

Chapter 885 Surprise

---

Trevor didn't see the need to concern himself with Karan.

He concentrated on reviewing for the exams with Emmeline's help.

After half a month of studying, Trevor took the final exam and passed. With the semester over, he decided to go on a vacation.

"It must be getting colder by the day in Jork right now," Trevor muttered, rubbing his palms together.

Since Luisa returned to Jork at Elwood's request to run the company, Trevor hadn't seen her and missed her terribly.

Thus, he planned to spend his vacation in Jork to surprise Luisa.

After packing up, he immediately booked a ticket.

Soon, he arrived at Jork Airport.

As soon as he walked out of the airport hall, Trevor took out his phone and called Luisa. "Hey, where are you right now?"

Luisa's sweet and gentle voice soon came on the other end of the line.

"Right now? I'm somewhere you'll be surprised to know.

"Right now? I'm somewhere you'll be surprised to know. Actually, I have a surprise for you, Trevor."

Trevor's smile widened, amused that they had the same plan.

"Really? I also have a surprise for you, Luisa."

Suddenly, Trevor thought of something.

Could it be that they thought of the same idea?

Trevor suggested, "Why don't we reveal the surprise on three? I'll count, okay?"

After the countdown, they revealed the surprise at the same time.

"I'm at Jork Airport!"

"Evie and I are at Dreles Airport!"

After a moment of silence, Trevor and Luisa burst out laughing.

"Then wait for me there. I'll book a flight back to Dreles right away." Trevor was in such a good mood. He chatted with Luisa for a while before ending the call.

The next flight back to Dreles wouldn't be for another few hours. Trevor decided to hang around the airport lobby to kill time.

The lobby had a plethora of duty-free shops. Looking around, his attention was grabbed by a new cosmetics shop.

The signage above read Newmere Cosmetics.

It was the name of Luisa's company.

The company must have grown big to have put up a shop at the local airport.

Curious, Trevor walked inside.

He pretended to be a customer and approached a girl who was looking around for some products to buy.

"Hello, I'm sorry for bothering you, but could you give me some recommendations on their products here? I'd like to buy something for my girlfriend as a gift."

Turning to Trevor, the girl smiled broadly. "Well, I think all of Newmere Cosmetics' products are great, but I personally like their moisturizer and foundation. If you'll give them to your girlfriend, I think she'll like them."

Trevor felt good to hear the girl's answer and smiled.

A man in a suit and leather shoes suddenly came over and scoffed. "As expected, Jork is totally rural. The people here are too inexperienced. It's funny that you find these products worthy of praise."

Frowning, Trevor and the girl both shot a cold stare at the man.

The man returned a bottle of nail polish to the rack and snorted.

"Newmere Cosmetics is a new company, and it doesn't not have any credibility yet. Once Sunshine Company enters the cosmetics market, it will outsell Newmere Cosmetics. Our products are way better than theirs. Plus, we have more capital. If there's a price war, Newmere Cosmetics will surely lose to us. Honestly, a small brand like theirs isn't even worth mentioning."

Price war? Newmere Cosmetics would lose?

Trevor glowered.

If Newmere Cosmetics went bankrupt in competition with Sunshine Company, all of Luisa's efforts would go down the drain.

And what if his grandfather used this to stop him from being with Luisa?

Trevor's eyes squinted as his expression turned solemn.

If he didn't know about it, he could do nothing. But now that he did, he must do something.

He didn't want Luisa to worry about the company's problems while they were on vacation.
