, her eyes filled with rage.

"Mike, don't let her get away!" Rosalynn commanded coldly before getting Ivy into the car.

"Roger that!"

Once back in the car, Wayne's eyes were bloodshot, he was worried about Ivy, scared, and in absolute panic.

vy, although willing to play with him and be nice to him now, was always reluctant to call him Dad.

She had met Olivia before and even mistaken her for her girlfriend.

And just now, Olivia had been babbling nonsense in front of her…

"Ivy, can Daddy hold you?" Rosalynn looked at Wayne's pitiful figure and softly discussed with Ivy.

hy was still sobbing, she turned her head to look at Wayne.

Wayne quickly explained, "Baby, everything she said was a lie…"

"… I know!" Ivy cried and choked. "She is… is a bad person, I know it!"

"Right, Ivy has spotted the bad person's scheme and even saved Daddy!" Rosalynn exaggeratedly said, "Daddy didn't know about this, can Ivy tell Daddy?"

"Okay!"

tvy sobbed again.

Then she reached out, wanting to be embraced by Wayne.

The heavy stone in Wayne's heart finally let go, he quickly took Ivy into his arms, holding her carefully.

The wound on her neck was still bleeding.

Wayne was heartbroken.

Tears swirled in his eyes.

"Baby, what did the bad person plan this time? When did it happen? How come Daddy didn't know?"

"At the art show!" Ivy finished and sobbed again, "I went to find you, heard the bad person wanted to have a baby to tie you down!"

The art show…

"So Ivy was so eager to get Daddy out of there, afraid that Daddy would be tricked, right?" Wayne asked.

"Yes!" Ivy nodded.

The recent incident had a great impact on the child.

She was still scared, holding Wayne's neck tightly, and started crying again.

This time, Wayne couldn't help but cry with Ivy.

"Is the baby in the bad person's belly, Ivy's brother?" Ivy asked after a while.

"Absolutely not! That's not Daddy's baby, she's lying!" Wayne immediately denied.

Ivy nodded, then leaned back to continue crying.

Calvin in the front was so anxious that he kept urging the driver to speed up.

"By the way, who saved Ivy just now? Rosalynn came back to her senses.

Back at the scene, the school's security quickly dispersed the onlookers.

Paige and Baillie stood silently in their places, their eyes fixed on a young boy standing before them. He appeared to be around seven or eight years old, with disheveled hair and a loosely worn school uniform. Clutched in his hand was a slingshot, his expression defiant as he faced Paige and Baillie.

"Liam, why did you bring a slingshot to school again!" The principal's face displayed a stern expression, clearly displeased.

"If I hadn't brought the slingshot, the little girl would have gotten hurt!" Liam stubbornly stood his ground, avoiding eye contact with the principal.

"You!" The principal's anger flared at Liam's response.

"Thank you" Paige spoke softly, her voice filled with gratitude. "Can you please provide us with your parents' contact information? You saved that little girl, and we would like to express our gratitude properly."

Liam furrowed his brow, seemingly hesitant.

The principal's expression also underwent a change.

"They're already gone. There's no need for you to thank me!" Liam retorted firmly. With that, he tightened the straps of his backpack and turned to leave.

Chapter 1176

"Liam!" The principal hollered.

The boy didn't turn around.

Paige was a bit puzzled and glanced at Baillie.

"It's okay." Baillie replied gently.

The principal awkwardly said, "Um… his parents have both passed away."

Paige asked in surprise, "Does he have any other relatives at home?"

"None…"

"No adults at all?" Paige asked again in surprise.

"Pretty much. He used to have a small house nearby, but it's been taken over by his aunt's family…" The principal stopped there.

He knew about Ivy Jared's background.

If Ivy's parents could help Liam, that would be great.

"So that's how it is…" Paige said, frowning. "No wonder his grades are poor, how can he study well in such an environment…"

"Huh?" The principal was startled, then hurriedly waved his hands, "His grades are very good, top of his class!"

"What?"

To be honest, Paige wasn't being biased. It was simply unusual for a top student to bring a slingshot to school and defiantly confront the principal. "Considering he doesn't have any relatives at home, let's do our best to support him. If anything happens to the child, please inform us," Paige suggested. "Yeah, no problem!" Baillie agreed, willing to assist in any way possible.

Little did they expect that Liam, the young boy with the slingshot, had found himself an advocate. However, it was still not acceptable for him to bring the slingshot to school. While it was used to protect someone today, there was no guarantee that it wouldn't cause harm to others in the future.

After fully comprehending the situation, Paige decided to reach out to Rosalynn. She informed Rosalynn about Liam's circumstances, leaving Rosalynn equally astonished. It turned out that the person who had saved her daughter's life was a child.

After the call, Baillie and Paige headed to the hospital.

On the way, Paige badmouthed Olivia for quite a while.

When they arrived at the hospital, Ivy's wounds had just been bandaged.

She had cried herself to sleep in Wayne's arms.

"Poor thing!" Paige was heartbroken.

"You guys take her home." Rosalynn looked at Wayne and others, "I'll go meet Olivia"

"Don't go!" Wayne reacted immediately, "Don't see her again, just let her drop dead!"

"Murder is illegal." Rosalynn looked at Wayne, "With so many witnesses, if she dies, don't you think they will trace it back to us?"

Wayne frowned.

"It's her mistake, and I refuse to bear the consequences. We were all careless today, but I won't give her another opportunity to repeat it," Rosalynn stated firmly. "The issues between you two have been resolved, and now it's my turn to deal with her."

Rosalynn had always found it tiresome to engage in a battle of wits with Olivia. It had been the same six years ago, and it hadn't changed. However, if Olivia was seeking her own downfall, she couldn't be blamed for being ruthless.

"I'll accompany you," Wayne interjected, his eyes closing as he visualized Olivia wielding a knife at Ivy in a crazed manner. He feared that Olivia might pose a threat to Rosalynn as well.

"She's eager to see you, but I won't allow her to have her way," Rosalynn assured Wayne, tenderly caressing his cheek. "Don't worry, I'll go with Mike and the others." Just then, Ivy woke up suddenly.

"Don't be scared, baby, daddy is here, daddy's here!" Wayne immediately started to soothe her.

Ivy looked utterly pitiful, her tear-filled eyes staring at Wayne.

She wrapped her arms around his neck and called out softly, "Daddy…"

Chapter 1177

"I'm here, I'm here!" he replied hurriedly.

Ivy cried twice, then drifted back to sleep.

"You stay with Ivy, Cory is waiting at home and he's extremely worried about his sister," Rosalynn said gently.

Wayne hesitated momentarily, then nodded. "Bring Ableson along."

Rosalynn appeared slightly helpless.

"Don't worry, go home. Paige and I will stay with her," Baillie said softly.

"Okay," Wayne finally felt a slight sense of relief.

Rosalynn assisted him and Ivy into the car.

She kissed Ivy's forehead, then gave Wayne a quick kiss. "I'll be back as soon as possible."

"Okay." Wayne agreed.

With the car door closed, Rosalynn turned and walked towards another car.

"Are you guys really going?" Rosalynn asked Paige and Baillie.

Without hesitation, Paige answered, "I have to slap her twice, otherwise I'll never get over what happened today!"

"Mm-hmm." Baillie nodded.

Rosalynn did not stop them.

At that point, Mike had already taken Olivia to the police station. The situation had escalated dramatically, prompting numerous people to call the police-it was inevitable.

The rusty iron gate creaked open, revealing Olivia, her clothes stained with blood. She looked up and upon seeing who had arrived, she nervously laughed, saying, "It's such a shame I didn't kill your daughter. If I had known what was going to happen today, I would have severed her head the first time I laid eyes on her."

Rosalynn, her expression cold and composed, walked in slowly, taking a seat across from Olivia.

"How did you manage to transform yourself into this?" she asked, her voice devoid of emotion.

The smile on Olivia's face gradually faded.

Her swollen eyes stared at Rosalynn, as if she wanted to tear her apart, "Rosalynn, what are you so pleased about? If you weren't born into a good family, do you think Wayne would've chosen you? If Maddie hadn't deceived me and I hadn't married Simon, who do you think would be having Wayne's kids?"

"I don't know." Rosalynn shook her head, "But….."

Rosalynn gave a small laugh.

"He was with you for two or three years and never touched you, I find it strange, because when he was with me, he couldn't get enough. I heard, he hasn't even held your hand?"

The hatred in Olivia's eyes was deeply etched.

"You believe that crap too? If he didn't touch me, where did the baby in my belly come from?" Olivia thrust out her waist, showing off her belly to Rosalynn.

Rosalynn's gaze fell on her belly.

"The baby should be healthy, right? Despite all your antics, it's still okay."

"Yeah," Olivia scoffed, "I heard you had several threatened miscarriages when you were pregnant?"

She wanted to provoke Rosalynn.

For such a long time, she'd never lost her cool.

The only time was when they first met.

She was shocked, disappointed and incredulous about Wayne.

But that couldn't really count as losing her composure.

Chapter 1178

What Olivia wanted to see was Rosalynn losing her cool just like she did.

Even though her words were sharp and harsh, all she got in return was a faint smile on Rosalynn's face.

"Being pregnant doesn't give you immunity." Olivia provocatively retorted. "What I did this afternoon was just a result of an emotional breakdown. I lost control. Your daughter was never harmed. How long do you think you can keep me locked up? I can give birth to Wayne's child in jail, and legally, the treatment for children born out of wedlock is no different from those born within it. The baby will still inherit Wayne's wealth…"

"True, but that baby in your belly has to be Wayne's," Rosalynn calmly interjected.

"Of course, it is!" Olivia firmly declared.

"Really?" Rosalynn chuckled, "Olivia, you still don't know Wayne well enough. You think he wouldn't take care of that ticking time bomb after he woke up from his coma?" Olivia was taken aback.

"You do know that Maddie was the one who caused Wayne's car accident, right?" Rosalynn continued, "Their relationship as mother and son was already broken after the accident. Do you really think Wayne would give Maddie a chance to have you carry his child?"

The truth was, besides this reason, Wayne didn't want to see another child born not out of love, but for the sake of family inheritance, a lab-made freak like him. So, as soon as he found out, he had the samples switched without Maddie noticing.

"No way!" Olivia immediately shouted in denial.

"Don't rush," Rosalynn said with a faint smile. "This baby not only not Wayne's, it's not even yours."

Olivia froze.

Then, she said speechlessly, "Rosalynn, do you hear what you're saying? Are you mad, or am I?"

"Do you have any idea how much Maddie despises you? Can't she see your ambition? She wanted this baby to control Bane Corporation and the Silverman Group. How could she let a power-hungry mother like you have her child?"

Rosalynn's tone remained calm, but it hit Olivia like a punch in the gut.

"She never used your eggs from the start."

"No way, you're lying! You bitch! You can't defeat me by tricking me!!"

Without any hesitation, Rosalynn tossed two paternity reports in Olivia's direction. One depicted the genetic connection between Wayne and the embryo, while the other displayed the link between Olivia and the baby. Both reports unequivocally indicated no biological relationship.

"This is fake!" Olivia exclaimed, trying to discredit the evidence.

"The baby is still growing inside you, and you have plenty of time to verify," Rosalynn responded calmly.

Olivia tightly clutched the paternity reports, her mind overwhelmed by what Rosalynn had just revealed. It dawned on her that Maddie truly held animosity towards her. Olivia had indeed intended to gain control of the Silverman Group and Bane Corporation through the baby.

And Maddie, being clever as she was, could undoubtedly see through her intentions.

So, this baby…

Olivia's hands began to shake violently.

She looked up at Rosalynn.

Why?

In the midst of her shattered perfect life, Olivia's anger surged, directing all blame toward Rosalynn.

"I'm going to kill you!" she screamed, launching herself at Rosalynn.

Chapter 1179

Before Olivia could lay a finger on Rosalynn, Mike kicked her away. She was writhing in pain on the ground, clutching her stomach. Rosalynn's words were like a curse, "Your lies to Wayne are now exposed" Rosalynn looked at Olivia without any sympathy, "Do you think the people you pissed off will let you off?" Those who Olivia had wronged in the past were too afraid of Wayne to mess with her. But now, Olivia had lost that protection.

Olivia was taken aback. She had been so used to throwing her weight around that she never thought about what Rosalynn was saying. Rosalynn slowly got up, "I've said my piece, we won't be seeing each other again." She took a deep breath, looking down at Olivia, "Good luck."

"Wait!" Olivia scrambled to get up She wasn't sure what she was going to do next, but she didn't want Rosalynn to just walk away. She couldn't lose like this. She wanted to say or do something, even if it was just to make herself feel better, she wanted to do something to Rosalynn. But Rosalynn didn't look back, she just walked away. The iron gate closed again, Olivia ran to the door, pounding on it, "Rosalynn, come back! We're not done! Come back!!"

Outside, Rosalynn looked at a worried Paige. "Didn't you say you wanted to slap her?" Paige held Baillie's hand tightly, looking at Rosalynn, "Honey, is what you said true? The baby in her stomach is not only not Wayne's, but also not hers?" Rosalynn nodded.

At first, she and Wayne didn't know about it. They just thought the baby wasn't Wayne's. But late night on the day of the paternity test, an old servant who had worked for Maddie came to Wayne and told him the truth. The old servant had watched Wayne grow up. He heard that since Wayne married Ms. Jared, his personality had changed. The old servant didn't want Wayne to lose a good marriage and wife because of Olivia and Maddie's mistakes. So he told Wayne everything he knew about the baby in Olivia's stomach.

Paige listened to Olivia's desperate screams from behind the iron gate. Her voice was filled with despair. Paige muttered, "Forget it, I don't hit pregnant women. I need to go back to my kids." They left straight away, ignoring Olivia's screams. Olivia holding a knife at a child at the school gate had become a hot topic.

The initial video didn't blur out Ivy, and netizens were shocked by her scared but brave appearance.

"Olivia really did something immoral, she's pregnant herself, how could she do this to a child?"

"That kid is really mature, to not make her parents worry, she didn't cry or scream… it breaks my heart!"

Chapter 1180

"I've heard from Bane Corporation's staff before that Wayne's kids are really top-notch, well-behaved and sensible. Today, I've seen a glimpse of their excellence."

"She's been a scammer from the start, a complete faker!"

"Does anyone know how that kid is doing now? I'm so worried about him!"

Not long after.

The police station where the school is located issued a report with a blue background and white text.

First, it explained the sequence of events.

Second, it detailed Ivy's injuries.

Third, it explained Olivia's arrest.

Once the report was issued, people started to comment.

"Olivia getting caught at this time, she dodged a bullet, huh?"

"Do we even need to say it? Getting caught is like being put under protection!"

"The kid's injuries aren't serious, she shouldn't be locked up for too long, right?"

"Let's not be too harsh when commenting online. The child in Olivia's belly is innocent. After this incident, let's hope she wakes up and can start anew with her child."

"With a mother like Olivia, the kid would be better off not being born. If the child is good, who knows what kind of hell Olivia will put him through. If the child is bad, who knows how many innocent people will suffer!"

Netizens who love trending topics quickly extracted a new topic from the heated event.

#Are malicious people suitable to have kids?#

This extreme topic sparked a huge debate.

Late at night.

Rosalynn, in reality, wasn't as calm as she appeared about Ivy's kidnapping.

She didn't dare to close her eyes that night.

Ever since Cory and Ivy moved in, they started to sleep in separate rooms.

She gently tiptoed to their rooms several times throughout the night.

There was a small living room on the second floor.

Whenever she finished checking on the kids, she would sit there for a while.

Paige was also awake, so they casually chatted on WhatsApp.

When Paige saw the online topic, she screenshot it and sent it to Rosalynn.

"I had mixed feelings today too. When I saw Mike kick her outside, I was a bit scared…"

"After all, she is pregnant. It's normal to feel conflicted."

If Olivia wasn't pregnant, Rosalynn would make her pay twice for what she did to Ivy.

After sending this message, Rosalynn thought for a while and sent another.

"Don't overthink it, after all… As soon as Olivia confirms the child in her belly has nothing to do with her, she'd be the first to kill it."

Paige sent a shocked emoji.

Rosalynn didn't explain much.

Looking at Olivia's life, she could sacrifice anything for her own benefit.

She fabricated lies, claiming to be a saviour to Wayne.

She used private photos to threaten friends, preventing them from revealing the truth.

After Wayne's serious car accident, she chose to turn around and marry someone else.

She wanted to return to Wayne, so she invented her tragic experiences, claiming she was a victim of domestic violence, depression, and even said her uterus was removed.

She was afraid that Wayne would find out the truth about her marriage.

She was even willing to abandon her mother and brother for this.
