

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 2300

Married at First Sight Chapter 2300-She was very happy when she laughed. One thing, she was sure of.

Kevin's feelings for her had changed obviously from just following his grandma's arrangement to approach her to really liking her.

After sitting for a while, Hayden got up, walked out of the desk, and walked to the lounge.

Kevin had already changed into his casual clothes, but he had no shoes, and his leather shoes were in the car.

Looking at the pair of high heels, Kevin bent down and lifted them up, wanting to throw them into the trash can.

"What are you throwing it for? Keep it. These are the high-heeled shoes worn by the Third Young Master York."

Hayden came with a teasing voice.

Kevin looked over and found that she was leaning against the door, with her hands in her trouser pockets, looking at him with a half-smile.

Hayden: "Don't throw away this dress, keep it all. Oh, it's a pity, I didn't take a picture of you wearing women's clothing and long hair just now."

Hayden looked shocked. She walked in, walked in front of Kevin, pulled out her hands in her trouser pockets, and helped Kevin tidy up his clothes.

"You, it's better to wear men's clothing. You're handsome, you have a good figure, like a male model, you look handsome in any clothes."

Kevin caught her hands helping her straighten his clothes, his black eyes locked her beautiful features, and said in a low voice, "Do you want to take a picture? I can change into women's clothes again, put on a wig, put on high heels, and take pictures of you. You can take as many pictures as you want."

Hayden: "Let's forget it. Although you have a handsome face, it's really not like you are pretending to be a woman."

Hayden withdrew her hand, and patted Kevin's flat chest wantonly, teasing: "It doesn't look like this at all."

Kevin: "..."

He thought about dressing up a little more, but finally gave up.

Well, even though he was extremely thick-skinned, he still felt a little ashamed.

Hayden bent down, picked up the wig he put there from the bed, looked at it for a while, and then put it on her head.

Picking up the long skirt again, under Kevin's surprised eyes, she walked into the bathroom as if nothing had happened.

Soon, she came out of it.

She just took off her suit and put on a long skirt.

She didn't take off those fake abs.

That's it, Kevin also looked straight at it.

He knew she was beautiful, he knew how handsome she was as a man.

There were more women who admired her than his elder brother.

Seeing that Kevin looked dumbfounded, Hayden's pretty face flushed slightly. This was her first time wearing women's clothing, and even her parents had never seen her wearing women's clothing.

She didn't know what to think, but on impulse just now, she picked up the wig and put it on, as well as the long skirt she had just replaced.

Kevin was a little stronger than her. She was wearing a long skirt suitable for him, which looked a little loose, so she had to tie the straps on both sides of the skirt a little tighter.

He usually saw that he was as tall as her, but when he really wore clothes that suited him, the hem of the skirt looked a little longer. If he chose a long skirt that just reached his heels, she might drag the floor when he put it on.

He was still taller than her.