Cannon wasn't in the same state as Fuller. Instead of making plans, he had fun everywhere he could in Salem. Dealing with Liam wasn't exactly on his list of priorities.

Unfortunately, Fuller was powerless and couldn't do anything.

Before he came back to Salem, he learned that Cannon had annoyed the leader of Black Spider, Rennes, and as a punishment, he had been driven out of the home to have fun in Salem. Rennes even assigned two strong bodyguards to keep him safe.

Cannon wasn't in the same state as Fuller.

Instead of making plans, he had fun everywhere he could in Salem. Dealing with Liam wasn't exactly on his list of priorities.

Unfortunately, Fuller was powerless and couldn't do anything.

Before he came back to Salem, he learned that Cannon had annoyed the leader of Black Spider, Rennes, and as a punishment, he had been driven out of the home to have fun in Salem. Rennes even assigned two strong bodyguards to keep him safe.

Cannon found Salem boring. It wasn't as interesting and fun as Invone was. And not being familiar with the place made it more boring.

That was until he coincidentally saw Fuller's sister, Emory. Lustful thoughts instantly filled his mind. He had to have her.

Meanwhile, Emory seemed to have lost her mind since Tyler died. She left herself trapped in hatred and secluded herself all day long. The only time she spoke, was to ask Fuller if he had already taken revenge on Liam.

Without any reserves, Cannon went straight to Fuller and said plainly, "Your sister is beautiful. I'd like to play with her."

Fuller was horrified by the man's direct nature. He would have acted on his anger, but Cannon's high social status held him back.

So, he tried to dissuade him gently. "I would have happily offered her to you, but I have to be honest with you. You see, my sister has a hypoplastic vagina. It'll be useless doing that with her. You'll only be disappointed and angry afterwards."

To his surprise, Cannon shook his head and laughed. "It doesn't matter. I really don't mind."

Fuller was keenly aware of Cannon's mental disorder. He decided to offer him something else that would be more intriguing.

He chuckled lightly and smiled viciously. "Oh come on, I can't let you play with a woman like that. I know a place where you can find many beautiful women. Just say the word and I'll take you there right now."

Cannon's face lit up. "What are you waiting for? Take me there now."

Fuller smiled flatteringly, when he was in fact sneering in his heart.

Fuller was certain that his new plan was going to work.

He led Cannon and his men to the Acosta family.

The unprepared Acosta family were caught off guard as they found themselves surrounded by a group of people.

Fuller and Cannon walked straight into the living room of the house.

Fuller sneered intimidatingly at the leader of the Acosta family. "Milford, I asked in a friendly way but you refused to listen. You refused to deal with Liam and the Kingland Group. Well, since my friendly approach wasn't good enough, I'm going to change my way. I'll give you another chance. Change your mind and cooperate with me now."

Milford Acosta stood his ground, his chin jutting forward stubbornly as he said, "In your dreams. The Acosta family will rather die than cooperate with a scumbag like you!"

Fuller's face hardened. He didn't think Milford would be so adamant. Since he couldn't get Milford to change his mind, he would use the Acosta family to help change the minds of the other families.

Fuller's eyes were stark cold as he stared at Milford. "In that case, get ready to die!"

Fuller's men lunged forward and attacked the guards of the Acosta family. The living room soon became a chaotic battle field.

Suddenly, a black figure came out from the crowd.

In less than a second, Cannon held hostage Milford's beloved daughter.

With an obscene expression, he stared lustfully at the girl's body, then tore off her clothes, leaving her bare and exposed in front of everyone.

Cannon got an eyeful of her again and laughed obscenely. "She's a beauty. Just perfect!"

The members of the Acosta family flew into a blind rage and rushed to Cannon to save her.

Just before they got to Cannon, two other men emerged from out of nowhere and beheaded all those that were around.

After that, Cannon smiled at Fuller and said, "I'll leave them to you. I have to get to work with my little beauty."

Then, he walked out of the Acosta family's house with the naked girl of the Acosta family.

Fuller smiled smugly. The Acosta family was done for. The remaining members were no match for him.

Within half an hour, the Acosta family was wiped out.

The next day, the news spread very rapidly, shocking the whole of Salem. The Acosta family was destroyed.

When Liam received the news, his face darkened. He didn't expect that Fuller would actually do good on his threat and start by destroying the Acosta family. He couldn't hurt the Kingland Group directly, but he had successfully intimidated other forces in Salem.

Early that morning, representatives of the top ten clans and the forces of Salem waited in front of the Kingland Group to cancel their contracts.

Chapter 575 Terminating Contracts

Although the Kingland Group had grown significantly lately, losing contracts would still be a huge blow to them.

It wasn't that big of a deal, but it involved losing a lot of money.

To stop this from happening, Liam convoked the companies that wanted to cancel their contracts with the Kingland Group. All the representatives of these companies sat in the CEO's office of the Kingland Group.

Liam met with them and promised them safety.

But at the end of the meeting, all the representatives present seemed to still feel scared.

The bloody end of the Acosta family was used to set an example. No one dared to take the risk now.

Even if Liam offered his personal protection, it didn't seem to be enough.
They all stood on their decisions to terminate their contracts with the Kingland Group.

Certainly, their cooperation with the Kingland Group had brought them a lot of money, but the money would be useless if they were killed.

Liam politely saw all the representatives to the door before letting his anger show on his face.

Of course, Fuller was much more intelligent than Clarence. In any case, his stunt still wasn't enough to frighten Liam.
He knew that Fuller would end up the same way his son did.

Liam was certain of this. It was only a matter of time.

In the evening, at Pearl Company.

Liam entered the company and found Yesenia cleaning. He was stunned by the sight.

Recently, she had shown great care and had been polite to both Julie and Ulises.

He wondered if Yesenia was doing this because she truly felt remorse, or if she was just pretending.

Of course, Liam believed the latter was more possible. With these thoughts in mind, his attitude towards Yesenia didn't change much.

After dinner, Julie looked at the preoccupied look on Liam's face and couldn't help asking, "You don't look so good. Is something wrong?"

Liam nodded and explained, "Yesterday, Fuller destroyed the Acosta family that worked with the Kingland Group. After the news spread, a large number of our partners decided to terminate their contracts with us. There are still others demanding to do same."

Julie was shocked. "Fuller is cruel. But I can say I understand the fear of these other partners. We just have to settle this issue and they'll come running back."

Yesenia who had been listening in quickly jumped into the conversation with a cunning look on her face. "If you ask me, you can't count on all these outsiders. After the Kingland Group helped boost their businesses, they still dare to terminate their contracts whenever they want. The only people you can really count on, are the members of your own family. Luckily, I have nothing doing. If you're open-minded, I would like to help you out in the Kingland Group. What do you say, my son-in-law?"

Liam frowned. That was a bad idea to him. A terrible one.

However, it seemed that Ulises appreciated Yesenia's new performance.

When the silence dragged on a little, he said, "Well, she has nothing to do. It will be good if she occupies herself doing something for you."

Liam stayed silent for a long time, thinking about it. He was only considering it because he had some respect for his father-in-law, Ulises. Also, the man treated Julie very well.

Since he had spoken up for her, Liam gave Yesenia the benefit of the doubt.

"In that case, I have a position for you. Since the death of the person in charge of the warehouse, we haven't found anyone else to do the job yet. You can take up his position and you can start as soon as tomorrow. Don't let me down."

Obviously, Yesenia wasn't satisfied with this position. She looked down on it.

Perhaps the person in charge of the warehouse was also a manager, but it only made her a preliminary manager. It was a post that wouldn't get her any closer to the seat of power. It didn't deserve any gratitude.

Yesenia curled her lips and seethed inwardly. She didn't want this, but she didn't exactly have anyone to rely on now. Although it was a meagre position, it was still very beneficial to her.

Chapter 576 Julie's Parents Were Kidnapped

The next day, Ulises personally drove Yesenia to work. After all, he was the only one she was in good terms with.

Seeing the efforts that Yesenia made by accepting this post, Ulises chatted more freely with her.

After half an hour's drive, the car stopped in front of the warehouse.

Ulises got out of the car after Yesenia. Before she left him and went in, he said, "It wasn't easy for Liam to give you this chance, so don't take it lightly and don't mess it up. If you do great work, everyone will see it."

Yesenia nodded and said impatiently, "Understood. Now go back."

Suddenly, Ulises' expression grew dark and fearful. "Be careful!" he exclaimed.

Yesenia turned around and saw a stick coming at her. It knocked her out before she could comprehend what was going on.

It was only then that Ulises noticed the five brawny men who seemed to have surrounded them as soon as Ulises parked the car. If only he had figured that something was off earlier.

"Who are..."

He didn't get to finish his question.

Someone sneaked behind him with a stick and knocked him out.

Then, the men put Ulises and Yesenia into sacks and threw them into a minibus before driving away quickly.

In Kingland Group.

Liam called Riel to discuss the plan they were going to use to deal with Fuller and his accomplices. "Since they have already thrown the first punch, we have to get into the ring. First, you need to find out their position and their number. We need to assess their strength."

Riel laughed and answered excitedly, "I can do that. You know, life here in Salem is much happier and more active than in Invone where I lived like a security guard everyday."

These words made Liam think of the Hoffman family in Invone being attacked.

After a pause, he asked into the phone, "How's the situation in Invone?"

Riel took a moment before answering, "Invone is currently under the control of the four major clans. Among them, the Padilla family and the Ramirez family are neutral. The only family that is still hostile to the Hoffman family is the Sandoval family. The other large and small clans are all under the control of the four clans. They've created a good balance. Before I came to Salem, I was in charge of intelligence work, keeping watch on a stronghold of the Sandoval family."

Liam nodded and thought about what Riel said. He only asked Riel the question because it was becoming increasingly suspicious how more and more forces of Invone were getting involved in the current fight in Salem. It would be good to have more information about what was going on there.

"Okay then. You can go now. Find out Fuller's hideout and find the perfect opportunity to take Fuller down before he does something again."

Riel nodded and went to work. He seemed to be very efficient as he called Liam back in two hours.

"I found him."

Liam was going to appreciate his work, but then paused when he realized that Riel didn't sound very at ease.

"What happened?" Liam asked tentatively, anticipating the worst.

Riel took a deep breath and answered, "My people also told me that Miss Fiber's parents have been kidnapped."

What?

Liam felt like he had been struck by lightning in that instant.

"Make sure they are not hurt. Send me the location. I'll be there as soon as I can."

Liam hung up and threw his coat on him. Julie barged into the office and stared at him with a pale face, panic written all over it. Oh no! She must have overheard his conversation with Riel.

"Don't worry. I'm heading there now. They'll be fine, I promise," Liam said soothingly.

Julie shook her head fervently. "I'm going with you!"

That was a risk Liam didn't want to take, but Julie wasn't taking no for an answer, so he gave in and took her along.

They went into the car and Liam drove his Porsche at full speed towards the location Riel sent to him.
