

Chapter 964 How To Open The Secret Room

"Baby, your breasts are so big."

Flirtatious words came out of the bathroom.

Trevor held his breath as he hid in the corner.

Zakai's voice was impossible to miss.

He was in the bathroom with a woman.

"Oh, Mr. Sanderson, you're awesome. You sure do know how to touch a woman." The woman moaned with pleasure.

Zakai chuckled, engrossed in it. He had no idea he was being eavesdropped on.

Zakai was a typical playboy!

Trevor shook his head in disgust and turned to leave, but was stopped by Zakai showing off again.

"I'm good at many things! My father built a secret room in this villa. He thought he had it hidden properly, but I found it a long time ago. All you need to do is turn the lamp in the study three times clockwise and half a circle upside down... Honey, do you want to have a look later?"

Trevor was shocked to hear this.

A secret room?

How could Zakai reveal such information when flirting with a woman?

However, it was a pleasant surprise for Trevor.

He tiptoed back to the study and found an unremarkable wall lamp on the wall.

Trevor gently rotated the wall lamp clockwise.

"It can be turned. It seems it's true!"

Trevor held back his excitement as he turned the wall lamp exactly as Zakai said.

The glass showcase opened silently!

Indeed, there was a secret room hidden behind the glass showcase!

Excitement bubbled up within Trevor.

Dooley had to have hidden the Sanderson family's secret document here if he had it.

The secret room was not very large. It didn't take long for Trevor to find a secret document.

It was a confidential agreement!

Trevor's countenance darkened upon reading the agreement.

This agreement was signed by the members of the Sanderson family who had been responsible for his arrest to keep it secret.

The agreement involved a lot of interest exchange. It would completely bind the interests of the parties who signed the agreement together to ensure that they would not leak the secret.

Trevor soon saw a familiar name in the agreement.

"Dooley!"

Trevor murmured the name.

The agreement also contained the names of more than ten members of the Sanderson family.

A chill ran through Trevor's body. Those names were familiar to him.

These core members of the Sanderson family had even greeted him warmly at the family gathering.

Trevor hadn't expected these to be the people who sought his downfall.

"Traitors!"

Trevor's breath became labored. He felt rage burning in his chest.

Unfortunately, the agreement held no information on the mysterious men in black.

Not finding anything about these mysterious men in black made Trevor uneasy.

However, he did his best to suppress the rage and hatred he felt. After taking photos of the agreement with his mobile phone, he quickly left the secret room.

It was not a good place to stay for long.

Today, he had gained something. He had figured out the identity of those in the Sanderson family who had betrayed him.