

Read Married at First Sight Chapter 2563

Married at First Sight Chapter 2563-“Camryn, please give me some time. I’ll call my mother right away.”

Callum kissed Camryn on the face and then quickly called Rosella.

It took a while for Rosella to answer Callum’s call.

“Mom, are you free?”

Rosella asked, “I just got up. I have nothing to do today. What’s the matter? Do you need mom’s help?”

When Callum grew up, he rarely needed help from his parents for anything.

Rosella felt as though her children were not in need of her.

Callum said, “Camryn and I plan to go to the Civil Affairs Bureau to get our marriage certificate before noon. I don’t have my household registration book with me. Can you or my dad bring the household registration book to me now? Or I can ask someone to send it to me. I’m thinking going back and forth will delay the formalities until the afternoon, and I don’t want to delay it until the afternoon.”

If he hadn’t brought his household registration book, Callum would have wanted to take Camryn to the Civil Affairs Bureau to go through the marriage procedures right now.

After he truly fell in love with Camryn, he looked forward to getting married.

It’s just that Camryn couldn’t see yet at that time. Facing the excellent him, she felt a little inferior. She hesitated and even thought about accepting his feelings for a long time before she dared to accept him.

The reason she was able to get engaged was because he went to FC Manor several times just to ask Dr. Carden to treat her eyes. After she found out, she mustered up the courage to spend the rest of her life with him, so she got engaged first.

She always hoped to actually see him before getting married.

She said she wanted to know what the man she married looked like.

Listening to what Callum said to her future mother-in-law, Camryn's face turned red again.

He was so impatient...

As soon as Rosella heard that it was such a good thing, she immediately became energetic and said with a smile, "I'm free. I will send it to you right away. Are you in the Newman family or the company now?"

Callum: "I'm at Newman's house. I didn't go back to the company in the morning."

Rosella: "Okay, I will send it to you now. Do you need the diamond ring?"

Callum said, "Yes, mom, you were so considerate. I was so happy that I forgot about the diamond ring. I had already ordered an eternity diamond ring and put it in the safe in my room, and I changed the password of the safe to Camryn's birthday."

Rosella: "Okay, let's not talk about it for now. I'm going to get the household registration book and the diamond ring. I will send them directly to the Civil Affairs Bureau. You can just wait for me at the door of the Civil Affairs Bureau."

Rosella felt that the distance from home to the Newman family villa was longer. It would be closer to go directly to the Civil Affairs Bureau, so she asked Callum to take Camryn to wait at the door of the Civil Affairs Bureau.

"Okay." Callum had no objection.

After the mother and son ended the call, Callum turned his head and looked at Camryn. His eyes were so gentle that he could shed tears, and his words were particularly gentle. He said, "Camryn, I asked my mother to bring me the household registration book, and she sent it directly to the door of the Civil Affairs Bureau. We will go to the Civil Affairs Bureau later and wait for my mother there."

Camryn nodded and responded, "Just make your arrangements, and I will listen to you."

Callum hugged her and said softly, "Today, you listen to me, and after today, I will listen to you. In our little family, you have the final say. There is something else that needs to be done for you."

"What is it?"

Camryn raised her head and looked at him curiously, guessing what it was that she had to work hard for.

Callum said, "After receiving the certificate, we are husband and wife. There must be someone in charge of the house. You are in charge, and you have the final say. I will hand over the financial power. From now on, my income and property under my name will be handed over to you. What do you want? You can spend whatever you want; you don't have to help me save money."

Camryn: "This is really sweet and a bit of hard work."

"Let's talk about it in a few years. I am also busy now. Carrie also wants to file a lawsuit with me to divide the family property. Although I am not afraid of her, it still takes me some time to deal with her, and she will be messy."

It took a few years of marriage to get familiar with everything.

Callum smiled and said, "Okay, then the economic power will be handed over to you. You don't need to take care of the management of the small companies under my name. You just need to manage the money."

"Okay, I will help you manage the money."

Married at First Sight Chapter 2564-Camryn made no excuses.

She just managed his bank card for him and wouldn't restrict him from spending money, and she didn't have to spend his money.

Callum kissed her on the face, then looked at her and smiled.

The more he watched her, the more he liked her.

Camryn: "Why are you always looking at me laughing?"

"Happy, Camryn; I'm so happy. I can't help but want to laugh." As Callum said that, he laughed again.

He amused Camryn.

After the two of them flirted with each other for a while, they looked at the time and estimated that their mother would be arriving soon. Callum said to his fiancée, “Camryn, my mother should be arriving soon. Let’s go too. When we get to the Civil Affairs Bureau, my mother will arrive soon.”

Callum also wanted to go to the flower shop to buy a bouquet of roses.

Camryn suddenly proposed to get a marriage certificate. Callum was not ready, but it was too late to make up for it now.

Flowers, diamond rings, nothing less.

This was the woman he would cherish for the rest of his life, so he couldn’t wrong her.

“Okay.”

When Camryn stood up and stretched out her hand to him, she safely put her hand into his big palm and let him pull her up.

The two people walked out holding hands.

It’s hoped that she and Callum could grow old together and be in love with each other for the rest of their lives, just like the parents-in-law. Their decades-long marriage was as sweet as first love, which was really enviable for younger generations like them.

Camryn did not go out in her car but chose to sit in the same car with Callum, and Callum drove.

She didn’t have a driver’s license because she lost her sight when she was 16 and couldn’t get a driver’s license.

The driver at home was a bodyguard assigned to her by Callum, who could not only protect her but also act as her driver.

Twenty minutes later,

At the entrance of the Civil Affairs Bureau.

Rosella arrived at the door of the Civil Affairs Bureau two minutes earlier than Callum.

Seeing Callum's car coming, Rosella got out of the car with a smile.

Callum's father, Matthias, also came over. When Rosella got off the car, he also got off the car.

Callum slowly stopped the car.

Camryn's eyesight wasn't that good yet. She didn't see clearly until her parents-in-law came closer. They came to give Callum the household registration book.

She suddenly felt a little embarrassed.

Because she suddenly proposed to get the marriage certificate first, Callum was not prepared in advance and needed his parents to give him a household registration book.

Camryn got out of the car with a bouquet in her arms. Callum got out of the car and bought her a large bouquet of roses when she passed the flower shop.

It was beautiful, bright, and eye-catching.

She had always liked flowers and plants, so she opened a flower shop.

"Dad, Mom, I'm sorry; it was my impromptu decision that made you tired to make a trip."

Camryn apologized to her parents-in-law as soon as she got out of the car.

Rosella smiled and took her hand. "Camryn, you made this last-minute idea, but our family has been looking forward to it. How can I blame you? We are very happy. Mom is happy to make this trip for you."

Married at First Sight Chapter 2565-Matthias also smiled and said, "Yes, this is a good thing. We are very happy. Callum, take Camryn in to complete the formalities, as it is getting late. When it's time to leave work, the staff still waits for you."

At the urging of his parents, Callum took Camryn's hand, took the household registration book handed over by his mother and the diamond ring he had ordered long ago, and entered the civil affairs office with Camryn.

Rosella and Matthias did not leave but waited outside for the two people to come out.

Matthias tilted his head and said to Rosella, "This reminds me of thirty-two years ago, when we came here to get the certificate. It seems like it happened yesterday. In the blink of an eye, our eldest son also walked in here. Time passed. It goes so fast, and we are getting old too."

Matthias took Rosella's hand and said, "I told you, I will grow old with you."

Rosella also said emotionally, "Yes, time flies so fast. I always feel that I am only eighteen years old, but my son is already thirty, and we are really old. It's hard not to recognize our age."

Matthias: "You are not old at all. In my eyes, you're eighteen years old."

Rosella was very well maintained. Standing next to Callum, others would think they were siblings.

Although Matthias took good care of himself because he used to help take care of the family business, he was very busy at work and had many things to worry about, and his manes already had gray hair.

After retiring, he dyed his hair black at his wife's repeated request.

Even so, when he and his wife stood together, it still seemed that he was ten years older than her. In fact, they were only one year apart.

Matthias' praise made Rosella smile. She said, "I also want to be eighteen years old, but unfortunately I can't. No matter how well I take care of myself, I will still grow old."

Matthias: "I will grow old with you; don't be afraid."

Rosella smiled and said, "I'm not afraid. As long as you are by my side, I won't be afraid if the sky falls."

Matthias said this to Rosella when she married him.

Decades later, the words Matthias said were still echoing in her ears, and he meant what he said.

Today their eldest son got married, and they hoped the young couple could be as happy as they were for the rest of their lives.

Callum and Camryn received their marriage certificates and walked out of the Civil Affairs Bureau to see the warm scene of their parents cuddling with each other.

The young couple stopped involuntarily and looked at the old couple, who had been in love for more than thirty years.

Callum: “Camryn, we will be like my parents, growing old together and loving each other as before.”

Camryn nodded with a smile. “I envy the love and marriage of your parents the most. They have also set a good example for us. Let’s study hard.”

Facing her newly minted husband, she smiled, stretched out her right hand towards Callum, and said with a smile, “Callum, please give me guidance for the rest of your life.”

Callum said, “I also ask for your guidance for the rest of your life.”

Callum shook hands with her, hugged her into his arms, and looked down at her red lips.

After a kiss, the couple rested their foreheads against each other, with each other’s eyes full of affection.

After a moment, Callum walked out with her fingers clasped tightly and walked towards her parents.

“Dad, Mom.”

Callum called his parents.

Camryn also called her parents.

Rosella smiled brightly. She responded to her son and daughter-in-law, then took out two big red envelopes from her bag and handed them to her son and daughter-in-law, respectively. She said with a smile, “This is a red envelope from mom to you two. I wish you a happy receipt of the certificates. Happy wedding.”

Matthias also gave two big red envelopes.

There was a bank card inside. Camryn didn't know how much money was in the bank card.

She took the red envelope from her parents-in-law and thanked them.

Married at First Sight Chapter 2566-Rosella said: “Let's go to dinner. I called the Wiltspoon Hotel and booked a private room. Let's go there to eat and celebrate. I also invited everyone to the hotel for dinner. Grandma knows that you two got married today. I'm very happy to get the certificate.

Camryn, I just called your aunt Azalea (Evelyn) and told her about you and Callum getting the marriage certificate. Please ask your aunt to come over so that you and Callum can talk about the wedding.

There are still a few months before the New Year, so we should try to have the wedding before the end of the year.”

Rosella was so quick.

As soon as the two little ones here received their certificates, she made an appointment with Azalea (Evelyn) over there to discuss the wedding of the young couple.

Although Camryn's stepfather and biological mother were still there, they were in prison, and Camryn hated them and would not discuss the wedding with them. Therefore, Rosella invited Azalea to come over.

However, Mrs. Newman was Camryn's biological mother after all. Rosella still asked her daughter-in-law for her wishes: “Camryn, where is your mother? Do you want to tell her?”

Camryn may not be able to get blessings from Mrs. Newman, but let her know.

After Camryn thought for a while, she said, “I'll go with Callum to see her and tell her that my parents can talk to my little aunt Azalea about everything about Callum and my wedding. Even though the Newman family is big, only my little aunt Azalea is good to me.”

Camryn also had a younger brother, but he was still young and did not understand this.

“Okay.”

Rosella smiled. “Your little aunt is also very happy to know that you have received your marriage certificate. She said she would come over in the afternoon.”

After Camryn and Callum got engaged, the York family supported her. Her eyes were also getting better, and Azalea was relieved to leave her poor and lucky niece to Callum to take care of her.

Azalea also had a lot of things going on at home, so she didn’t go back to her parents’ house often. But she often talks to Camryn and her sister on the phone.

In Camryn’s heart, Azalea had long since taken her mother’s place.

The maternal love she couldn’t get from her biological mother. She felt the care like maternal love from her little aunt, Azalea.

Rosella asked, “When are you and Callum going to visit the prison?”

“In the afternoon. When she comes back after seeing her, my little aunt is here too.”

Rosella nodded. “Let’s go eat first so we don’t get hungry.”

As Rosella said that, she reached for her son, but when she saw that his hand was on her daughter-in-law’s hand, she pulled her hand back, stopped, and said to him with a smile, “Today, you two just received the marriage certificate. Mom won’t compete with you for Camryn.”

Callum laughed. Then he said to his newlywed wife, “Honey, I’m feeling a bit anxious. I have the feeling that my mother will take you away at any moment. Dad, you need to support your wife and assist your son. Keep your wife from constantly glancing at my wife.”

“Callum.” Camryn blushed and patted his arm.

The whole family laughed.

They left the Civil Affairs Bureau with a smile and went to the Wiltspoon Hotel for dinner.

Before Callum drove, he took photos of two marriage certificates and sent them to Moments to officially announce his marriage.

He was Camryn's husband as of today, and Camryn was his wife.

Camryn also openly posted the news of his marriage in his circle of friends.

It quickly received a ton of likes.

Married at First Sight Chapter 2567-Kevin, who was far away in Jensburg, also saw the moments posted by his second brother, Callum, and saw that his second brother and second sister-in-law received their marriage certificates. He was so envious.

He couldn't sit still and immediately walked out of his office in the hotel, left the hotel, and drove to the Queen Enterprise.

At this time, Hayden had just finished negotiating a business deal.

She stood up, stretched out her hand to shake the other person's hand, and said gently, "Mr. Johnston, it's a pleasure to work with you."

Mr. Johnston smiled and said, "It's a pleasure to work with you."

Hayden said politely, "It's dinner time, Mr. Johnston; I treat you to a meal."

"Thank you, Mr. Queen. I am coming here this time. My schedule is very tight, and I really can't spare the time. I have to catch a flight, so dinner can only be done on the plane. Next time, next time I come over, I will treat you to dinner."

Hayden said understandingly, "Mr. Johnston, when you come over, it must be me who invites you to dinner. How can you invite me? Then next time you come over, you must give me a chance to treat you to dinner."

"Definitely." Mr. Johnston responded with a smile.

Hayden glanced at Hugh.

Hugh understood and got up to get the Jensburg specialties that she had prepared for Mr. Johnston.

“Mr. Johnston, this is some Jensburg specialty we prepared for you. It’s not something expensive; it’s our Jensburg specialty for you to try.”

Mr. Johnston declined politely and finally took it with a smile. After receiving the gift, he said, “Mr. Queen, you’re too polite.”

Although it was difficult to win the order from Queen Enterprise when discussing business with Hayden, it was hard to find fault with Hayden’s way of dealing with people. Even though she was a serious and cold person.

It’s just that such a good young talent was actually gay.

It really disappointed many bosses who wanted to marry the Queen family.

If Hayden was not gay, they would all want to lead a red line between their daughter and Hayden.

Hayden, Hugh, and several senior executives escorted Mr. Johnston and his people out of the president’s office and directly to the office building. They watched Mr. Johnston and his entourage get into the pre-arranged vehicle and head to Jensburg’s international airport.

Mr. Johnston was indeed in a hurry and had no time to go to the Greenrest Hotel for dinner.

The vehicle in which Mr. Johnston was sitting met Kevin’s Maybach at the gate of Queen Enterprise.

Mr. Johnston didn’t recognize Kevin’s car, nor did he know Kevin. He had only heard of the third young master of the York family. It was only after the scandal about Kevin and Hayden’s homosexuality spread that Mr. Johnston paid attention to Kevin.

It could be said that Kevin was famous for his first love.

Many people who usually didn’t pay enough attention to him started to pay attention to him because he pursued the president of Queen Enterprise.

Kevin’s car moved out of the way of Mr. Johnston’s car, and after Mr. Johnston’s car drove out, he drove into Queen Enterprise.

Mr. Johnston also turned around and looked. "Whose car is that?"

Since Mr. Johnston came from out of town, the car he was riding in was invited. The driver was from Jensburg. After hearing Mr. Johnston's words, the driver started driving the car. He replied, "That's the car of the third young master of the York family. Now everyone in Jensburg knows that the third young master of York and the young master of Queen often use the same car; both are Maybachs. The license plate number is different only in the last digit, which is recognized."

Married at First Sight Chapter 2568-Mr. Johnston suddenly realized and said, "It turns out to be the car of Mr. York. He really goes to the Queen Enterprise to pester Mr. Queen every day. I thought it was a rumor."

The driver said, "This is not a rumor; it is a fact. Young Master Queen is the youngest and most outstanding president of a large company in Jensburg. His handsome appearance has attracted many girls. He is the dream man for young women in Jensburg.

I didn't expect that Young Master Queen, whom so many girls couldn't catch up with, was actually pursued by a man.

However, from their appearance, Young Master York and Young Master Queen are really a good match. If one of them is a woman, that's a match made in heaven. It's a pity that they are two grown men."

The love between the two people slapped many girls in the face.

The daughters of famous families in Jensburg hated Kevin so much that they actually lost to this man!

"Have they confirmed their relationship?" Mr. Johnston was gossiping. "I heard that Young Master York is still pursuing Young Master Queen. Is it wishful thinking of Young Master York? In fact, Young Master Queen is always a normal man, and Young Master York is the one who is abnormal?"

The driver replied, "I don't care about this. I'm just a driver, and I know what everyone in Jensburg knows. Who knows what's really going on? Young Master Queen is indifferent. Although he has contacts with many bosses, he has no real close friends."

Mr. Johnston: "Really. No one can know his inner thoughts, but I heard that Young Master Queen is becoming more and more tolerant towards Young Master York, and Young Master York even wore women's clothes and pretended to be a woman for Young Master Queen. Young Master Queen should like women; otherwise, Young Master York wouldn't wear women's clothes and pretend to be a woman for him."

Kevin swaggered around the market in women's clothes and even went to the Queen Enterprise. There were many people there, and it was impossible for everyone to keep it a secret for him. If someone said it, it would spread to ten, and it would soon spread throughout Jensburg.

Mr. Johnston added, "I heard that the York family in Wiltspoon has always had a very good family tradition. The young Master York is so crooked that the elders of the family don't even care. It's a good thing that the elders are open-minded, but this is too much.

As long as the elders take care of it, Young Master York will not be so presumptuous. He is a good-grown man, but he is gay. If I were his son, I could be mad at him."

Mr. Johnston's subordinates also echoed his words.

Even the driver shared their opinion.

Homos*xuality was difficult for many people to accept.

Kevin didn't know that just walking by him like this would attract comments from strangers.

But he didn't care.

There was also a sense of superiority that made him sober when everyone else was drunk.

When he first started pursuing Hayden, it was still rough and turbulent. As time passed, everyone had become accustomed to his and Hayden's affairs.

Anyway, no matter what others say, he just knew that he was a normal man.

Hayden saw Kevin's vehicle driving into her company, so she stopped and said to everyone, "It's time to get off work. You guys should go have a meal too."

Kevin's Maybach drove straight to the door of the office building and stopped. As soon as they saw each other, they knew what was going on, and they dispersed. Only Hugh stayed with his sister and saw Kevin getting out of the car holding a large bouquet of flowers.

Hugh said, "Sister, every time I see him, he buys you a big bouquet of roses. It feels so romantic."

Hayden glanced at Hugh and said coldly, "This kind of romance is for you to enjoy. "Okay."

Hugh laughed lowly. "I told Kevin to let him pursue me. I don't mind having a gay relationship with him, but he doesn't look down on me. What can I do?"