

An Understated Dominance By Marina Vittori

Chapter 1909 -

"Your people can't help me, and this is what I promised, so I can't break my promise." Dustin took a sip of tea.

With a treasure like the Sky Eyeball in hand, he has a much higher success rate in searching for the dragon's source of energy.

Anyone else would undoubtedly be looking for a needle in a haystack.

"Okay, I'll let you go find the Dragon Source energy. The question is, what happens after you find it?" Rufus Rhys asked again.

"Let's talk about it after we find it. I haven't thought about it that much yet." Dustin shook his head slightly.

"If you don't think about it, I will think about it for you!"

Rufus Rhys said with a serious face: "After you fulfill your promise, you will come back to inherit the throne honestly. I will take care of everything for you and ensure that you have no worries." "

I said, I don't want to be the king." Dustin refused.

"You are my son. If you don't become king, who will? Is it really possible for Thorian to take on this important task?" Rufus Rhys said angrily.

"Thorian can be both civilized and martial, so why not?" Dustin retorted.

"Thorian is indeed excellent, but he can only be a general, not the Prince of West Lucozia!"

Rufus Rhys said solemnly: "Although we are powerful in West Lucozia, we have constant internal and external troubles. Once I pass away, The forces from all sides are bound to be violent. At that time, there will be wolves in front and tigers behind. How can Thorian resist? Let him inherit the throne, which will harm him!”

“How can you be sure that I can’t stop you?” Dustin asked.

”You have a hard life and great luck. Looking at the whole world, no one is more suitable than you. It’s not just me who thinks so. The man from Stonia also thinks the same. As long as you become the King of West Lucozia, you will be able to be stable.” If there is any trouble in West Lucozia in the future, you can shoulder this heavy burden!” Rufus Rhys said in a sonorous tone.

”After talking for a long time, I’m just your pawn to stabilize the situation?” Dustin frowned slightly.

”Logan, everyone’s destiny is different, and you, from the day you were born, are destined to be extraordinary.”

Rufus Rhys said with a complex expression: “You can do many things and save many people. Every move you make, including one decision, determines the life and death of countless people. I am not asking you to sacrifice yourself for others. I just hope that you will stop escaping. , accept your identity calmly, it is really not easy for West Lucozia to be what it is today. This is the hard work of your mother and I for many years. If possible, I hope you can inherit our legacy.”

“If my mother is still alive, she will not have force me to do something I don’t like.” Dustin said calmly.

”You...”

Rufus Rhys opened his mouth, wanting to say something but not knowing how to speak.

In the end, all his words turned into a long sigh.

At this moment, he seemed to have been drained of energy, and his whole body became haggard.

”You’re right. I was too impatient. I shouldn’t have forced you.”

Rufus Rhys forced a smile and said sadly: “I always thought that you were the perfect heir who could take charge of West Lucozia for me. To lead the Rhys Family to glory and let the people of West Lucozia live and work in peace and contentment, I considered the overall situation, but ignored your feelings.

In fact, when I thought about it, as long as you are safe and happy every day, that is enough.

Whether you are a king or not is not important at all. It's not important.

It was my fault. I shouldn't have imposed my will on you.

So, I will support your decision, no matter what you do. I just hope that if you have time, you can go home often. Take a look."

After hearing this, Dustin was speechless for a moment.

Looking at his father's gray temples and old face, he felt mixed emotions in his heart.

For the first time, he doubted whether his decision was the right one.

He was born in West Lucozia, and has enjoyed prosperity, wealth, and all kinds of extraordinary treatment since he was a child.

Now, is it time to take some responsibility?
