I am a quadrillionaire chapter 2827-In the end, Cy did not find anything and recommended David to see a doctor.

However, there were no doctors in such a small village because it was a very high-end profession. They could only be found in large villages like Village Pott.

Moreover, the doctors would specialize in serving the dignitaries.

Therefore, ordinary people would not be able to afford to go to one.

David had amnesia and could not remember what happened. Since he did not know where to go, he chose to stay temporarily.

At least he had two acquaintances here.

At the end of the day, the two rescued him from the lake.

Although David did not think he would die if he stayed in the lake, the grandfather and granddaughter did that with good intentions. Hence, they were considered his benefactors.

Even though he had amnesia, David still had a clear distinction between gratitude and grudges.

Since he owed them a favor, he must pay it back.

Cy and his granddaughter took David out of the cellar and prepared some food for him.

David had no appetite at all after he saw the dried fish in front of him.

First of all, he did not feel hungry, and secondly, the dried fish did not look very tasty.

It smelled very fishy, so it was difficult for David to stomach it.

“David, why are you not eating?” Peach asked.

“Uh... Well, I'm not hungry,” David replied.

“I understand, David, are these dried fish not to your liking? A big shot like you usually eats very expensive food, right? But our village only has dried fish now.

Perhaps we won't even have any in a few days,” Peach said sadly.

“No, Peach, you misunderstood. I'm really not hungry,” David quickly explained.

“Really? But David, you have been asleep for more than half a year. How can you not be hungry?”

“I really am not, and I don't know why. By the way, Peach, do you usually eat dried fish too?”

‘Yeah. David, we have been fishing for generations in Village Pescado.

Sometimes, we will also use fish in exchange for other food. However, fish is our staple.”

David nodded.

“I'll try some.”

He grabbed a piece of dried fish and started eating.

Once he forced himself to finish the dried fish, he did not continue eating and started chatting with Peach.

He wanted to know more about this world.

However, Peach also had limited knowledge.

Village Pescado could be regarded as the most secluded and backward place on Planet Gorgon.

Describing it as entirely isolated from the world would be an exaggeration, but it was accurate to say that they had minimal interaction with the outside world.

So, Peach naturally did not know much.

She could only tell David what she heard from her grandfather.

That night, David did not rest. He was trying hard to remember his past.
