

Read Novel Married At First Sight Chapter 2334

Married at First Sight Chapter 2334-Sam came back to his senses, and quickly responded: “Madam, I’ll arrange a vehicle now.”

“Go, go, I won’t come back for dinner today, come back tomorrow, and tell him when your young master comes back.”

Grandma May told Sam.

Sam: “Madam, I remember.”

Grandma May liked to go here and there.

Sam was also used to this.

Grandma May was going back to her own home, so she didn’t need to clean up. She picked up her mobile phone and walked out of the house.

Sam had already arranged the vehicle.

Grandma May wanted to drive back by herself, but Sam strongly disagreed.

Even if Grandma May was in good health, she was an old woman after all, and if something happened on the way, Sam couldn’t bear the responsibility.

Besides, Grandma May liked racing cars.

Whether it was the young master or the gentlemen and wives, they had all told them that Grandma May couldn’t be allowed to drive on the road at any time.

“All right, all right, I’m anxious to go back, I won’t argue with you anymore, I won’t drive.” Grandma May couldn’t hold back Sam, so she had to compromise.

On the issue of her safety, these people were also very stubborn, and they were all ordered by that boy, Zachery, so that Grandma May had no chance to touch the steering wheel.

Sam arranged for the most stable driver to act as Grandma May’s special car driver and take Grandma May back to Wildridge Manor.

Julian didn't know that Grandma May drove back to Wildridge Manor deliberately in order to see Kiera.

He also got up early that day, and then arranged for two of his subordinates to drive to Wiltspoon Hotel with him.

Kiera and the twelve children remembered that they went to visit Wildridge Manor today. They were so happy that they didn't sleep well all night, and they got up before dawn.

Oh, it's Kiera's joy.

The children didn't know where the Wildridge Manor was.

The teacher said to take them out to play today, so they followed the teacher.

"For a while, everyone should be quiet and don't run around."

Kiera remembered what Julian said. Julian asked Young Master York to let him take them to visit the Manor in order to repay her, but he could not disturb the members of the York family.

She heard that Wildridge Manor was very beautiful.

It was more beautiful than those scenic spots in Wiltspoon.

The main reason was that she had been to Wildridge Manor, and after returning home, she could chat with her brothers and sisters for a while.

She had been to the York family mansion!

"Teacher, we remember."

Although the twelve children were naughty, they were also sensible.

"Let's go to have breakfast first, and then set off after breakfast. Uncle Bucham is waiting for us downstairs."

After Kiera explained to the students, he checked the number of people and made sure that no one was missing, so she took the children downstairs.

Julian waited on the first floor.

Hearing the children's noise, Julian got up and walked over.

Today, he was wearing a white suit. He was naturally handsome, wearing a white suit, just like a prince charming who came out of a fairy tale.

From the moment he walked into the Wiltspoon Hotel, he had attracted the attention of many women.

"Miss Caron."

Julian walked up to Kiera with a smile.

"Mr. Bucham, I kept you waiting."

Kiera stopped, feeling a little embarrassed.

Julian arrived early.

Kiera wanted to wait for the children and kept Julian waiting for a long time.

Julian smiled and said, "It's okay, I didn't wait long. Good morning, children."

"Uncle Bucham, good morning."

The children greeted Julian happily when they saw the good-looking Uncle Bucham.

Last night, they all secretly opened the gift that Uncle Bucham gave them, they really liked it!