

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 301

Renee asked flatly. Her attitude was far from polite. She looked like she was ready for a fight.

She was not the old Renee anymore. She did not have to be considerate of Francine's feelings now. If Francine dared to make a scene, she would definitely retaliate!

However, to Renee's astonishment, Francine actually smiled at her warmly.

"Can't I just come to see how my daughter-in-law is doing? I don't really need a specific reason to come here." "Huh?"

Renee's eyes widened and her jaw dropped.

Did Francine forget to take her meds today? She had always just called Renee the harbinger of tragedy and she had never been kind to her, yet today...

Margaret said happily, "Miss Ren, Miss Francine is so kind. She even brought you a gift. Do you want to open it and have a look?"

"Uhh, I..."

Before Renee could respond, Margaret had already opened the beautifully packed present. "Wow, it's a sapphire necklace. It's so beautiful! It must be really expensive!"

Margaret was just like a mood maker at a party. She thanked Francine for her generosity, said the necklace would look perfect on Renee, and said the two of them were truly mother and daughter, they understood each other so well!

Renee was perplexed. "What is Margaret doing?! She knows Francine and I are at odds with each other!"

Francine smiled and said, "It's not that expensive. It only cost a few hundred thousand dollars. I thought it suits you, so I bought it for you."

Francine's words still contained a sense of superiority as the lady of a prestigious family, but compared to the past, she was like a completely different person.

The main reason for that was because of the abrupt change in her attitude towards Renee!

Rather than feeling happy, Renee just felt scared. She subconsciously took a step back. "Ms. Francine, I hope you can behave normally. Just call me the harbinger of tragedy like you always do. Also, if you want anything, just say it. Don't scare me by doing all this."

"You...!"

Francine was about to lose her temper, but for the sake of her precious son's lifelong happiness, she managed to keep it down. "Don't be silly.

You're my daughter-in-law, so we're like mother and daughter. As your mother, I don't need a special reason to give you a present."

"I don't need it!"

Renee rejected the gift and pulled out her phone. "Ms. Francine, if you keep behaving like this, I'm gonna call Stefan." "Don't!"

Francine's expression immediately turned back to normal. She said truthfully, "I actually came here today to talk to you about you and Stefan."

"We're divorced. What's there to talk about?" Renee's face was disdainful.

That almost made Francine lose her temper again, but she endured.

"I can see that you and my son still have lingering feelings for each other. It's not easy for my son to accept a woman. I've thought long and hard about it - I'm not gonna make him marry another woman. I hope you two can reconcile..."

Francine added, "You already know that Briar is still alive. She has a bad nature, so I'm going to make her leave after she gives birth to the baby. I don't want her to have anything to do with the Hunt family. However, my little grandchild needs to grow up in a normal family - in other words, he needs a mother. I think you're very suitable for that."

"Hahaha!"

Renee immediately laughed after hearing Francine's proposal. "You want me to be a stepmother at my age?" "The child wouldn't know. Although you're not related by blood, there won't be any difference."

Francine promised, "If you agree, the Hunt family will take good care of you. Stefan will also be very grateful to you, so you two will surely live in harmony. You might even be able to have your own children in the future... What do you think?"

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 302

Francine felt that, since she had humbled herself considerably to make this suggestion, Renee would surely be grateful and agree to it.

After all, not long ago, she would do anything just to remain in the Hunt family...

Renee did not respond. She merely laughed so hard that she had tears in her eyes.

She never knew that the high and mighty Francine Milford had so much talent as a comedian. Renee simply could not stop laughing!

Francine was a bit unhappy. She finally could not keep up the pretense anymore. Her tone was impolite as she asked, "What are you laughing at? Give me an answer! Let me tell you, this is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. If you miss it, it's gone. Don't be ungrateful!"

Renee fought back the laughter. Her curved eyes gradually turned cold. She replied equally impolitely, "Ms. Francine, I thought I've made it clear to you. I never thought of going back after I dumped your son. Even if your son kneels down and begs me, the possibility is still zero. And I sure as hell ain't gonna go back to be a stepmom!"

"You... are you serious?"

Francine did not expect Renee to refuse the offer.

It seemed Stefan was telling the truth. Renee had already moved on and no longer had any feelings for Stefan. Naturally, she would not go back.

Looks like the daughter-in-law she detested was really going to run away. What would happen to her son, then? Francine suddenly felt a bit anxious. She wished she could tie Renee down with a rope!

"Don't be so hasty to refuse. Sleep on it. You used to love Stefan so much, there's no way you can move on that easily. You're just saying that because you're angry, aren't you?"

Francine remained patient and continued, "How about this. Let's have an honest talk between mother-in-law and daughter-in-law. Has your taste changed? Do you not like the iceberg type like Stefan anymore?"

"What type do you like now? The warm type or the artistic type? Or maybe someone who's a bit wild? Honestly, Stefan has many sides to him, so he has a little bit of every kind of personality. I'll talk to him and get him to change!"

Renee said coldly, "Don't waste your time. When I liked him, I liked him even if he's a scumbag. Now that I don't like him, I wouldn't like him even if he sacrifices his life for me..."

"If I have to pinpoint the exact moment my heart died, it was probably the moment he drove me out of the house for Briar Desrosiers. I can accept his cruelty, but I can't accept his unfaithfulness!"

Francine said, "Men make mistakes. There was no love between you two before, so it's understandable that he would have an affair. But isn't it fine as long as he has you in his heart now?"

"There's rarely true love in a marriage between wealthy families. Even if there is, it won't last long. Why are you so obsessed with that?"

Renee said, "Since a marriage between wealthy families is so terrible, why would I want it? Unless Briar Desrosiers disappears, it's impossible for Stefan and I to get back together!"

She did not say that because she hated Briar Desrosiers, but to remind herself that Stefan was someone who was unfaithful to her, so she must never fall for him again!

"You mean, there can be only one between you and Briar?"

Francine thought she finally understood Renee's condition. She took a deep breath and said, "Okay. I'll discuss with Stefan later about how we should deal with Briar."

At first, Renee wanted to explain, but then, she felt like there was no need. She said, "If that's how you want to interpret it, go ahead. Briar Desrosiers is indeed the reason why I don't love Stefan anymore."

Margaret was a bit worried when she saw that the two of them were going to part on bad terms.

In truth, she sincerely wished Renee would reconcile with Stefan. After all, it was a marriage that the late Maurice Everheart tried his best to make happen before he died. There must be a reason for that.

"No need to be hasty, Miss Francine. Any woman who gets cheated on would be unhappy. If she's not, it can only mean that she doesn't love the man..."

Margaret whispered to Francine, 'Don't worry, I'll try to persuade Miss Ren later. Also, I hope Mr. Hunt won't disappoint Miss Ren a second time.'

Francine nodded and told Margaret arrogantly, "Not bad. Even though you're a servant, you have good perception. I'll definitely treat you well in the future. Let me tell you..."

Francine lowered her voice and whispered into Margaret's ear, teaching her ways to make Renee change her mind. They were both very immersed in the discussion! Renee was speechless.

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 303

She could never have imagined that, one day, her ex-mother-in-law and her nanny would be on the same side, scheming to make her get back together with her scumbag ex-husband.

Renee could not stand it anymore. She went to the kitchen and brought out the marinated lemon chicken feet to relieve her craving.

As soon as the chicken feet were placed on the table, the fragrance spread. Francine could smell it too.

"That smells good! Did you make that?"

Francine could not help being attracted to the smell.

She went to the dining room and was surprised to see the chicken feet on the dining table.

"Wanna try one?"

Renee had already put on the gloves and was ready to dig in.

She had been craving sour food lately due to her pregnancy. She could not wait to start eating.

Francine looked apprehensive, but her hand took the chicken foot anyway.

After eating one, her eyes immediately tripled in size.

"Did... did you really make this? It's so good!"

She no longer cared that she was a lady of a rich family. She could hardly wait to eat another one.

She was accustomed to all kinds of delicacies, but Renee's lemon chicken feet had truly made her fall in love!

"If I had known that your lemon chicken feet were so delicious, I wouldn't have let you and Stefan divorce. Why didn't you tell me you're so skillful?"

Francine wished she could eat all the chicken feet in Renee's plate.

Renee did not expect that her difficult ex-mother-in-law would be won over by an ordinary plate of lemon chicken feet.

Unfortunately, it was too late now...

"Do you have more of this? I'd like to bring some back for Stefan."

Francine asked Renee seriously.

"I have a bit more. If you want, I'll pack it for you."

Renee said generously.

It felt good when someone liked the food she made, not to mention the person was the difficult mother-in-law she tried very hard to please back in the days.

Francine took the lemon chicken feet Renee packed for her and left happily.

On the way out, she encountered a handsome man who was getting off a bus. Her intuition told her that this man was not that simple.

"Who are you looking for?"

Francine stopped the man and asked snobbishly.

Haze looked Francine up and down, then smiled and said, "Renee Everheart. I heard she's currently staying here."

"You're looking for Renee?"

Francine immediately got defensive. She asked aggressively, "Why are you looking for my daughter-in-law? What's your relationship with her?"

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 304

"Your daughter-in-law?"

A playful expression crept onto Haze's handsome face.

So the well-dressed woman in front of him was Francine Milford, Renee's former mother-in-law.

"As far as I know, Miss Everheart is currently single. It's a bit inappropriate for you to claim to be her mother-in-law like this." "What do you know?"

Francine raised her chin high and said, 'If she's my daughter-in-law for a day, she's my daughter-in-law for a lifetime. Until the day she remarries, no one can replace my position as the "mother-in-law".'

Haze put his hands in his pockets and chuckled. "In that case, I'm afraid you'll be disappointed. I'm actually here to take Miss Everheart to meet my parents. If everything goes well, she'll have a new mother-in-law soon."

Francine already had an impending sense of crisis before this, but after hearing what Haze said, the sense of crisis became even stronger. She immediately interrogated him, "Who are you? Who are your parents? What's your relationship with Renee?"

Before Haze could answer, she added confidently, "Do you know how much Renee loves my son? Do you know how much she yearns to be Mrs. Hunt again? It's only a matter of time before she remarries my son. There's no way she would go meet your parents with you."

"Oh, really?"

Haze raised his eyebrows and smiled even wider. "Should we go ask her right now how much she loves your son and how much she yearns to be Mrs. Hunt again?"

"Ahem!"

Francine immediately pursed her lips and said, somewhat guiltily, "There's no need for that. Let's wait and see what happens."

If they really were to go ask Renee now, Francine's lie would be exposed for sure. She would never do such a humiliating thing! "Anyway, I advise you not to waste your time. Her ex-husband is Stefan Hunt. There's no way she would fall for a nobody!"

Haze was not upset. Instead, he said cheerfully, "Like you said, let's wait and see what happens!" After leaving the Hunt Villa, Francine rushed to the headquarters of H Group.

When the employees saw her, they knew trouble was coming. They quickly immersed themselves in their work and tried to keep a low profile.

"Where's my son? I want to see him right away!"

Francine went all the way to the CEO's office on the top floor, slammed the table and asked the secretary.

"Miss Francine, the CEO is in an executive meeting. Why don't you wait for him in the lounge? I'll make you a cup of tea." "No! This can't wait!"

Without saying another word, Francine headed straight for the meeting room and pushed open the door. "Son, this is urgent. Get out of there. I need to tell you something!"

Stefan was sitting tall and imposing in the center like a king. He frowned when he saw his mother. "I'm in a meeting. Whatever you want to tell me, it can wait."

Francine rushed in impatiently and said, "Who cares about the meeting? You're about to lose your wife! You need to act now!" "Wow!"

As soon as she said that, dozens of H Group's executive members exclaimed in surprise under their breaths, unable to maintain their solemn and serious expression any longer. They were eagerly waiting to hear more of the gossip.

After all, the H Group was, without a doubt, the place that contained the highest number of "stans" of the "Renee-Stefan ship". Stefan rubbed his temples. He wished he could dig a hole and jump into it.

He got up and, while walking out of the meeting room, told Francine in low voice, "We'll talk in my office." Francine nodded with satisfaction and said, "That's more like it!"

After they left, the senior executives of H Group immediately discussed with each other what just happened. "I knew it, our CEO hasn't moved on from his wife. He's gonna win her back now!"

' I bet 100,000 dollars that Renee and Stefan will get back together!" "I'm not optimistic. The CEO's wife looks like the kind of person who wouldn't look back. I bet 500,000 dollars that it's over for them!" "100,000 dollars on reconciliation!"

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 305

'200,000 dollars that it's over!"

The outcome of Stefan and Renee's love life instantly became the subject of a bet. From senior management to cleaners, the entire H Group enthusiastically participated in it. They all looked forward to the pay day!

CEO's Office.

"What's going on?"

Stefan's originally calm expression immediately faltered the moment the door closed. He asked Francine urgently, "Who's Renee running away with?"

Francine could tell from Stefan's reaction that her iceberg of a son had truly fallen in love this time. She did not know whether to be happy or not at that.

*I don't know who that guy is. He's quite tall and handsome and has a wild feel to him. He's completely different from you. If Renee's taste has really changed, you're in trouble..."

Francine told him honestly.

Stefan was emotional, but he pretended not to care. He shrugged and said casually, "So what if her taste has changed? We're already divorced. She's free to like whatever type of man she wants. It's none of my concern."

"You brat! Are you really gonna act tough in front of me?!" Francine felt the urge to kick Stefan.

Rather than her good genes, her emotional idiot of a son had inherited her pride instead.

"If you really don't care, then sure, let her get away. Don't let me catch you crying into your blanket at night."

Francine exclaimed angrily, "That good-looking guy said he's gonna take Renee to see his parents. He didn't look like he was lying. If you have the balls, go get her back right now!"

Stefan's heart suddenly tightened. He asked tentatively, "Was the man Liam Osborne?" "No!"

Francine said, "If it was that Osborne brat, I wouldn't be so worried. Renee and Liam Osborne were obviously just fooling around. They're not serious..."

■

'But this good-looking guy is different. He has an aura about him, so he should have a considerable background, at least on par with yours!"

It was precisely because he gave her a strong sense of crisis that she immediately rushed here to urge Stefan to go get his wife back.

Stefan's handsome face was cold and silent.

'How impressive, Renee Everheart. It's only been three months since we divorced, but your suitors already come knocking at your door one after another. There are so many of them that the door must be breaking down by now!"

When Francine saw Stefan keeping quiet, she said, "But don't be intimidated. After all, you and Renee were married for four years. No other man can match that..."

"Also, I went to look for her today to probe around and see how she really feels about you. I don't think she's moved on from you yet. It's just that there's Briar standing between you two, and she can't stand that. She made it clear that there can be only one between her and Briar. Maybe you should think of a way to get rid of Briar."

Stefan's eyes turned cold. He asked, "Did she really say that?" "That's right. She can't tolerate Briar!"

Francine shook her head and said, "I can understand where she's coming from. If I really love someone, I wouldn't be able to stand it either. So... you must abandon one of them."

"I won't do anything to Briar." Stefan's attitude was firm.

This confused Francine.

"Son, what are you thinking? You obviously don't like Briar, so why are you protecting her at the cost of hurting the person you like?"

"There are more than affection and love in this world. There are also things like responsibility and morality... If she really detests Briar to that extent, it can only mean that we're not actually a good fit."

Stefan said with clenched fists.

Francine found his words hard to understand. "Then what are you going to do now? Are you really gonna let Renee meet with that guy's parents? Are you sure you're okay with that?"

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 306

Stefan's expression was cold and indifferent. "She can do whatever she wants. She's single now. It's not like I can tie her up."

Francine glared at her son with a frown, lamenting his incompetence and lamenting his misfortune. "Yeah, keep acting tough. I hope you won't regret this."

To be honest, it was not as if she liked Renee that much. She only wanted her as a daughter-in-law because her son had fallen in love with her.

In addition, the lemon chicken feet made by Renee were truly amazing. Her impression of the woman had improved because of that.

Therefore, she could not bear to see a good daughter-in-law like her slip away!

Francine became angrier and angrier the more she thought about it. She decided to turn her anger into appetite. She opened the box filled with lemon chicken feet and started to gnaw on one.

The aroma of the lemon chicken feet filled the entire office.

Stefan stared at his mother who was gnawing at chicken feet without any care for how unladylike she looked, his handsome face filled with confusion. "Mom, what are you doing?"

"What do you think I'm doing? I'm eating chicken feet." Francine answered impatiently.

She had to admit, the lemon chicken feet Renee made tasted really good. She could not stop eating them.

The chicken feet alone were worth encouraging Stefan to get Renee back. That way, she would be able to eat these chicken feet regularly.

Stefan had never seen Francine eat like this before. He could not help but feel intrigued by the chicken feet. He asked, "Is there anything special about these chicken feet? Why do you have to eat them in front of me?"

Instead of answering, Francine gave him a mysterious smile. She handed Stefan a chicken foot and said, "Eat this first. I'll tell you after that."

Stefan frowned and had a look of disdain on his face. "You know I've never liked these kind of things." "If you don't try it, how would you know if you'll like it or not? Maybe it'll surprise you."

Because it was lunch time and Stefan happened to be hungry, he reluctantly took one and slowly tasted it. "How was it? Was it delicious? Did it surprise you?"

Francine asked impatiently.

Stefan nodded and replied truthfully, "It's the most delicious chicken foot I've ever had."

He usually ate Western food. Even when he had Chinese food, he would usually have high-class Chinese food. He would rarely eat street food like chicken feet.

He did not think they look that good, so he had refrained from trying them, but now that he had one, he thought it actually tasted really good!

Like Francine, after he finished one, he could not help eating another one.

Francine saw that the time was right, so she told him, "Renee made these chicken feet. She specifically asked me to bring some for you. Have you ever had them during the four years you were married to her?"

Stefan suddenly stopped. "She made these?"

He now recalled that, when he had no choice but to go back to the Hunt Villa for dinner in the past, there seemed to be chicken feet like these on the table, but he did not think they looked good, so he did not even try one.

"I can tell from your reaction that this is the first time you've had them too..."

Francine sighed, "I only now realize that Renee is not as cowardly and incompetent as I thought. She has many good points that I ignored because I was biased... She's a treasure that we need to take the time to unearth."

The look on Stefan's handsome face was profound and complicated. After a moment of silence, he said softly, "What's the point of telling me this now? Even if she's the most amazing woman in the world, she doesn't belong to me anymore..." "What are you saying? You sound so defeated. You're Stefan Hunt. Is there anything in the world that you can't do?"

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 307

Francine patted him on the shoulder and encouraged him, "I believe that as long as you're willing to fight for it, the thing you lost will surely come back to you with a firmer attitude."

Francine said no more and left the H Group.

Staring at the lemon chicken feet in the lunch box while standing alone in his spacious office, Stefan felt like he could imagine Renee getting busy in the kitchen. It warmed his heart...

Hunt Villa.

Renee and Margaret made a lot of dishes to entertain Haze, who had suddenly come for a visit.

"Haze, Margaret was able to escape danger thanks to you. I've always wanted to invite you to dinner to express my gratitude, but I haven't been able to find the time. Today's the perfect chance... Think of this fruit juice as wine. Here's a toast to you!"

Renee picked up a glass filled with juice and said gratefully to Haze.

Margaret also stood up, poured herself a full glass of wine, and raised it towards Haze. "Mr. Haze, thank you for everything. Cheers!"

' You're welcome, Margaret. I'll accept your toast, but Miss Everheart's..."

Haze paused for a moment and looked at Renee with a smile on his face. "H I remember that you promised me more than a meal."

Renee touched the back of her head, feeling a bit embarrassed. "I agreed in the heat of the moment. It doesn't count." "So you still remember our little agreement."

The smile on Haze's face grew wider. "Actually, you don't have to overthink it. Consider it doing your friend a favor. No one said you have to get married after meeting the parents."

Hearing this, Renee nodded in agreement. "True. Meeting the parents doesn't mean much anymore. You can even get a divorce after getting married these days!"

If she could solve Haze's problem just by meeting his parents, it didn't seem like a big deal.

After all, she hated being in other people's debt. After she returned his favor, she would be more comfortable dealing with this guy in the future.

' What? Meet the parents? Whose parents?"

Margaret told them emotionally, "Don't mess around, you young ones. Meeting the parents is a serious matter. You only do that when you're ready to get married."

"Besides, Miss Ren, you're currently in the process of repairing your relationship with Mr. Hunt. If he finds out that you're meeting with another man's parents, what will happen to your relationship?"

That seemed to have provoked Renee. She snorted. "Who said I'm repairing my relationship with him? That arrogant and narcissistic guy looks down on me from the bottom of his heart. Not only does he think I'm a murderer, he's also wary of me ruining his friend's life..."

The more she spoke, the angrier she got. She immediately asked Haze, "When should we go? I'm free whenever. I'll show him how popular I am!"

Haze raised his eyebrows and said, "There's no better time than now. Let's go after the meal. Is that okay?" "No problem!"

They left after the meal.

"This is nonsense, you two!"

Margaret wanted to stop them, but of course she failed.

While she was feeling anxious, Stefan unexpectedly arrived.

As if she saw a savior, Margaret quickly dashed over and told him, "Mr. Hunt, I'm so glad you're here. Miss Ren ran away with another man! They shouldn't have gone far. You can still catch up to them if you hurry!"

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 308

Upon hearing that, Stefan's handsome face became even colder. "Damn that woman. She really ran away!"

Margaret carefully provided Stefan with useful information. 'I heard them say they're going to Sutton. They're on the way to the airport now. If you hurry, you can still catch up to them...'

"Sutton?!"

With clenched fists and a chilly look in his eyes, Stefan said, "She better pray I won't catch her, or I'll break her leg!" Without saying another word, he drove his expensive sports car straight towards the biggest airport in Beach City. When he walked into the airport lobby, he happened to run into Renee and Haze, who had just arrived themselves. "It's you!"

Stefan was surprised to see Haze standing next to Renee. "What are you doing here?"

Renee was surprised to see Stefan too. She felt guilty for some reason, like she had been caught cheating. She subconsciously took a step back.

Haze smiled calmly and reached his hand out to Stefan. "Mr. Hunt, long time no see. Are you going on a business trip?"

Stefan completely ignored Haze. Instead, he looked at Renee with contempt and said, "I thought you found a guy so incredible that you couldn't wait to meet his parents... But it's just a hacker who has to hide like a rat all the time!"

Renee immediately became furious and retorted, "I'm warning you, you can insult me, but you better not insult hackers. They're not hiding like rats, they're highly-skilled people who like to keep a low profile. You think you're all that? If you make the hackers mad, they'll dig up all your secrets and expose you to the public!"

Stefan did not know that Renee was "Phoenix". Renee's defense of the hackers sounded to Stefan like she was speaking up for Haze, which made him even angrier. He sneered, "Looks like he's enthralled you. Did he tell you about the transaction he made with me behind your back?"

In his opinion, Renee was so naive that she was nearly brainless.

If she knew that this so-called "highly-skilled" person had reinforced the security of the cloud storage system which contained evidence that could prove her nanny's innocence, and he did it for money, would she still feel that he was a good man?

Renee smiled and said, "It doesn't matter what kind of deal Haze made with you. The important thing is that you needed him. He made a lot of money with his skills. It's your loss no matter how I look at it. How can you still act so high and mighty in front of him?"

"You!"

Stefan was speechless. Renee's sharp words almost made him explode with anger. He turned to Haze and snorted, "Aren't you going to confess something to her?"

With his hands in his pockets, Haze shrugged nonchalantly and said, "You must be talking about that time you paid me to reinforce the security of the hospital's cloud storage system to prevent Miss Everheart from proving her nanny's innocence."

Stefan did not expect Haze to be so honest. He said coldly, "Well, at least you're honest."

Haze smiled. "Of course, I confessed to Miss Everheart a long time ago. Not only that, I even shared half of the reward with her as a sign of apology. She happily accepted it and even treated me to a meal."

Renee nodded and said jokingly, "I can't believe you paid him 10 million dollars for that. If I had known how generous you are, I would have become a hacker too. After all, the various systems of H Group are so weak, and they're full of loopholes too. I could make a fortune just from helping you plug the loopholes!" 1

Stefan: "..."

His handsome face was flushed with anger!

So he was the fool? The two of them joined hands to cheat him of millions?

Their M.O. was almost exactly the same as that time in the auction when she conspired with Liam Osborne to make him pay an astronomical price for a diamond ring!

'Renee Everheart, you sure like to scam me, don't you?'

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 309

Stefan took a deep breath and tried to keep his anger under control. He asked Renee, "Since you already know what kind of person he is, why did you still get close to him? Is there something wrong with your brain?"

'What kind of person he is?'

Renee looked directly at Stefan's fierce eyes and gave him a mocking smile. "He's a hacker. People pay him to do stuff. Isn't that reasonable? What's the problem?"

'But you... you would go to any length to protect your little lover, wouldn't you? Including destroying evidence in secret. I think your personality is even shadier. You're the one I should stay away from!' ft ft

Stefan pursed his lips. He was rendered speechless again.

Renee was right. In terms of shadiness, he was even shadier than Haze. What moral high ground did he have to criticize Haze's character?

Haze looked at his watch and said with a smile on his face, "I'm sorry, Mr. Hunt, but our flight is about to take off. Please make way. This is the first meeting between Miss Everheart and my parents. We wouldn't want to be late."

He was twisting the knife that had stabbed into Stefan's heart!

Stefan was nigh bursting with anger and jealousy already. When he heard that, he could contain himself no longer. He grabbed Renee's wrist and declared his ownership of her. "This woman is already taken. She won't be going with you!"

"Stefan, what are you doing? Let me go!"

Renee was embarrassed and tried hard to free herself from his grasp.

Stefan held her even tighter, pulled her into his arms, and said forcefully, 'I won't let you go. You're not allowed to go with him!'

"Who do you think you are?!"

There's something wrong with this guy's brain!

It's none of his business whose parents she was meeting.

Renee roared, "We're divorced. I'm single now. You have no right!"

Stefan said, "It's true that we're divorced, but you're still my responsibility. I promised your grandpa to keep you safe for the rest of your life. This guy is just a hacker with no power and no wealth. He can't give you happiness. I naturally can't let you go with him."

"What?"

No matter how hard Renee racked her brain, she could not recall when her grandfather had ever said that.

Stefan's eyes were cold. He said arrogantly, "I'll consider letting go of you if you find a man who's comparable to me. I won't let you go if the man is worse than me!"

Renee:"...'

She had no idea how anyone could be this shameless.

Did he really think he's the best in the world and no one could match up to him?

"Stefan, you're so full of yourself. Do you really think hackers are that poor? For all we know, his net worth may be much higher than yours. And he's just as capable as you are!"

Renee retorted.

"His net worth?"

Stefan sneered. Like an immature elementary school kid, his competitive desire was aroused. "Then why don't your hacker friend and I compare our net worth?"

Renee said, "That's unfair! Your net worth was amassed by your entire family."

The Untouchable Ex Wife by Mizuki Sei

Chapter 310

The scene startled the passers-by at the airport.

Stefan and Renee were also surprised. They could not make heads or tails of the situation.

Haze's eyebrows furrowed. He looked at the elderly man kneeling before him with some displeasure. "Uncle Wurst, didn't I make it clear that I'll board the plane myself when the time comes? Don't make such a scene!"

The elderly man bowed his head in reverence, but said with some degree of forcefulness, "Young master, everybody's waiting anxiously for you.

They're worried that you might change your mind again, so they sent me to escort you back. I've already chartered the entire plane. Please cooperate with me!"

"Escort me?"

Haze rolled his eyes. "More like keeping an eye on me. After all these years, Grandpa is still so domineering. Was it any wonder that I ran away?"

"But this time, you don't have to worry because I'm bringing his future granddaughter-in-law back with me. I wouldn't run away halfway!"

Upon hearing that, Uncle Wurst's eyes lit up. He immediately turned to Renee. "I think this must be your future wife. You look dignified and charming, my lady. You look just like the ideal wife for the young master in the heart of Old Master Baldwin... No, in the hearts of the entire Baldwin family!"

"Wh-What?!"

Renee felt extremely embarrassed. She could not help glaring at Haze with her sparkling eyes.

What was Haze doing? Why was his whole extended family notified of her arrival?

She felt like she had been put on the spot. She had no choice but to go now.

"The Baldwin Family?"

Stefan's eyes suddenly became sharp as they examined Haze.

It appeared this seemingly lackadaisical little hacker was not as simple as he looked!

"Yes, Mr. Hunt."

Haze nodded and the smile on his face deepened. He said, "The hegemon of Sutton City, Austin Baldwin, is my grandfather."

"Are you..."

"I'm Justin Baldwin, the sole direct descendant of Austin Baldwin and the sole heir of the Baldwin family... My hacker identity, Haze, is just an alter- ego I created because I was bored!"

"It's you!"

Upon hearing Haze's self-introduction, Stefan was shocked, but it made so much sense.

Everyone knew the Hunt family in Beach City and the Baldwin family in Sutton City were equally matched hegemons. One of them occupied the east while the other occupied the west. They respected each other's boundaries and did not interfere with each other.

Stefan had always wanted to meet Justin Baldwin, who shouldered the same family responsibilities as him. Unfortunately, that guy was free and unrestrained and never cared about his family business. His whereabouts were often uncertain, so they had never been able to meet.

Surprisingly, this was how they met for the first time - through Renee!

"Surprised, Mr. Hunt?"

Justin, with both hands in his pockets, wore an easy smile on his face as always.

Unlike Stefan, who was like an iceberg, he was relaxed and casual like a kid from next door, completely devoid of the airs of a prestigious family's descendant.

"I thought that, considering the deep friendship between the Baldwin family and the Hunt family, you must have investigated me thoroughly... After all, I've been living in your shadow ever since I was young. I've known who you are for a long time."

Stefan snorted coldly. "That means you've been scheming for a long time. You approached her with ulterior motives!"

"That's not entirely true..."

Justin said, "Years ago, General Everheart originally wished to entrust Miss Everheart to me, but unfortunately, I had other ideas at that time, so I missed out." "Now... Miss Everheart has regained her freedom. I'm just pursuing the happiness that should have been mine. I hope you, as the ex-husband, can give us your blessing."