

Chapter 735 Devouring Invone

With a piercing gaze, Rohan ordered, "Take Sergio away."

The members of the Dark Night Organization still standing wanted to fight, but the look in Sergio's eyes stopped them.

It was obvious how this would end. There was no need making needless sacrifices.

When Liam arrived at the Ramirez family's house for the second time that day, Rohan' military vehicles were already leaving.

After his face to face battle with Rohan earlier, he knew that he couldn't defeat the man. It was of no use running after him now.

Furious and frustrated, Liam returned to the villa in the suburb.

He had seen how Sergio was thrown into one of Rohan's vehicles, but he was powerless. He consoled himself with the fact that Sergio was safe. If Rohan wanted to hurt him, he would have done that, instead of taking his grandfather along. So, for now, Sergio was safe.

However, the fact remained that Sergio was in the hands of the enemy, and there was no guarantee that he would remain safe. Liam raked his fingers through his hair. He had to find a way to get Sergio out of there.

At least now, Liam knew just how strong Rohan was.

If it only depended on strength, then Liam was confident that he could face the man. But now, Rohan had one extra thing going for him--his armor made of extremely rare metal.

Thanks to his armor, Rohan felt no pain when he was hit. He was literally invincible.

There was no doubt about it. The mysterious doctor had to be behind it. If Rohan could make it possible, Liam believed that he could as well.

With this in mind, he turned to Theo and asked, "Theo, my grandpa gave up so many other solid Dark Night Organization's strongholds and chose this inconspicuous villa for a reason, right? This villa must hold something important."

Sure enough, Theo nodded. "Yes, the most important facility of the Hoffman family is here. That is, the lab for rare ores and rare metal. It's all underground."

Finally, Liam felt some hope. It was just as he had expected. Since they still had resources here, he could lead his own research and come up with something.

"Very well, Theo. Don't do anything for now. All of you should take cover. We'll make plans when I get out of the lab."

Without wasting any time, Liam took out a load of solid food from the fridge and followed Theo who led him to the underground laboratory.

Meanwhile, the destruction of the Ramirez family had caused a big sensation in Invone.

After hundreds of years, the Ramirez family had reached a terrifying level. Now that the Duncan family had defeated them, no other family dared to compete with the Duncan family.

Demetrius and Abbott originally agreed to fight alongside the Duncan family after they were promised a share of the loot. However, after defeating the Ramirez family, Rohan monopolized all its resources and left Demetrius and Abbott dry.

The Duncan family quickly merged their business with the Ramirez family's business. When the Ramirez family's business was launched again, they specialized in the dark industry of pornography, gambling and drugs, trade of arms and slaves.

If this dark market was brought to Invone, it would undoubtedly have a huge impact on the other industries led by the other clans.

The first person to get upset about all this was Abbott of the Sandoval family who was once an ally of the Duncan family.

But of course, that was all he could do. He couldn't express their dissatisfaction.

After witnessing what the Duncan family was capable of, no force in Invone dared to go against them.

Since the defeat of the Ramirez family, the Duncan family hadn't stopped expanding at a rapid rate.

The remaining three major clans of Invone were safe for the time being, while the Duncan family annexed the small forces of the Invone.

In less than ten days, the territory and influence of the Duncan family had spread all over Invone. They had slowly gained control of the whole of Invone.

This was proof that indulging an enemy never brought something positive. If the forces of Invone, had from the beginning united and stood against the Duncan family, then they might still have stood a chance.

But it was too late now. The Duncan family was invincible.
