

The Day I Kissed An Older Man by Cher the Cherished

Chapter 221

Chapter 221: Back to the US

Ann called several times, but to no avail. Since the divorce, her son has completely cut off contacts with the Humphery Family, and it is not too much to say that he is an enemy,

Penn worked in the R & D room day after day, not to mention Ann's phone, as long as it was not business, he would not answer the phone. You put the phone on his work desk for him to answer, and he was not angry, but every time he would stop without saying a word, and then continue to work.

Joa felt that he was like a working machine now, without a soul, or a walking dead at worst, even when he learned that older Mr. Humphery was seriously ill, he didn't even have a spare expression.

Ann called and begged her several times, asking her to persuade him to go back to the US to see the older Mr. Humphery for the last time. But Joa couldn't persuade him, who could persuade a soulless person?

Joa heard some words from Eric Crawford more or less, and knew that he got married and divorced in the years when he returned to the US, but Eric Crawford was reluctant to mention more, and there was a Kelly in the middle, and Joa was not easy to inquire too much.

"Aren't you very busy with work recently, or are you going back to the US?" She could only persuade carefully.

They pretended not to hear her and ignored her at all.

"It seems that older Mr. Humphery is dying, and I'm looking forward to seeing you one last time." Joa continued to speak carefully.

Speaking of which, Penn finally looked up at her, his eyes cold, his tone even colder

"Can you go back for me?"

What was this? Wouldn't it hurt her family even more if she went back for him? From then on, she didn't dare to say anything more.

Things are so deadlocked, Humphery Family a day to urge a phone call, until the scientific research base to an uninvited guest, Nate.

Joa recognized him, was Penn's childhood friend, had called several times before, and was the only one who dared to swear at Penn on the phone. When she saw Nate, Joa was relieved and personally brought people to Penn's work room on the third floor.

Nate was in the dust at this time, sitting on the plane for more than ten hours. He was not only tired but also very irritable, but when he saw Penn, all his tempers were silently restrained and he did not dare to provoke him.

After all, the two of them hadn't seen each other for three years, but Nate hadn't changed much. He was still handsome and did whatever he wanted. As for Penn, apart from losing some weight on his appearance, there hadn't been much change at first glance, but a closer look showed that he didn't care.

When I saw Nate in my almost closed studio, my expression didn't change much. I just ordered

"The computer is testing, don't move."

The tone was as calm as if the two had just met yesterday.

Nate originally pulled a chair to sit next to him, but when he said this, the hand pulling the chair stopped abruptly.

"When will it end?" Nate asked. He didn't come all the way here to see these broken computers.

Penn remained silent, typing code on another computer.

Nate casually glanced at his studio, no wonder it felt weird. The curtains were not turned on, and the lights were not turned on. There were only a few computer screens shining

Dealing with these cold things every day, it would be strange for people to be normal

"When will it be over?" He asked in a stronger tone.

"What's the matter?" Penn finally typed the last line of code and looked up to ask him.

"Come back to the US with me." Nate spoke directly and was pressed for

1. me. He booked a flight back to the US in three hours. Humphery was dying, and he came specially to bring Penn back to the US.

Nate was not entrusted by the Humphery Family, nor was it to satisfy the last wish of the older Mr. Humphery. These people had nothing to do with him. He made this trip purely for Penn, in order not to let him have any regrets

Compared with his parents. Penn has a better relationship with older Mr. Humphery. Divorce is the biggest pain in his life. If he doesn't see older Mr. Humphery for the last time, he will recover later, and there will be one more difficult thing in life. Make up for the regret, so Nate couldn't bear to watch him do this.

Regardless of whether Penn was willing or not, he would knock him out, tie him up, and take him on the plane and back to the US. Not to mention, the sleeping pills in his bag were ready, and he was bound to get them.

Penn kept looking at Nate for a long time, and then continued to work on the computers at the same time, as if he were not there.

Nate is going to be.

"Enough, it's been more than three years, when will you be the living dead?"

So what if he developed more products? In his eyes, it was just a pile of junk.

The plane was about to take off in two hours, and he wanted to use some abnormal means to get him back to the US, so he slammed the door and went out to find Joa for help. Without help, he really can't get this guy.

When Joa heard his plan, she was shocked that his mind was wide open, and she waved her hands to refuse, "You are illegal, and you can't get on the plane."

"There's no special way to cure him. Joa, if you really want to be good for him, you must cooperate with me. What's the matter with him hiding here? Heart disease requires heart medicine."

Joa felt sorry for him, "He works here and doesn't hurt anyone. Everyone has the freedom to choose their own way of life, you can't impose your will on him."

Joa stands up for everyone's rights.

"He doesn't hurt others, but he hurt himself!" Nate's trip was imperative.

The two were still arguing fiercely, but they saw Penn come out of the studio. Because he didn't see much sunlight all year round, his skin was a little pale, and he was thinner, and the outline of his whole face was more three-dimensional.

He didn't bring anything, he didn't say anything, he just said lightly to Nate

"Let's go."

Then Nate was stunned and walked in front of himself.

Nate came back to his senses and hurriedly followed. The two went all the way to the airport and just boarded the plane back to the US.

Nate turned around for a day and a night, and at this time he completed the task. As soon as he got on the plane, he relaxed and slept soundly, completely ignoring Penn next to him.

Penn didn't bring anything except his personal ID and mobile phone. During the flight time of more than ten hours, he didn't drink a sip of water or close his eyes once.

What position he sat in when Nate fell asleep, and when he woke up, he was still in the same position.

Nate arrived at the airport bleary-eyed, and the vehicle arranged by the Humphery Family was already waiting at the airport, picking them up and going straight to the hospital.

Along the way, Ann made a few phone calls to urge, and her tone was very anxious. For no other reason, older Mr. Humphery was waiting for Penn with his last breath. I heard that he was back last night and would arrive today. Older Mr. Humphery was a little excited, but couldn't hold on at the last minute.
