

An Understated Dominance By Marina Vittori

Chapter 1866

"Wait a minute!"

Seeing Dustin Kate was about to leave, Lorenzo finally couldn't help it anymore: "General Dustin, we can talk slowly if we have something to say, why are we so impulsive?" "

What else is there to talk about? Even the most basic you don't even trust me, you are clearly disrespecting me!" Dustin Kate deliberately looked angry.

"General Dustin, please be patient. It's not that the Pavilion Master has missed you, but that he doesn't have time right now. If possible, please wait a moment while I go ask the Pavilion Master for instructions and see how he arranges it." Nian squeezed out a smile.

"If you want to ask, hurry up. I don't have that much time to wait." Dustin Kate put his hands behind his back and raised his arrogance very high.

"Yes, yes, General Dustin, sit down first. I'll ask right away."

After a few words of comfort, Lorenzo walked aside, took out his cell phone, and started talking to someone.

After chatting for about two minutes, Lorenzo nodded and then made a gesture. A group of subordinates in the restaurant immediately dispersed and began to check the surrounding situation.

After a while, everyone returned and found nothing.

After Lorenzo chatted with Ji Yuanzun in a low voice for a few words, he hung up the phone.

Then he forced out a smile, walked up to Dustin Kate, and said: "General Dustin, I have just asked the Pavilion Master for instructions. He is almost busy with the affairs there and still needs some finishing work. If you can't wait, we can You can talk somewhere else.”

”Change place? Where?” Dustin Kate raised his eyebrows slightly.

”Of course it is the secret base of our Dragon Protection Pavilion in West Lucozia.”

Lorenzo said with a smile: “To be honest, only senior internal personnel are qualified to know about our secret base. This time, the Pavilion Master invites you to go. It's also to show full sincerity, what do you think?”

Hearing this, Dustin Kate touched his chin and seemed a little hesitant.

He didn't know what Ji Yuanzun had in mind, but he was sure that the other party was not a good person.

If he entered the secret base of Dragon Protection Pavilion, he would not be able to escape if anything happened.

The problem is that this is the only chance to meet Ji Yuanzun. Once he gives up, it will be difficult for the palace to explain.

”Why, does General Dustin have any doubts?”

Lorenzo said with a smile: “You just said that you asked us to show sincerity and trust, and we all followed your words. Now, it depends on your sincerity, General Lu. “

Okay, since we want to cooperate, let's go with you!”

After thinking for a while, Dustin Kate finally agreed.

He has no other choice now but to adapt to circumstances and take the risk.

”General Dustin, please come this way.”

Lorenzo used one hand to guide Dustin Kate into the car.

With the roar of the accelerator, the vehicle quickly drove away.

At this moment, a few hundred meters away from the restaurant.

Two spies were observing all Dustin Kate's movements through night vision binoculars.

When he saw Dustin Kate being taken away, one of the spies immediately pressed the headset: "Your Highness, Dustin Kate was taken away by people from Hulong Pavilion. According to the surveillance, they are going to the secret base of Hulong Pavilion. Please Instructions."

"You continue to follow, be careful not to be exposed." A response came quickly from the headset.

"Yes!" the secret agent responded and immediately began to take action.

At this moment, in a teahouse not far from the restaurant.

Dustin and Thorian Rhys sat quietly, sipping tea and waiting for the opportunity.

In order to prevent being discovered, all the masters in the palace were lurking far away, leaving only a few spies to secretly observe Dustin Kate's movements.

Only when the time is right will we truly take action.

"Brother, has something happened?"

Seeing Dustin's expression changed, Thorian Rhys couldn't help but asked in a low voice.

"Ji Yuanzun, the old fox, did not show up directly, but sent his subordinates to take care of him. If Dustin Kate wants to see Ji Yuanzun, he must go with them to the secret base of Dragon Protection Pavilion." Dustin did not hide it.

He secretly installed a listening device and a tracking device on Dustin Kate, so he could hear all the conversations between the two parties just now.

"Isn't this a good thing? As long as we find the secret base of Dragon Protection Pavilion, we can catch them all!" Thorian Rhys said excitedly.

"It's not that simple."

Dustin shook his head: "Ji Yuanzun is a very thoughtful person. He must be absolutely sure that he can invite Dustin Kate to his hometown. If we act rashly, we may end up stealing the chicken. Eclipse a handful of rice."

Since it is a secret base, the defenses inside must be very tight.

Not to mention that the Dragon Guard Pavilion itself has a lot of experts. If you add hidden weapons, traps, and various defensive measures, it can definitely be called a fortress that is easy to defend but difficult to attack.

With their current manpower, it would be difficult to capture the secret base of the Dragon Protection Pavilion without using the Black Dragon Army.

As for the complete annihilation of the remnants of Dragon Guard Pavilion, it is even more impossible.

And if you want to mobilize the Black Dragon Army on a large scale, it is very easy to alert the enemy.

So what was before him was both a good opportunity and a big problem.

"Brother, what should we do now? Do we want to call in the Black Dragon Army?" Thorian Rhys asked.

"The traitors in Dragon Protection Pavilion are all over West Lucozia. Once we use the army, they will know it soon. They will probably flee before the Black Dragon Army arrives." Dustin shook his head.

"If a forceful attack doesn't work, then we can only carry out a sneak attack. We have many experts in the army. If they are dispatched secretly in the name of exercises without leaking any information, there should be no problem." Thorian Rhys suggested.

"Okay, I'll do as you say. First organize an elite team and wait for the opportunity." Dustin nodded noncommittally.

Large-scale troop mobilization is definitely not possible. Only by secretly gathering troops and horses can it be possible to wipe out the remnants of the Dragon Guard Pavilion in one fell swoop.

"I'll do it right away."

Thorian Rhys responded, got up and left.

"Third uncle, third uncle, whether we can succeed this time depends entirely on you. Don't let me down."

Dustin held the teacup and looked out the window.

The moon is dark tonight and the wind is high, which is very suitable for an ambush. Whether it will succeed or not depends entirely on Dustin Kate's actions.

As long as Ji Yuanzun is poisoned by the God-Destroying Poison, he will have a chance to kill him.

Once Ji Yuanzun dies, the remaining remnants of the Dragon Guard Pavilion will no longer have anything to fear.
