

Chapter 892 Trevor's Little Magic Trick

Albin maintained a cheerful expression for the audience, but when he passed by Trevor, he chuckled sinisterly.

"The game has just begun, brat."

Trevor smiled but didn't say anything.

Since Trevor had taken the initiative to replace Luisa, of course he had already thought about how he was going to deal with Albin.

"Ladies and gentlemen!" Albin raised his hands. "Next is a deadly yet exciting performance—knife throwing!"

The audience went wild.

Albin proudly glanced at Trevor but saw that the other man only had a calm expression. There was no sign of panic in Trevor's eyes.

Albin assumed that Trevor didn't know about the upcoming trick so he deliberately explained how things would go.

"I will tie this gentleman to the wheel of death

Luisa, of course he had already thought about how he was going to deal with Albin.

"Ladies and gentlemen!" Albin raised his hands. "Next is a deadly yet exciting performance—knife throwing!"

The audience went wild.

Albin proudly glanced at Trevor but saw that the other man only had a calm expression. There was no sign of panic in Trevor's eyes.

Albin assumed that Trevor didn't know about the upcoming trick so he deliberately explained how things would go.

"I will tie this gentleman to the wheel of death and my assistant will spin it. I, on the other hand, will stand ten meters away and throw knives at him without actually hitting him! To up the difficulty, I will be wearing a blindfold!"

Albin clapped his hands, and his assistant quickly moved the wheel of death to the middle of the stage.

Trevor glanced at the giant wheel with an almost bored expression.

So this was how Albin planned to humiliate him. Because Trevor did not react, Albin thought that Trevor was too scared to speak.

He couldn't help grinning.

However, Trevor quickly nabbed the microphone.

He rolled up his sleeves and said, "To be honest, I'm actually an amateur magician. How about I perform a little magic for all of you first?"

This much was true. Trevor used to be an assistant to a magician.

Trevor was not proficient in pulling off complicated magic, but he knew a simple trick that would be enough to deal with his current situation.

Albin was stunned by Trevor's declaration.

Caught off guard, he didn't know how to react.

The photographer thought it was a game arranged in advance so he immediately adjusted the camera and aimed it at Trevor.

Trevor's profile appeared on the big screen.

Trevor looked relaxed as usual, but he smiled a little more for the audience.

Albin should not have let him go onstage.

Trevor originally wanted to return the scandalous photo he found earlier to Albin.

Who knew it would come in handy?

He first showed his arms to the audience as proof that his sleeves and hands were empty.

Trevor then waved his arms dramatically before clapping his hands together.

When he slowly pulled his hands apart, the audience realized that he had produced a picture out of thin air.

"Wow!"

The audience applauded approvingly.

The cameraman adjusted his lens and zoomed in on the photo in Trevor's hands.

When the audience saw the photo on the large screen, they burst into laughter, thinking that Albin had intentionally taken a scandalous photo just for the show.

At first, Albin was confused as to why the audience was laughing.

But when he turned around and saw what was on the big screen, he realized that his sexual inclinations were being exposed to the public.

For a moment, his mind went blank.

He was doomed. This was all Albin could think.

He felt so hopeless that he nearly fell to his knees onstage.

His whole body shook in fear, and his face became pale.

With a playful grin, Trevor returned to his seat in the front row before Albin could react.

Luisa was a little excited when he sat back down. "Trevor, I didn't know you could perform magic! Where did you get that photo? It was so cool!"

Now in a good mood, Trevor scooped a handful of popcorn and tossed them into his mouth one by one.

Eventually, Albin came to his senses and laughed as casually as he could.

The only good thing was that the audience thought that the photo was fake.

But now, he was not in the mood to keep performing.

After pulling off a few more simple tricks, Albin announced the end of the performance.

When he returned backstage, he couldn't help but break down. He overturned his dresser and angrily shouted at his bodyguards, "Go and get Chapter 892 Trevor's Little Ma...

 +90 Points at most that shameless couple sitting in the front row!

Damn it! I need to make the bastard suffer. Fuck!"

 I want no ads >

100%

 37%