The Secret Heir Return To Wealth And Love Chapter 1771

Chapter 1771

Felix got anxious and instantly went on high alert, scanning the area. He was worried that Simon's gang might still be after Molly for revenge, terrified that Molly's location might be discovered.

"Dad, what are you looking at?" Molly asked, looking at Felix with confusion.

"Weren't you saying that some people were watching you?" Felix asked nervously.

Molly's intuition was always spot on. Felix had managed to dodge a few bullets thanks to Molly's hunches.

So once Molly said it, Felix believed it without a doubt.

"They're gone," Molly continued, "Let's go, we have a newborn to wait for."

Felix looked at his calm daughter.

How to put it?

Molly was starting to act more and more like his boss Rosalynn.

"Go to the hospital yourself. I'll stay here and keep watch," Felix said, patting Molly on the head.

Molly's hairdo was similar to Ivy's today, and she was wearing a pretty hair clip.

No need to guess, the hair clip must have been from Ivy.

Felix watched, full of emotion.

With the same hairstyle, Ivy looked so cute, but Molly...

Such a small kid, how could she have such a strong presence!

“Alright, you take care, Molly said, striding off.

At this point, Ableson sidled over and asked, “You feel it too, don’t you?”

“What?” Felix asked, defensive.

“The aura Molly’s giving off today... feels like she could pull out a knife at any moment and take care of any bad guys passing by,” Ableson said, making a throat-slitting gesture.

Felix ignored Ableson and walked away.

But when Ableson wasn’t looking, Felix let out a resigned sigh.

He didn’t want to admit it, but... yes, that was exactly the feeling he got.

When Paige was about to be hospitalized, Ivy and Cory insisted on going with her.

Cory wasn’t much of a talker, but compared to Ivy, who was busy arguing, he had already packed a change of clothes and was just waiting for permission to leave.

But considering the complex environment and large crowd at the hospital, the adults were worried that the kids might have a hard time if they went along, so they decided not to bring the kids.

As a result, Ivy didn’t text Rosalynn or Paige all day and was so angry that she barely ate any lunch.

In the end, Rosalynn was the one who called Ivy to soothe her when she saw that Ivy’s anger had subsided.

Ivy was easily appeased, but she had one condition, “When Paige start feeling the pain, you have to take me there. I want to meet my little sister as soon as possible, we promised each other!”

Rosalynn agreed immediately.

So, when Paige was about to give birth, Rosalynn had Ableson bring the kids over.

“Mommy” Ivy called out for Rosalynn as soon as she got off the elevator

Rosalynn went over as soon as she heard her.

Ivy grabbed her hand anxiously. “Has my little sister been born yet?”

Not yet. Paige is still in the delivery room” Rosalynn said gently. “Don’t worry”

Ivy nodded rapidly looking very nervous. I’m actually not nervous”

Time ticked by slowly

The adults all sat quietly in the chairs

Only Ivy, the little girl, paced back and forth outside the delivery room like an adult

As time passed, the anxiety of those waiting grew more intense

Even Rosalynn, who was always composed started to look unwell four hours of waiting.

Chapter 1772

Jaime came back from the bathroom with Cory, his face as white as a sheet. He couldn’t sit down anymore and after a bit, he wandered off to a corner. Rosalynn noticed something was off with Jaime and went to check on him.

All she heard was Jaime crying, praying, “God, I’d give ten years of my life to ensure Paige has a safe childbirth. I’ve got no regrets. Please, I beg you” Rosalynn frowned, “Jaime, what are you doing?”

Jaime jerked in surprise and turned around, his face was streaked with tears.

“Rosalynn...”

“There was a pregnant woman who died from amniotic fluid embolism during the day.” Jaime’s voice trembled as he spoke, “Why is giving birth so damn risky?”

He’d bumped into the woman’s family when he took Cory to the bathroom.

The news had shocked Jaime.

And with Paige in the delivery room for so long, with occasional screams that he wasn't sure were hers, he was getting more and more scared.

"Amniotic fluid embolism is rare, don't worry too much!" Rosalynn tried to reassure him, patting his head.

"Stop having babies! You and Paige should stop having babies!" Jaime was crying so hard he was about to snot bubble.

Jaime quickly grabbed a tissue to wipe his tears. Once he'd calmed down a bit, he followed Rosalynn back to wait outside the delivery room.

Next to the delivery room, there was a waiting area for family members.

Hilaria and Kate, who were usually early sleepers, were now still awake.

Hilaria was praying non-stop.

Kate was mumbling something under her breath, occasionally sticking her head out to look around.

At 5 am, the door to the delivery room finally swung open.

A nurse came out, cradling a wrinkled baby in her arms.

"Congratulations, it's a healthy girl!"

"A girl! It's a girl?"

Blake bolted out of the waiting area, all his dignity gone.

Kate, who hadn't even had time to put on her shoes, also ran out.

Rosalynn, being closer, immediately spotted the little one with sparkling eyes looking around curiously.

Rosalynn couldn't help but well up with tears.

"Where's Paige?" Rosalynn immediately asked, "Is she okay?"

"She's okay. We're taking the baby to the room first, the mother has to wait a while longer."

“Why does she have to wait? Paige is okay, right?” Jaime couldn’t hold it in anymore and started crying, “She’s okay, isn’t she?”

The nurse chuckled, “Of course she’s okay, her husband’s with her. Now, who’s gonna hold the baby?”

That’s when everyone snapped back to reality.

Kate stepped forward and gingerly took the baby into her arms.

Ivy’s eyes never left her little sister.

“Wow, she’s beautiful!” Kate said, bending down so Ivy could see, “Come see your little sister!”

Ivy’s eyes shone brightly as she gently and quietly greeted her baby sister, almost afraid of startling her

Chapter 1773

“Hey there, it’s me, Ivy. I’m gonna always have your back.”

The grown-ups in the room all chuckled.

“Alright, hurry up and take the baby to the ward!” Hilaria, worried about the baby being exposed to the wind, urged hastily.

“Blake, be careful holding the baby!” Kate handed the baby over to Blake, then anxiously watched the door of the delivery room with Rosalynn and Jaime, “Paige is still inside.

Blake was on the verge of tears, carefully cradling the newborn, ready to leave.

“Ivy...

He thought Ivy would follow, but turning around, he saw Ivy also anxiously watching the delivery room.

Hearing Blake’s voice, Ivy politely replied, “Thanks for taking care of my little sister, I’m gonna wait here for Paige.”

“Good kid,” Blake nodded repeatedly, talking to the baby as he walked away.

“Our little princess, you need to love Paige just like Ivy.”

Back in the ward, she couldn’t resist gossiping with her colleagues.

“So this is how the rich are treated, huh?”

“What happened?”

“Except for one, everyone else is waiting outside for the mother.

“Her husband is so good, he’s been there with her through all this, even cried a few times,” the nurse sighed, “I often see families leaving with the baby. leaving the mother all alone... It’s really touching to see a family like this.”

“And get this, the top three richest families are all out there. Their offspring too.” Another nurse chimed in, “Including Ms. Tesdal and Wayne’s son, he’s had an air of authority since he was young. Growing up in such an environment, he’s gonna be quite the man.”

“Ms. Tesdal’s daughter is also very cute, just like a little angel. When I left, she grabbed my hand and thanked me, asking about Paige. Oh, my heart melted.”

“You moms are always focusing on the kids. Did anyone notice that hot guy?” another nurse joined in, “The one with hair covering his eyes.”

“Oh, the one who was crying a lot just now?” the delivering nurse realized.

“He was crying?”

“Yeah, he seemed to have been holding it in for a long time. He didn’t even look at the baby, just asked how Paige was doing, if everything was okay”

“Oh my god, he’s adorable, I like him even more now.”

This nurse had finished her shift, after teasing Jaime a bit, she left.

Unfortunately, as she left, she saw Jaime being scolded by Hilaria.

“You’re so grown up and still crying like that, aren’t you afraid Cory and Ivy will laugh at you?” Hilaria tried to comfort Jaime, but to no avail.

Jaime’s tears flowed freely, as if they were free.

After a few attempts to console him, Hilaria got frustrated and smacked Jaime in the back of the head.

Jaime stopped crying.

“Granny, don’t scold Jaime Ivy defended Jaime, “Paige hasn’t come out yet, I’m scared too!”

“Why aren’t you crying then?” Hilaria turned around, her voice a bit sharp.

I'm holding it in, I'll cry when I get home after Paige comes out!" Ivy's eyes also started to redden.

The nurses passing by were deeply moved by the scene.

What a brave little angel!

Rosalynn hadn't spoken the whole time, her own childbirth experience had been difficult, almost fatal.

After giving birth, she went through a long period of recovery

So with Paige still inside, she was also filled with anxiety

Wayne had been by Rosalynn's side all along, he didn't say much, but he knew that when Rosalynn was giving birth to the twins, he hadn't been there...

Chapter 1774

After about a half hour wait, Paige finally emerged from the ward.

Rosalynn immediately darted up to her. "Paige!"

Paige looked pale, lifting her head weakly to look at Rosalynn.

Seeing Paige, Rosalynn's heart was filled with sorrow, tears coming out from her eyes. "Congrats, your baby is really cute!"

"All wrinkled up. You think that's cute?" Paige managed a strained smile, gently grasping Rosalynn's finger. "Don't worry, I'm okay" "That's good to hear!"

The rest of the group started to gather.

"Let's head to the ward first," Baillie's voice was a little hoarse, his eyes still moist with tears.

"Yes, let's go to the ward!" Kate said firmly.

Everyone made way.

Rosalynn walked behind, wiping away her tears when no one was watching.

If it weren't for Paige giving birth this time, she might not have realized the fear she had when she gave birth to Cory and Ivy.

Now, that fear was projected onto Paige.

"Are you okay?"

At that moment, a large hand tightly grasped Rosalynn's

Rosalynn turned her head to look, managing a weak smile. "As long as Paige is safe, I can finally breathe easy." Wayne nodded.

Most of what he knew about the past came from Jacob, so he knew very little about Rosalynn's childbirth.

But today, he saw Rosalynn, who was always so calm, being so nervous and scared.

He had a gut feeling.

Cory and Ivy's birth might not have been so smooth.

The baby was placed in the incubator in Paige's ward.

The wrinkled little one was already asleep.

Paige was also exhausted and fell asleep as soon as she lay down.

Before sleeping, she told Rosalynn, "Don't leave, I want to see you when I wake up!"

"Don't worry, I'm not going anywhere." Rosalynn sat beside Paige, holding her hand, agreeing gently.

Getting the affirmative response, Paige fell into a tired sleep.

Baillie sat on the other side of the ward, not saying much, just holding Paige's hand and giving it a peck from time to time.

For the rest of the time, he just quietly watched Paige and shed some tears.

"Aren't you going to see the baby?" Rosalynn asked Baillie.

Paige needed rest.

Baillie moved the incubator to the ward's living room, so Kate and Hilaria wouldn't disturb Paige's rest when they came to see the baby

'T'll go later, I don't want to see it now. Baillie replied coldly.

Rosalynn nodded.

Later, because of today, the child suffered a lot under Baillie's watch, as Baillie took a long time to develop deep feelings for his daughter.

Outside the ward, Wayne bought Jaime his favorite ice cream.

Then, they sat down quietly on the balcony of the private ward.

After Paige was pushed out of the operating room, Jaime shed silent tears again. He said that he had known Paige for so many years, even during her hardest time last year, but she had never suffered as much as she had now.

He had witnessed Paige go through countless hardships.

His feelings were indescribable.

Chapter 1775

Feeling any better? Wayne glanced at Jaime, asked.

Jaime took a deep breath, T'm OK...

Wayne nodded, then abruptly changed the subject, "Were you there when Cory and Ivy were born?"

Jaime was slightly taken aback, then shook his head and muttered, "But later I heard from Paige and Noah that Rosalynn was in a critical condition at that time, almost lost her life. Luckily, I wasn't there and didn't know the truth, otherwise, I might have been scared to death..."

Wayne's hand suddenly trembled.

"What happened?" He asked.

"A massive hemorrhage Jaime looked at Wayne, "Even though you have amnesia now, and Rosalynn has forgiven you, whether to blame you or not doesn't make much difference. But Wayne, you were really a jerk!"

Wayne lowered his eyes, "1..."

"Forget it, it's all in the past, just don't screw up again!" Jaime waved his hand, "Now, I just hope our family can live a peaceful life!"

"We will." Wayne nodded.

Jaime took another deep breath and had a bite of the cold ice cream.

Neither of them spoke again.

Jaime was still struggling with his emotions.

Wayne, on the other hand... seemed to suddenly be bound by invisible chains.

He felt like his chest was being crushed by a boulder, making it hard to breathe.

Paige slept soundly and for a long time.

For her, it was just another day in a dream.

In the dream, her father hadn't passed away, and the whole family lived happily and peacefully as before.

She told her parents that she was going to be a mother.

Her father was very happy.

He drove his car, took her to the shopping center to pick out gifts for the baby, bought a lot of cute little skirts, some onesies and toys.

"Paige, you've worked hard." After shopping, on the way home, her father looked at her, the sunlight showered on his face, making him look gentler than before, "I'm worried about you.

Paige was originally very happy, but hearing her father say this, tears immediately slid down her cheeks.

"Baillie is a good kid." Her father continued, "With him around, I can rest assured. You should also be at ease, your mother and I are doing well."

Paige nodded repeatedly while crying, then woke up.

Rosalynn was sleeping at the bedside, holding Paige's hand.

Baillie noticed the tears in Paige's eyes, and was tenderly wiping them away.

Paige woke up, her eyes filled with tears, and saw Baillie.

"Hey," Baillie asked softly

Paige nodded, then whispered, "My dad came to see me

Baillie immediately understood why she would cry in her sleep.

"Don't cry" Baillie comforted softly, "It's a good thing"

Paige nodded, then looked at the sleeping Rosalynn,

"Rosalynn has been here with you the whole time" Baillie said.

As soon as he finished speaking, Rosalynn woke up immediately as she was a light sleeper.

Paige smiled at her instantly

Rosalynn sat up, stretched, "You must be hungry, right? I've arranged a postpartum meal for you!"

"Sweetie, a hug" Paige opened her arms

Rosalynn couldn't help but smile, and leaned over to hug Paige

"Thank you for being with me, otherwise, I would have been very scared Paige said in a pitiful tone

"You were with me back then too" Rosalynn said gently, "Alright, don't think too much about it now, take the time to enjoy the first time your family of three are together"

Chapter 1776

As soon as Rosalynn finished speaking, she left the room.

Kate, Hilaria, and Blake were all forced to go rest at the hotel

Cory and Ivy were reluctant to leave, and Molly had already entered her baby protection mode. The three kids just slept on the living room couch, even though the room across could have been a good place for them to rest, they didn't want to leave,

Jaime was even more outrageous, he just found a corner and crushed there

Only Wayne was dozing lightly on the couch.

At the sound of the door opening he woke up immediately. He probably hadn't slept much, his eyes were bloodshot

Rosalynn walked over, gently touched his cheek, "You're spoiling the kids too much

"It's fine" Wayne, wrapping his arm around Rosalynn's waist, said, "Hungry? I'll go out with you for some food

"You're not taking them?" Rosalynn indicated the soundly sleeping Ivy

Wayne smiled and nodded, "Just the two of us, let's sneak out."

"Okay" Rosalynn laughed, taking Wayne's hand. Wayne picked up his cane and they quietly opened the door and left.

Molly watched them, slowly closing her opened eyes.

Once out of the ward, Rosalynn immediately had Paige's food prepared and sent to the room.

Just as they reached the elevator, the doors opened and Erica and Larkin walked out

“Is Paige awake?” Erica asked hurriedly, then lifted the thermos in her hand, “Larkin and I made some nourishing soup”

“Paige just woke up, you should go in later, she’s probably comforting Baillie,” Rosalynn whispered.

Enca had also noticed Baillie’s mood when she was brought out of the delivery room.

“Alright. So you guys are...” Erica raised an eyebrow, curious.

“On a little date”

With that, Rosalynn led Wayne into the elevator.

Erica was in a good mood and was about to leave, but she noticed Larkin standing still, staring at the elevator doors.

“Larkin, what’s wrong?” Erica asked, puzzled.

Larkin snapped out of his thoughts, shaking his head, “Just-zoned out a bit.

Erica blinked, “You miss your teacher, don’t you? Paige has had her baby now, once she goes to the nursing center, we can go to the monastery!”

Larkin looked at Erica, the smile in his eyes growing deeper.

He really, really loved the feeling of Erica constantly paying attention to him.

“Okay.” Larkin patted her head, “After visiting my teacher, do you still want to go to Kenya?”

“Do we have time?” Erica’s eyes lit up.

She had wanted to see the great migration since she was fifteen or sixteen, but had always missed it for various reasons.

“We should” Larkin replied.

“Then let’s go!” Erica nodded, “We can make up for our honeymoon!”

Larkin took her hand, his arm around her, as they walked he said, “I’ve always felt that the time on the cruise was our honeymoon.”

Erica paused, then realization hit.

“Right... that time was so fun!”

Larkin looked at her, and laughed

“So, our honeymoon wasn’t messed up, only a regular trip was!”

“Exactly.” Enca seemed to be in a much better mood

Chapter 1777

Larkin didn’t often think about Jacob, but at this moment, Jacob popped into his mind out of the blue

Enca was so easily pleased, but Jacob still couldn’t hold on to her. This showed that Jacob’s love for Erica was all talk and no action

There was a great restaurant near the hospital, and Rosalynn and Wayne decided to grab a bite there

As it was off peak hours, the place wasn’t packed

They settled in a quiet corner

After a while, Jaime called and griped. You guys get to eat all the good food and didn’t invite us? I’m hurt, don’t you love me anymore

“No I don’t” Rosalynn answered

Jaime moaned and groaned until Wayne promised to bring back some goodies, then he finally let it go.

Jaime shouted his thanks and hung up

Rosalynn set her phone aside and chuckled, “You and Jaime hit it off really fast, huh?”

Wayne grinned and put a shrimp into Rosalynn’s plate.

Just then, Rosalynn’s phone rang again. She thought it was Jaime calling to order food, she took one look at the caller ID, her expression changed

“Shawn?” Wayne glanced at the caller ID.

He knew this guy. Shawn, him, and Jacob were childhood buddies.

“I heard Jacob’s been up to a lot lately” Rosalynn said, “I guess Shawn’s calling about Jacob”

“If you don’t feel like dealing with it, then don’t,” Wayne responded.

Rosalynn thought for a moment and decided to answer Shawn’s call.

“Secretary Tesdal, what’s the deal with Wayne now? Why is his old number always out of service?” Shawn sounded anxious and somewhat aggressive

Wayne’s amnesia was known to only a handful of people.

“I’m right here, what is it?” Wayne’s tone was completely different from before.

Rosalynn looked up, as if she saw a glimpse of Wayne’s past in him.

“Wayne!” Shawn immediately raised his voice, “Are you in Norhaven now? When are you coming back to H City? If there’s nothing pressing, get back here quick. Jacob’s been acting like a mad dog, biting everyone!”

“Jacob’s a reasonable guy, he wouldn’t flip out for no reason. What did you guys do?” Wayne asked icily

There was silence on the other end for a few seconds.

“To be honest, I think he’s avenging for Erica... Ah, how could we be blamed for Erica’s stuff? Besides, avenging for Erica means forcing us, a bunch of friends, into a corner? Larry was arrested two days ago, did you know that? Just because there was one time, Larry got drunk and thought Erica was easy, and hugged her. Ah Erica slapped Larry right then and there, nothing happened. Just for this, Jacob put Larry behind bars! I asked a lawyer, if he’s really convicted, it’s at least 10 years!

Wayne didn’t know who Larry was. From a bystander’s perspective, he only asked one question, “Did Jacob really do that?”

Shawn was stunned again.

“Wayne, Larry does smuggling business, you’ve know about this.... Shawn grew increasingly anxious, “Anyway, we’ve been friends for so many years, I think it’s really not worth it for a woman who doesn’t care about him! Wayne, you... you should talk some sense into Jacob.”

Rosalynn stirred her coffee absentmindedly.

Jacob didn’t just start acting this way recently

Shawn was so anxious because Jacob’s actions were probably about to affect him

Chapter 1778

Before Rosalynn and Wayne could respond, Shawn, seeming to have made a major decision, said firmly. “I’ve got a suggestion, Ms Tesdal. Could you help me set up a meeting? I want to bring the friends who have offended Erica before to apologize to her in person, to cool her down. And maybe we can tell Jacob to stop this nonsense! I’m sure Erica doesn’t want Jacob to end up making enemies from all sides, does she?”

After hearing Shawn's words, Rosalynn couldn't help but chuckle

"Mr. Shawn, why do I hear a hint of self-pity in your voice? Wasn't it because Erica had no one to protect her when you and your group bullied her before? That's why you felt so free to do as you pleased, right?"

"Ms. Tesdal..." Shawn's voice turned grave.

"I was there when Larry was bullying Erica" Rosalynn's voice was icy. "You think an apology would make everything like it never happened?"

"But wasn't Erica's image really bad back then?"

Rosalynn's expression instantly turned cold, is that an excuse? Even if the someone is a prostitute, if she says no, then it's no! Do you understand?"

When she first started dating Wayne, the rich guys around him didn't treat her like a human being.

To them, she was just one of Wayne's pretty playthings.

She had no idea how many malicious and lustful eyes were cast upon her.

The difference was, Wayne would not allow his belongings to be coveted.

And Jacob, as if punishing Erica, watched with jealousy and anger, yet allowed her to be bullied.

At first, it was out of punishment and anger, but later...it became a habit.

"...Ms. Tesdal, what do you suggest we do, what would make you help?" Shawn asked after a long silence, sounding resigned. "If Jacob keeps this up, people will target him for sure. You wouldn't want him to end up in a dead-end, would you?"

"I'll talk to him." Rosalynn replied, then hung up.

"You don't like him?" Wayne asked.

Rosalynn took a sip of her coffee.

In fact, among Wayne's friends, only Wayne and Jacob had strong family backgrounds. Shawn was a bit weaker, and the rest were all just following them around

Shawn was not lecherous, he could be described as faithful among them.

But he was arrogant and very condescending towards women. He always felt that a beautiful woman without power and background, if she was with men from their social class, it was for money.

In the past, Shawn had more than once sneered at Rosalynn in private.

Maybe because of Wayne's attitude, he later restrained himself, but he always looked at her with disdain.

"I don't really like him," Rosalynn answered, "but he was decent to you before."

Wayne didn't respond.

After all, who would dare to be mean to Wayne?

Although he didn't remember now, he had already figured out who was who and what their family backgrounds were

Rosalynn was a very clear-headed person, she only disliked someone when they were not nice to her.

So...Wayne quietly added Shawn to his blacklist.

"Since you don't like him, let Jacob deal with him," Wayne continued, "If you bully others, you have to pay a price."

Rosalynn set down her coffee, saying, "I'm just worried that Jacob will...go too far, attract endless trouble, and those people might blame Erica for it

Their pleasant afternoon tea time was completely ruined by this call.

Rosalynn packed up some pastries and went back to the hospital with Wayne.

Paige was holding the baby, her eyes full of affection.

Chapter 1779

Ivy sat by the bed, fully engrossed in watching her baby sister. Even with delicious food in front of her, she wouldn't leave.

"Alright Paige, you can't just keep holding her, or your arms are gonna be sore later Kate came over, grinning from ear to ear as she took the baby. "You rest up, I'll play with the little one!"

When the baby was taken, Ivy quickly followed them.

"What's up?"

After the baby was taken, Paige turned to Rosalynn.

She knew Rosalynn's expressions well. Even when others seemed fine, she could spot something off.

Rosalynn glanced outside where Erica was playing poker with Jaime and Hilaria

“Is it about getting back at Erica?” Paige lowered her voice.

Rosalynn nodded, “He’s even planning to not let friends like Shawn off the hook!”

“Well ain’t that good? They deserved it for bullying Erica!! Paige snorted.

“Though Shawn and others aren’t filthy rich, they have some connections. I’m worried if they’re pushed too hard, they might take Jacob down with them, and Erica might get caught in the crossfire”

“Right!” Paige instantly frowned, “So what do we do? Jacob... Why is he still causing trouble for her, even after they broke up and Erica is married now!”

“I’m thinking... to take a trip back to H City.” Rosalynn looked at Paige, “I’ll be back in two days at most!”

Paige’s face instantly changed, but in the end she nodded, “No rush, I have people taking care of me here, you can take your time, and only come back after everything is settled!”

Paige knew that Rosalynn was always grateful to Jacob for saving Cory and Ivy, and with Erica’s situation...it was impossible for Rosalynn to just sit by “Alright.” Rosalynn nodded.

“What about Wayne? Is he going with you?”

“No, Cory and Ivy need someone, I feel better knowing he’s here with you guys.” Rosalynn shook her head.

“Alright, when are you planning to go?”

“Once you’re in the rehab center, I’ll head out.”

After discussing with Paige, Rosalynn told Wayne about her plans

Since being saved from the island, Wayne and Rosalynn were practically inseparable Suddenly having to part for a few days, Wayne was visibly anxious

“Can I come with you?” He asked

“What about Ivy and Cory?” Rosalynn countered.

Wayne’s brow furrowed tightly

“Honey, I’ll be back in two days at most. Rosalynn hugged Wayne’s waist, looking up at him, “Wayne, you’re so clingy, what will you do when you start working?” “I’ll still see you every day, and we’ll be together at night.” Wayne replied softly.

“Not every day, you traveled a lot for work before!” Rosalynn tried to console him.

“Jacob said, whenever I had to travel, I’d take you with me.” Wayne replied.

Rosalynn’s eyes shimmered slightly.

That was true.

Wayne would always take her with him wherever he went, with only two exceptions.

Once when Wayne went to R Country to accompany Olivia for half a month,

And the other time when he went to negotiate a marriage alliance with the Rosso family for half a month..

Chapter 1780

“But I’m not your secretary now” Rosalynn snapped back to reality and gave Wayne a gentle pat on the back. “So, President Silverman, you better start getting used to it from now on”

Wayne could only nod helplessly.

After two days in the hospital, Paige was transferred to a rehab center.

Kate didn’t have any doubts about this decision. No matter how prepared they were at home, it couldn’t compare to the professionalism of a rehab center

She chose the best rehab center in Norhaven for Paige Everything was top notch, they even hired a professional postpartum recovery specialist from overseas.

Erica toured the place and was very impressed.

Seeing this, Kate said, “Erica, if you like it, you can come to Norhaven when you have your baby I’ll arrange everything for you”

“Oh, Kate, you’re the best Erica was super excited, she and Kate got along really well.

Once Paige was settled, Rosalynn planned to head straight back to H City.

Hearing that Rosalynn was leaving. Erica rushed to see her.

“What’s up” Rosalynn got out of the car and asked, puzzled.

Enca composed herself, then asked seriously, "Are you going back to deal with Jacob?"

Rosalynn didn't hide anything, she nodded and said, "Seems like you already know."

Erica frowned, "This is all because of me I'm sorry."

"Because of you? How so?" Rosalynn asked.

Erica told Rosalynn about her conversation to Jacob when he was unconscious, "I just wanted to wake him up, I didn't think he would take it to heart and actually do it. Rosalynn, you know me, I don't mean harm, what happened in the past is in the past. I don't want to hurt anyone."

Life was tough enough as it was, Erica already had a great husband and a bright future, she didn't want to get tangled up with her past anymore.

"I understand" Rosalynn saw Erica's guilt.

Given Erica's personality, she would take the blame for everything once there was a problem.

"In all this, you're the only victim" Rosalynn gave Erica's arm a squeeze, "Don't overthink it, I'll have a good talk with Jacob."

"Actually..." Erica lowered her eyelids and shrugged, "Shawn and the others came to me, but I really... I really don't want to have anything to do with my past anymore, I..."

"I get it." Rosalynn said gently. "They're not worth your help anyway. The reason why I'm dealing with this is because I don't want Jacob to get himself into deeper trouble. After all, he saved Cory and Ivy."

"Right!" Erica held Rosalynn's hand tightly. "I'll be waiting for your good news!"

Rosalynn comforted Erica a little more, then set off for H City.

Wayne even arranged a driver for Rosalynn.

Since they haven't located Jennifer, Rosalynn was a bit uneasy and only brought Felix for protection.

On the way, Shawn called again. Hearing that Rosalynn was on her way back to H City, Shawn clearly breathed a sigh of relief.

*So tomorrow morning, can you get Jacob out so we can talk face to face?"

“Don’t rush, I’ll arrange things based on the situation. And don’t get your hopes high, I spoke to his assistant, and he said that Jacob has become a completely different person after getting sick.”

Shawn thought to himself, as if he didn’t know that. Jacob has become like a madman....

But Shawn really had no other choice.

The few bars under his name had all been sealed up and were now closed.

At first, he didn’t believe Jacob would lash out at him. After all, they grew up together and had a deep friendship.

Even though he wasn’t very nice to Erica in the past, how could Jacob push him into a corner over a woman?
