

The Day I Kissed An Older Man by Cher the Cherished

Chapter 952

'It looks like she's not going to admit her wrongdoing unless I have some irrefutable evidence,' thought Corinne. She put her palm to her face and shook her head. 'Ugh, she and her mother are being ridiculous! The proof is right in front of them, yet they're still trying to worm their way out.'

Looking at how helpless Corinne looked, Anya thought she was giving up. "Corinne, you should ask your stepmother and her daughter instead who they met in the park just now and what they got from the stranger. I can assure you that I wasn't the one who met up with them..." she advised kindly.

Corinne smiled. "Miss Anya, it sounds like you and your mother will always label incriminating photos and videos of you and her as fake."

"No, it's not that we want to label them as fake. It's just that you can't prove they're real, either. Plus, you've always been biased against me because of Jeremy. Not to mention, you see me as your love rival..." said Anya innocently.

'Love rival? Ha!' Corinne never saw Anya as her love rival at all. She never fought over Jeremy with her before. That one time when she mistakenly thought something was going on between Anya and Jeremy, she chose to leave him without hesitation.

After the misunderstanding was cleared up, Corinne could tell Jeremy did not even like Anya at all. Thus, why would she see her as a love rival? 'Anya's really full of herself, huh?'

With her forehead still resting on her hand, Corinne said, "Miss Anya, you're really delusional, do you know that? I'm so busy with my life that you don't even come into my radar at all."

Anya smiled. "Corinne, we're all girls here, so I understand how stubborn we can be. But I must say, it's no big deal if you admit it."

Corinne scoffed lightly. "Whatever. I'll just leave you to your delusions. Back to the main topic, Miss Anya. We can check the surveillance camera in the street if you and your mother insist that this photo is fake. There won't be an issue of whether the footage is fake 'cause everyone knows it can't be fake.

"Miss Anya, you drove the spare car that you bought without your family knowing to the park outside the city this morning, right? Did you know the surveillance camera caught you in action? There's even a record of a traffic ticket being issued to you for running a red light."

As she spoke, Corinne took back her phone from Lucas and opened up a traffic management app to check the relevant surveillance footage.

Anya immediately paled when she saw what Corinne was doing. A minute ago, she thought that she did not have the means to get the surveillance footage.

Corinne not only had the means to do that, but she also connected her phone to the TV in the Riveras' living room so everyone could watch the footage together! The surveillance footage was very clear, and there was even the time and date stamped on the upper right corner.

It showed Anya driving an inconspicuous car to the outer city at five o'clock in the morning!

Phoebe started to panic.

Cedric and Beatrice started frowning. Then, they both turned to look at their lying granddaughter with eyes filled with disappointment and confusion.
