

An Understated Dominance By Marina Vittori

Chapter 1868

This level of defense is really terrifying.

After walking through the city wall, what stood in front of Dustin Kate was a new world.

In terms of scale, the base behind the city wall is equivalent to a town.

Looking around, there are all kinds of buildings.

Camps, training grounds, testing grounds, arsenals, bunkers, military airports, etc. are all arranged neatly.

Among them, there are also many civilian facilities mixed in.

Dustin Kate took a quick glance and judged from the scale and area of the building that this military base could accommodate at least 50,000 to 100,000 people!

Logistics aside, this is still an extremely powerful force.

With so many soldiers and horses, it is possible to capture a city in a short time.

At this moment, even Dustin Kate, who had experienced many storms and waves, couldn't help but feel secretly frightened.

The Dragon Guard Pavilion is hidden too deep and does not show off the mountains or leaks, but it has already accumulated a large number of soldiers and horses.

Moreover, even West Lucozia's spies were not aware of it at all.

He suddenly regretted his choice. If Ji Yuanzun was poisoned in this base, would he still be alive?

Obviously impossible.

"General Dustin, please come this way."

Lorenzo interrupted Dustin Kate's thoughts, and then led the people into the command room in the middle of the military base.

Few people know that a nuclear-proof bunker was built deep underground beneath the command room.

At this moment, in the command room.

Ji Yuanzun, who was wearing a mask, was sitting quietly. The old version of Journey to the West was playing on the TV in front of him.

Ji Yuanzun, on the other hand, watched with gusto and couldn't take his eyes away.

"Dong dong dong..."

At this time, there was a knock on the door.

"Come in."

Ji Yuanzun replied casually.

"Click!"

The door of the command room opened, and Lorenzo and Dustin Kate walked in one after another.

"General Dustin, we meet again."

Ji Yuanzun stood up and shook hands with Dustin Kate warmly: "Come on, please take a seat."

"Master Ji, your place is really hidden. I'm in West Lucozia I have served as General of the Hussars for many years without even noticing it." Dustin Kate sighed.

"General Dustin deserves the award. These are all the handiwork left by the old pavilion master. I just took over."

Ji Yuanzun smiled and followed: "Oh, by the way, I don't know why General Dustin is so anxious to meet?"

"To be honest, I'm here to ask Master Ji for help."

Dustin Kate sighed softly and said regretfully: "Today was supposed to be a great day for me to take office, but a huge change occurred, which led to the failure. Now, I have no choice but to come to you, Master Ji."

"Oh? What happened?" Ji Yuanzun said in a confused tone.

"Rufus Rhys is not dead, he is still alive and well!" Dustin Kate said solemnly.

"What? Not dead? How is that possible?"

Ji Yuanzun said in a surprised tone: "My people clearly gave him a fatal blow, he can't still be alive." "

I saw it with my own eyes, and there is absolutely no lie."

Dustin Kate said He said with a serious face: "Rufus Rhys is a cunning man. After this assassination, he deceived all of us by pretending to be dead. In the end, all our plans failed and all our efforts were in vain."
