The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 1681

Chapter 1681

She understood what was most important for her right now.

“Alright” Larkin gently patted her head, “Off you go

“Okay”

Erica nodded, then headed in the direction Lenora had pointed out earlier

Lenora stood still, witnessing the exchange between Erica and Larkin

When she looked at Larkin again, her eyes were filled with annoyance and resentment

Rosalynn’s phone suddenly mng She had a brief conversation with Larkin, then headed straight for the fire exit to take the call.

Seeing this, Lenora approached Larkin.

Larkin didn’t have a good impression of this woman, and he didn’t want to interact with her more than necessary

However

“Mr. Carter, didn’t expect you to follow us here, seems like you really care about my son, huh?” Lenora initiated the conversation.

Larkin responded coldly, “My wife and I rushed here on our honeymoon, Mrs. Strand. You can’t even say a word of thanks, only sarcasm, that’s quite surprising” Graham noticed the situation

He knew that his wife was about to say something intemperate

He quickly walked over

Right when he arrived, he heard his wife saying. "You know, Erica is still in love with Jacob, right? Otherwise, she wouldn't have abandoned her honeymoon with you to rush back here as soon as she heard Jacob was sick. You followed her back, it's probably because you are afraid she wouldn't want to leave Jacob once she's back, night?"

"Lenora, what are you talking about!" Graham quickly tried to stop his wife

But Lenora was too strong, pushing Graham aside and continuing to address Larkin, Mr. Carter, I know this sounds harsh, but anyone with eyes can see that Erica mamed you just to spite Jacob because I opposed their mamage. We are all respectable people here, when Erica comes out later, you should take the initiative to propose a divorce, it's for the best of all three of you"

"Oh? Mrs. Strand, now you're suddenly okay with their marriage? Larkin asked coldly

"Yes, my son loves her, and I can't stop that Lenora replied.

"Fine, if Erica wants a divorce, she will come to me, you don't have to meddle"

Lenora's face turned pale.

"If you want to humiliate yourself, go right ahead"

Lenora sneered and walked away

She kept telling herself that Erica was still in love with Jacob, a woman who had given her best sixteen years to a man, she would never forget him in her lifetime As long as her son begged her and apologized to her properly

Her heart was soft, she would definitely change her mind!!

In the hospital room.

Erica walked into the room, looking at Jacob.

Her heart ached a bit.

She sat down next to the bed.

After a moment of silence, she finally spoke, "How could you let yourself be in such a mess?"

On the bed, Jacob's hand seemed to move slightly

Erica didn't notice.

She looked down at her own hands, "Your mom says you have no will to live, do you really want to die? Jacob, you can't do this to me! I've never wronged you when we were together, and our breakup was fair and square. If you die like this, do you know how many people would be attacking me? I won't let you die that easily. By the end, her voice was full of grievance.

"When we were together, you didn't protect me, letting others hurt me. Now that we're apart, you still want me to carry the stain of your death for the rest of my life? Jacob. I don't want this, I've finally escaped the heavy burden I've been carrying for over a decade, I don't want to take on any more burdens!"

Chapter 1682

She paused for a moment

Then she looked up at Jacob, "I really don't get it, did you ever love me? Why are you suddenly so cold to me?"

The guy on the bed, didn't say a word

Erica felt like deflated.

"Also, when Shawn's girlfriend stepped on the back of my hand with her high heels, it hurt like hell. Your female friends always isolate me, I could live with that, but one year you gave me this pretty skirt, I loved it, cherished it. I finally wore it out once, and they splashed nail polish all over it. You have no idea how upset I was, I couldn't get over with it for a long time.

"Another time, you were right there, I was pushed into the pool, it was freezing cold, and you just watched me in the water. Jacob, you don't know how upset I was, I thought so many times that this was the last time I would ever like you, I wouldn't like you anymore! But I ended up staying beside you for many more years. If you really have no will to live, then go and avenge me!" Erica continued. "The reason we broke up, is these disappointments piling up

Erica said a lot, but she never mentioned getting back together with Jacob

Seeing that the visiting time was almost over

Enca's lips trembled, tears welling up in her eyes.

Jacob, I can't promise that we can mend things between us," Erica's voice choked, "But I also don't want you to leave, can you listen to me for once, pull yourself together, stay alive...okay?"

Jacob still didn't respond.

Visiting time was over,

At the nurse's signal, Erica stood up and slowly left.

But she didn't know that as soon as she left, tears fell from Jacob's eyes.

Erica took off her protective clothing

As soon as she came out, she was stopped by Lenora.

"My Lawrence, can we talk?"

"Just say what you want to say Enca was a bit resistant to Lenora touching her

"Enca, about you being framed by your half-sister, I heard about it." Lenora was full of regret, "Jacob always said you were good, I always thought he was blinded, until now I realized how wrong I was, how good a daughter in law I missed"

"You don't have to say that I'm not as good as he says, you will have a better daughter-in-law in the future" Erica replied

However, after hearing these words. Lenora immediately shook her head and anxiously said: "We won't accept other daughters-in-law, the Strand family will only accept you in the future!"

Erica looked bewildered, "Mrs. Strand, I'm already mamed

As she spoke, Erica even lifted her hand to show Lenora the diamond ring on her finger

Lenora ignored this and smiled, "My dear, I know you married Larkin out of anger. Now no one will stop you and Jacob from being together, you can divorce Larkin. and then marry Jacob! I will prepare an even grander wedding for you, and you will proudly become a member of the Strand family!"

Enca was shocked and incredulous, "Mrs. Strand, you misunderstand, I didn't marry out of anger Larkin is the husband I carefully chose, I won't leave him, my feelings for Jacob are over"

Lenora panicked, "Erica, are you still mad at me? I can apologize to you, please don't give up on Jacob, I beg you!"

As she spoke, Lenora was about to kneel

"What are you doing?"

ce came from behind Lenora

Chapter 1683

at was happening. Erica tried to break away from Lenora's grip Larkin.

Don't you dare leave, you can't" Lenoraced out in despair "You were the one who messed with my son from the start, causing him to be in this state now. You need to take responsibility you can't leave

Lenora

Graham also rushed over, looking extremely anxious. He quickly pulled Lenora away.

Enca immediately ran towards Larkin,

Larkin wrapped his arms around her waist, holding her close

Then he glared sterly at Graham "Mr. Strand, my wife and I have done our best to help you, to try and save your son. I hope you can show some gratitude

"Who are you to talk? You stole her away just when my son needed her the most

Just then, Graham's slap finally landed on Lenora's face

Throughout their years of mamage, Graham had never laid a hand on Lenora.

Lenora was stunned by the slap

Rosalynn, who had received a call and humed back, furrowed her eyebrows at the scene.

Seeing her, Erica immediately walked over with Larkin Tve almadly talked to him. Let's go if things are still bad tomorrow, I'll come back."

“Alright, when you come tomorrow, I promise you won’t have to see anyone you don’t want to Rosalynn didn’t ask any questions, but she had a good idea of what had happened

“OK” Erica nodded.

On the plane ride back, Erica slept all the way, so she didn’t feel tired at all.

Knowing that Erica would be coming. Paige had prepared dinner in advance

As she was in the late stages of pregnancy, Hilaria Jared didn’t want her to go out for meals, so she had hired a Michelin-starred chef to cook at Moonlit Lake

After leaving the hospital.

Rosalynn drove the couple to Moonlit Lake

In the car, Erica slowly regained her senses. Rosalynn, Lenor hasn’t gone mad, has she?”

Rosalynn sounded a bit helpless. More like she’s been spoiled rotten by the Stand family. Before she got married, her family doted on her too. She got whatever she wanted. It became a habit for her?

Erica turned to Larkin. “She didn’t say anything weird to you, did she?”

“If you count asking me to divorce you as ‘weird, then yes, she did.”

Erica was taken aback. “Well, that’s definitely word”

“There’s no way around it, she regrets it now, but she brought all of this upon herself,

Seeing that Larkin wasn’t angry, Erica’s anger subsided a bit.

Erica came a hint of pride.

“What does she take me for? Does she think I’m like a stray cat or dog, to be slapped away when she doesn’t want me, and pampered when she does?” Erica said angrily “She even had the nerve to say that I was the one who enticed Jacob. Maybe she should find out that it was Jacob who made the move on me, sending me roses. It took him two months before I agreed to date him?”

Although she did fall for Jacob at first sight, given that she was an illegitimate child i 1 Jacob was the heir to a wealthy family, she didn’t have the courage to develop a relationship with him at the beginning.

And then

Chapter 1684

Jacob's earnest pursuit and her deep admiration gave her the determination to stick to it.

Larkin, did you hear her, do you know what you need to do?" Rosalynn joked ahead.

Enca was taken aback

Larkin replied, "Alright, I got it. I'll start buying roses for you from tomorrow"

"That's not what I meant, why are you two so mean, making fun of me together" Erica said with a bitter smile, showing her discontent

The previous weird vibe disappeared instantly

"Don't buy me roses, it's a waste of money!" Erica warned Larkin

Larkin just laughed, but didn't respond

Laughing and chatting, they arrived at Moonlit Lake

As soon as they entered the gate, they could see Paige waiting with Ivy Jared from a distance

Enca and Paige, both newly acquainted friends, were excited to see each other.

As soon as the car stopped, she couldn't wait to push open the door and get off.

"Paige

"Enca"

Paige and Enca, like old friends that haven't seen each other in ages, excitedly shook each other's hands.

She was watching them, and once her mom got off the car, she mimicked them and ran over grabbing her mom's hand and swinging it

"It's so hot, let's go inside to talk" Rosalynn said, and reminded Erica, "Don't forget to bring your husband."

Enca immediately looked back and saw that Larkin had already gotten off the car

She walked over, linked arms with Larkin and introduced him,

Larkin, this is Paige, Paige, this is Larkin"

Paige curiously looked Larkin up and down.

Good heavens, are all the men nowadays so handsome?

He's even more handsome than he looked in the pictures!

"Ms. Owens, nice to meet you, Larkin said politely

Paige came back to her senses and hastily shook his hand, "Nice to meet you too!"

After the pleasantries were over, they all went to the living room to chat

Wayne was playing chess with Cory

Seeing them come in, Wayne and Cory both stood up

"You guys carry on. They won't pay attention to us for a while, I'm going to check on grandma Rosalynn signaled her husband and son to sit back down,

Erica also said, "President Silverman, I treat this place like my own home, so don't be thy, just do whatever you need to do!"

Larkin politely nodded to Wayne, then followed his wife. Wayne and his son sat back down and continued their game of chess.

However, for some reason, he felt that Erica's smile was somewhat sly

"Cory, was I close with Erica in the past?" Wayne slowly moved a chess piece and asked Cory

"Not really" Cory responded, then said, "Mom used to say that you were always chasing after Erica, and she often wasn't in the H Country to avoid you"

Chapter 1685

"Chasing her?" Wayne was taken aback

"My godmother said, Erica would introduce some handsome guys to my mom"

In fact, what Paige wanted to say was 'male prostitutes'

But she was worried that if she said it, it would shock young Cory and Ivy, so she changed it to handsome men.

Wayne was speechless.

He looked towards the living mom.

Enca and Paige were chatting, and both of them had very expressive faces

One looked angry, and the other looked surprised as if she had heard some major gossip

Paige originally wanted to ask if Jacob's condition had improved

Enca, however, did not talk much about Jacob, instead she vehemently criticized Lenor

Evidently, Paige was both satisfied and indignant when she heard this gossip!

I've heard from friends before, Mrs. Strand is so arrogant. She looks elegant, but she looks down on those who are not as good as her. Paige slapped her thigh, "I didn't expect her to be so horrible! You just got married, sacrificed your honeymoon time to take care of his son, and she actually told you to get a divorce! How could someone do such a heartless thing?"

"Not just that, she even bullied my husband when I went to see Jacob. Erica said, and quickly comforted Paige, "You're pregnant, so don't get angry!"

"It's okay" Paige waved her hand.

Then she picked up a piece of watermelon to eat, and as soon as she took a bite, it was snatched away by Ivy

"Godmother, my godfather said you can only eat three pieces of watermelon a day, you can't eat anymore"

"Your godfather is not here!" Paige glared at Ivy

"That's still not okay." This sentence had no deterrent at all.

"I don't get a say in this house" Paige complained

Rosalynn glanced over from the kitchen, then laughed and said to Hilaria, Paige is really strictly disciplined by Ivy"

This is a task given to her by her godfather, strictly limiting her godmother's snack and sweet intake." Hilaria laughed with wrinkles all over her face, "While you were out, they've argued several times and made up several times"

Rosalynn also started laughing

Hilaria asked again, "How's the child from the Strand family?"

"Enca is not a miracle doctor, let's observe for a few more days" Rosalynn sighed, "But the people from the Carter family are very good, Larkin said he could help treat Jacob, see if he could wake him up with oriental acupuncture

“The Strand family might not agree”

“Mainly Lenora” Rosalynn shook her head.

“She was annoying when she was young, how come she’s still so disgusting now?” Hilana had a look of disgust on her face, “Your uncle almost mamed her, I met her once and immediately declined, if she really married into our family, it would surely cause chaos!”

“Wow, that’s new to me” Rosalynn was surprised, “By the way, how’s Lydia Jared now?”

“Very good, I already have some quite profitable businesses under me, and her two kids are also very excellent, their academic performances are very good.” Hilaria nodded in satisfaction, “Our family’s little foundation is not completely ruined”

“This summer vacation we’re going to accompany Paige to have her baby so we cant visit them. At Christmas, why not ask Lydia if she wants to spend the holiday here?”

“Let’s talk about it later” Hilania was silent for a moment, Tm a bit scared now”

“Scared?” Seeing Hilaria’s worried face, Rosalynn put down what she was holding and looked at her seriously, “You’re not worried about my two cousins’ future relationship with Cory and by, are you?”

Hilaria didn’t say anything, as if she had admitted it

In her life, she had seen too many real brothers turn against each other in the face of a huge family business.

If her own two children were a little cunning and felt that Cory and Ivy had taken their things...

Granny, you’re overthinking” Rosalynn gently patted her hand and scolded her with a smile, “Let them worry about their own future. I’ll say it here, in the future, I will only hand over the control of the Jared Group to whoever is capable. If Cory and Ivy’s business abilities are not up to par, I won’t hand over the company to them either.”

Chapter 1686

Rosalynn paused for a brief moment

Then she mentioned Lydia, adding, “also, my aunt will definitely give those two kids a good upbringing”

After that, she chatted with Hilana for a while.

Soon, Rosalynn heard Paige calling her from outside.

She stepped out and saw Paige and Erica looking like BFFs.

“Rosalynn, come check this out! Erica and I happened to visit the same place on the same day!” Paige waved at Rosalynn excitedly

Rosalynn was also taken aback.

She walked over immediately to see Paige and Erica holding a photo

Rosalynn exclaimed, “You two really hit it off, why didn’t I introduce you guys to each other sooner?”

Paige was over the moon about this discovery

When Baillie came back from a meeting, she immediately told her about it.

Enca and Rosalynn stood together, Erica gently nudged Rosalynn’s arm. “Is this your sweet hubby?”

Rosalynn glanced at her, leaned in close to Erica’s ear and said, “Isn’t your Larkin the same?”

Enca was taken aback.

“Would Larkin lose his mind in love?” Erica asked with a puzzled look.

“He gave up monkhood for love, waited for ten years, then suddenly got married. What do you think?” Rosalynn explained to Erica Erica turned her gaze to Larkin,

Recently, Ivy seemed to have learned tarot card reading from somewhere.

Now, she was interpreting the cards for Larkin

Larkin sat there, listening earnestly to Ivy’s interpretation.

Enca was deeply moved by the scene.

Soon, Paige led Baillie over to introduce her to Erica.

After a while, Jaime also happened to return from outside

He was dressed up, looking like a kid in adult clothes.

The evening at Moonlit Lake suddenly became lively

Orval went to help Larkin with some things, and brought his wife along for dinner

Orval found out that Rosalynn had a half-brother who was very good at debating, and he was very confident in his own debating skills.

So he was very interested in Jaime

After they met and chatted for a while, they hit it off

Everyone had a hearty dinner together

Hilaria enthusiastically invited all the quests to stay

“Where are you guys staying? We have plenty of rooms here! You’re welcome to stay

Enca liked Rosalynn’s family and friends, and happily accepted the invitation.

Orval was eager to stay and play the latest video games with Jaime.

So, after dinner, except for those who were playing games, everyone else went for a walk in the garden.

Erica was very curious about the greenhouse Ivy was involved in building

So she hurriedly followed.

Naturally, Larkin went with her

Baillie held Paige’s hand to prevent her from running, and they strolled slowly by the lake.

With Cory and Wayne by her side, Rosalynn strolled along the path through the lawn. She alternated her gaze between the three figures running in the distance and the couple observing the rain by the lakeside. Then, her attention turned towards Wayne

When Wayne saw her looking at him, he also smiled and asked, “Happy?”

Chapter 1687

“Mm!” Rosalynn nodded

Then she patted Cory’s little head, “Buddy, did we disturb you?”

“Not really...

Back in the day, because his health wasn't great, everyone on the island made sure he had a very quiet environment

But over this past year, he started going to school, visited a lot of noisy places and slowly got used to the hustle and bustle.

The family of three walked towards Max's dog house. Max started barking at their approach

"Why don't you take Max for a walk? Mom and Dad need some alone time" Rosalynn told Cory

The little guy nodded and obediently walked towards the dog house

In a bit, Max happily came out of his house

Max was indeed a very intuitive dog

For example, when Calvin and Mike take him for a walk, he'd run like a leopard, determined not to be caught

But when Cory walked him, he wouldn't run fast, instead, he'd walk slowly.

Only when Cory took off his leash, would he let loose and run around

"Alright" Wayne nodded.

"You don't feel pressured?" Rosalynn asked.

"Not if you're with me" Wayne answered without hesitation

Rosalynn smiled gently, "Then you better think hard about any design inspirations lately!"

"Mm"

Wayne responded

Then the couple, hand in hand, slowly walked towards the sunset.

In the distance, Max would occasionally bark happily

Ivy and Erica's laughter could also be heard from time to time

At this moment, Rosalynn's heart was peaceful and content.

The only thing that bothered her was Jacob. She wondered when he'd pick himself up and face the future.

Jacob fell into a deep, long dream. In it, he kept going back to when he found out Erica was being bullied.

But the gods were playing tricks on him.

No matter how hard he tried in the dream, he couldn't change the fact that Enca was bullied

All he could do was sit there, like a cold, heartless statue, watching her

When he felt completely trapped and unable to escape, he heard Enca's voice, scolding and urging him. She blamed him for not protecting her in the past and causing trouble for her now that they were apart.

She also mentioned her experiences of being bullied

Jacob was heartbroken when she mentioned that dress.

After her voice disappeared, Jacob quickly fell into another dream

This time, things seemed a bit different.

When faced with people bullying Erica, he finally didn't just stand by like a statue

He stood up, stood in front of Enca before they could bully her protecting her steadfastly

Then, everything in the dream started to collapse.

He turned around to see Erica, sixteen years later

She was wearing a pure white wedding dress, standing there beautifully, tilting her head to look at him.

Her eyes were red and glistening with tears.

Chapter 1688

Jacob laid eyes on her once and broke down in tears," So, no matter how I try to change the past, it's all in vain, right?"

"Jacob, this is the path we chose together. I enjoyed the process, even though we didn't make it to the end, and I feel regret. But please don't let the past sixteen years turn into a nightmare between us Wake up, keep living, live well"

"I'm scared I'm afraid that in the world after I wake up, you won't be there anymore.

Enca didn't say anything

She just quietly looked at him.

And then she slowly disappeared from his line of sight.

In the hospital room, Jacob slowly opened his eyes, tears welling up from the corners of his eyes

Today was the third day Enca came to see Jacob

She quietly left the hospital room

Rosalynn was still trying to persuade Lenora to accept Larkin's acupuncture treatment

However, Lenora didn't listen to any advice at all, and she saw Larkin as an enemy completely

No matter what was said she disagreed

She always thought Larkin had ulterior motives and would harm her son.

"If that's the case, Rosalynn, just drop it," Enca said, annoyed

Lenora knew that Enca had made up her mind not to marry her son,

Her attitude towards Erica had lost the enthusiasm she had when Erica first came to the hospital room. It was good enough to remain indifferent.

After hearing what Enca said, Lenora's face instantly turned even worse, "Erica, I'm not targeting you, but your fiance's character is really worrying. He's been taking advantage of others misfortunes, stealing someone else's wife. "

"Can you stop twisting the facts?" Erica retorted, "Then, let me make it clear to you once more, the relationship between Jacob and I has developed to this point today, all because of your fault! Moreover, you know how skilled Larkin is in his medical practice, right? For the sake of your own face and suspicion, even Larkin has a chance to wake Jacob up, you refuse to try. You should stop saying how much you love your son in public

You

Lenora pointed at Erica, her face gradually turning very livid

Erica used to be frightened when she saw her like this

But not anymore. She would only think it would be better if she died.

If she died, Jacob would lose one burden.

The Strand family's business still needs someone to manage it

Jacob's dad didn't come today. Beside Lenora was an old servant of the Strand family

She quickly gave Lenora her medicine.

And then scolded Erica, "Ms. Lawrence, you are a junior after all, how can you talk to an elder like this? Especially when our lady's health is so bad, if she gets angry. and something happens, can you be responsible?"

"If she's overly angry, is my aunt supposed to be responsible? Responsible for what? Handling her funeral for her?" Orval's voice came from behind.

Rosalynn and Erica almost couldn't help but laugh

"You... You are beyond saving!" Lenora turned her head angrily, "I won't let anyone with ulterior motives hurt my son!"

"It's strange, there are so many people waving wads of cash begging for Larkin's medical assistance, and now when we offer to help, we're still disliked." Orval walked over to Enca, "Aunt, this is a life lesson for you. We can't be soft hearted anymore. Some people are just not deserving of our kindness!"

Enca nodded in silence.

But she was thinking: That was close. In the past, she was so focused on Jacob that she didn't accept the marriage proposal from Orval.

if she really married Orval, will she be able to win an argument against him? How many times will she end up crying from frustration every day?

"Go! Just get out of here!" Lenora was furious, "You've been here for so many days, and my son hasn't woken up. You're not that important to my son. You're not welcome here anymore. Get out!"

However, as soon as she finished her words, there were medical staff rushing over in a hurry.

Chapter 1689

"What's going on?" Lenora asked anxiously

"The patient is awake! The doctor in charge answered and immediately rushed into the ward.

Lenora was taken aback, then started jumping for joy

She completely forgot what she just said to Enca. With the help of a servant, she headed for the ward

The observation window in the ward had been covered by a curtain.

About seven or eight minutes later, the doctor came out, looking normal and saying. The patient is now awake and all vital signs are normal. The subsequent treatment will be carried out in a general ward

Lenora burst into tears of gratitude upon hearing this

Enca was also happy and subconsciously looked at Rosalynn.

Rosalynn smiled and nodded at her

Jacob was quickly transferred to the VIP ward.

Lenora was the first to see Jacob, who had just woken up

Jacob, it's mom, are you feeling uncomfortable anywhere?"

Jacob glanced at her but his gaze was directed towards the door

"Are you looking for Enca? Lenora quickly asked, "Wait, mom will call her for you!"

With that, Lenora ran out of the ward

She happened to see Erica and Rosalynn, who had just confirmed Jacob's condition with the doctor and were preparing to leave.

"Ms. Lawrence!"

Lenora ran up

"Ms. Lawrence, Jacob is looking for you!"

Enca was a bit hesitant.

Since Jacob was awake, she naturally thought it was unnecessary to see him again.

"I may have said something too harsh just now. I've been a bit out of it lately. Don't take it to heart, please go see him..."

After some thought, Erica finally agreed.

In the ward Jacob's gaze immediately fell on her

Erica walked to his side and sat down, "Why did you have to do this to yourself!"

Jacob couldn't speak yet, he just looked pitifully at Erica: "You've had a close shave with death Don't do this again. Remember what you said before the world goes on even if someone is missing"

Tears rolled down from the corners of Jacob's eyes as he looked at her

"Stop crying." Erica sighed. "How come you're becoming more like a child as you grow up? Anyway, if you really feel sorry for what you did in the past, you have to live well in the future. Don't let me be labeled as the one who drove my ex to death! You know, my reputation isn't good. It's just started to improve recently, so I beg you!"

Enca pleaded.

Jacob had seen her plead like this countless times before, but he didn't cherish it

He looked at her, tears falling even more, then he nodded hard.

This time, it was a real farewell to the past sixteen years.

Erica was stunned.

She didn't expect Jacob to agree so easily

She smiled, feeling relieved: "You caught my bouquet, so my happiness is now in your hands. Trust me, your dream partner will soon appear by your side."

Enca paused slightly.

Her smile became brighter, Tll take off then, take care

Chapter 1690

Erica waved at Jacob

Jacob's face was filled with an unmistakable sense of loss.

He nodded

Erica responded to his nod, then got up and left, without a hug or any overly emotional words.

All the words she wanted to say to Jacob, she had said in the past sixteen years.

Lenora had just sat down,

when she saw Erica coming out

"You're out so fast? You should've talked more with Jacob Lenora immediately stood up

“Don’t worry, Jacob will be just fine “Erica paused, then said very seriously. “Mrs. Strand, I know you might not want to hear this, but I have to ask you, stop trying to control Jacob’s life. Yes, he’s your son, but he’s also his own person. Have you ever thought about it, if he didn’t love you, would he believe your fake illnesses every time? I hope you can respect him”

Having said that, Erica had no intention of waiting for Lenora’s response

She passed by Lenora and headed towards Rosalynn who was waiting for her

The sun set once again.

Rosalynn asked Erica, “Did he agree to end things between you two?”

“Yep” Erica exhaled a sigh of relief, “Rosalynn, it’s funny how things work out. I used to imagine our tragic ending and then find a better guy to make Jacob regret i even naively hoped that Jacob would live in the pain of not having me forever. But now, I really hope that Jacob meets his true love soon and doesn’t live in our past forever”

“That’s because you’re kind.” Rosalynn said gently

If Jacob had met her she wouldn’t have let him off easily

Over the years, Erica had endured bullying and humiliation, as well as the pain caused by Jacob constantly changing girlfriends. For Rosalynn, these were wise enough to severely punish Jacob

Late affection, isn’t it just sad?

Erica stretched, arching her back and loosening her stiff arms and shoulders.

Rosalynn glanced at her and then laughed.

“What’s so funny?”

“Just envious of your carefree happiness. Keep it up.”

“Absolutely!” Erica responded without hesitation.

The sunset stretched their shadows

Around eight in the evening, the news of Jacob waking up spread quickly online.

“It’s truly a love miracle. Ms. Lawrence cut short her honeymoon with her husband to visit Jacob. His condition started to improve after Ms. Lawrence’s return.”

A netizen tweeted this.

The comments below were all over the place

1 don't get it, didn't she just get mamed? Why is she back visiting her ex? Where is her husband"

"Um... honestly, this love story doesn't move me. I felt uncomfortable when she defended that jerk Mr. Strand last time. Now, Ms. Lawrence ditches her honeymoon to be with her ex. Isn't she a bit too into him? I really feel bad for her newly wedded husband"

"So, are they getting back together? if they really do, this relationship is too dramatic
