

The Day I Kissed An Older Man By Cher the Cherished

Chapter 903

The Day I Kissed An Older Man By Cher the Cherished Chapter 903

Chapter 903

Lucas accepted the cutleries but did not start eating. Instead, he stared at Corinne gently.

Anya was not happy to see this but did not show her displeasure. Smiling, she pushed one of the containers toward Corinne.

“Here, Corinne. Try this,” she said in her sickeningly sweet tone.

Corinne thanked her lightly, but she did not eat the food.

Anya blushed when she did not get the response she wanted from both of them. She felt like she was a lowly maid serving a difficult employer.

However, she reminded herself to keep smiling. She then pulled out the chair next to Lucas and sat down.

‘There must be something going on between them since they stopped talking the moment I arrived,’ thought Anya suspiciously.

She took out her phone to check whether Jeremy had seen the photo she sent him. He did, but he did not reply. After thinking over it, she sent him another message.

[Jeremy, I know I have no right to contact you anymore, but I thought I should let you know about this. Corinne doesn’t seem to know how to keep her boundaries with other men. I just don’t think it’s appropriate for a married woman like her to openly grope my brother’s hand like that.]

After a while, she received a reply from Jeremy. [Where is this?]

Enter title...

10/10/23, 12:51 AM Read The Day I Kissed An Older Man by Cher the Cherished Chapter 903

<https://en.novelxo.com/the-day-i-kissed-an-older-man-by-cher-the-cherished/r1010701.html> 2/3

Anya could smell her victory was near, so she quickly replied, [Corinne is eating lunch with Lucas at Rivera Group's cafeteria.

Didn't she tell you she was coming?]

She received no reply from Jeremy after that.

Edmund walked up with a bowl of ice cream just when Corinne was done eating. He was finally able to get the ice cream after queuing up for a long time.

"Here's the ice cream you wanted. Miss Corinne."

It just so happened Corinne was craving something sweet, so she stood up and accepted the ice cream gratefully. "Thanks for going through all that trouble, Edmund!"

At that moment, Lucas grew envious of Edmund. 'Oh, how I wish Corinne would just call me by my name instead of addressing me so formally!'

Suddenly, Edmund felt a chill run up his spine. He could tell Lucas was not happy with him, but he had no idea what he had done wrong to elicit his ire.

"Miss Corinne, this is the change from buying the ice cream," said Edmund respectfully while presenting it to her.

Corinne simply waved her hand. "Keep the change. It's just enough to pay for the lunch I had in here. I'm done eating, so I'll make a move now. Bye."

After that, she strolled casually out of the cafeteria.

"Corinne, wait! I'm coming with you," said Anya as she got up to chase after Corinne.

"Why did you even accept her money?" Lucas asked Edmund as Edmund sent off the two girls with his eyes.

He turned to him and said helplessly, "Miss Corinne insisted that I take her money. She said she won't come up here unless I take it."