

Chapter 75 She Is So Heartless!

Rena lowered her head and smiled knowingly.

She knew clearly that her relationship with Waylen had an expiration date, but the reality was that Waylen treated her well. And besides, at least their relationship was aboveboard.

Rena didn't say anything, nor did she react to Harold's direct provocation.

Embarrassed, Harold snorted loudly.

He used to think that Rena was soft-hearted, but now he knew just how heartless she could be when she ceased to love him!

How could he have been so stupid? Why didn't he expect this cold treatment?

Back then, he had broken up with Rena over the phone to pursue Cecilia. He thought that she would cry and beg him not to leave her, but her reaction stunned him. Rena had only fallen silent for a moment and then let out a soft, "Okay."

Ever since that fateful phone call, Rena never reached out to him. It was as though their four-year relationship had never existed.

She didn't even bother to take the things she had left in their apartment.

Even though it was he who had broken up with her, she was the one who cut all ties with him!

Sometimes, this put Harold in a trance. Did Rena really love him before? Or was it all a ruse? Otherwise, how could she break things off so easily?

With a darkened expression, Harold suddenly turned around and left.

When he went past the dumpster, he took the key to the apartment from his pocket and threw it into the trash can.

Rena stood at the doorway in a daze.

It was Eloise's voice that pulled her back to reality. "Rena, why are you just standing there?"

Rena quickly adjusted her mood and went back inside.

When Darren had fallen asleep, Rena got up to leave and Eloise walked her out.

Her eyes widened as soon as she saw the cigarette butts littered all over their doorstep.

Eloise immediately guessed what had happened. "That bastard came to you again? Was that him just now? Rena, I hope you don't go back to him! You know how awful Harold is!"

Rena patted on her hand and comforted her gently. "Don't worry. I know, and I have no feelings for him anymore."

Just then, her phone started to ring. It was Waylen calling.

Since Eloise was right next to her, Rena felt embarrassed to answer the phone.

Fortunately, Eloise was a sensible woman. She saw who was calling and considerately went back to the apartment. However, as soon as she closed the door behind her, she couldn't help but sigh and secretly wish that Rena and Waylen could get married someday. Rena had suffered a lot. Although she never told Eloise that she sold the pink diamond necklace, Eloise had noticed that she hadn't worn it for a long time.

It was the only belonging Rena's biological mother had left to her...

Waylen stayed in his office for a few more days.

On Friday, he called Rena to inform her that he'd be coming back for the night. Rena shyly replied, "Okay."

Waylen hadn't seen her in a few days, so he was in the mood to flirt with her.

"You sound happy. Do you miss me? What're you going to do with me when I get home?"

Rena bit her lip and cursed him silently for being so think-skinned.

This man only pretended to be serious on the outside. In reality, he was a cheeky devil!

Refusing to let him tease her, Rena said decisively, "I want to do everything with you!"

Waylen fell into stunned silence.

He didn't expect that Rena would be bold enough to seduce him over the phone! It made him look forward to the following evening even more. Although Rena hinted that she was a virgin, Waylen always thought that she just said that to make him more eager to sleep with her.

He didn't take it seriously—rather, he couldn't take it seriously!

Waylen swallowed and asked in a hoarse voice, "What did you just say to me, you naughty girl?"

Smiling, Rena didn't answer and simply said, "I'll run a bath for you." Then without giving him a chance to respond, she hung up on him.

It suddenly felt hot in the office. Waylen loosened his tie with his slender fingers and took a deep breath.

Without a moment to lose, he immediately turned off his laptop, grabbed his coat, and then walked out. Jazlyn was surprised to see him leave so early. She thought that he'd spend another night at the office.

Even more surprising was the fact that Waylen seemed to be in high spirits.

He signed a hefty check and handed it to Jazlyn, telling her and the other employees to get off work early and eat a big dinner as a reward for their hard work recently.

When he said those words, a faint smile tugged at the corners of his lips.

Jazlyn figured him out immediately. It seemed that her boss was in a hurry to go back home to Rena, which would've explained why he was in such a good mood now. Mr. Fowler seemed to like this girl a lot! Jazlyn was sure of it. After all, in all her years working for him, she had never seen Waylen bring a woman home.
