

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 1934

Chapter 1934

Gordon was worried that Darius was still not dead, so he quickly rushed forward to attack Darius's head without any reservation.

As long as that attack landed, there was no way Darius would survive!

"Get lost!" Snow reacted quickly at that moment. She quickly pulled out her last Potential Energy and launched it right at Gordon, trying to save Darius!

Gordon was shocked. He already saw the power of the Potential Energy.

He did not dare to face it head on, and he desperately dodged to the side and barely managed to avoid the attack!

Taking the chance, snow rushed to Darius and knelt down.

"Mister Hughes, how are you? Wake up!" Snow said frantically.

She shook Darius's body and tried to wake Darius up, but Darius did not react at all.

After that, she put her finger next to Darius's nose. She felt like his breathing seemed to have stopped, and her heart completely sank.

"Could Mister Hughes be dead?" Snow's expression changed dramatically. She quickly realized that the poison could very well have already taken Darius's life!

"That's brilliant! The heavens really are on my side!" Gordon could not help but laugh after he heard that!

He could finally relax after hearing that Darius was already dead!

"Gordon, you ruthless animal! Mister Hughes is your brother-in-law, but you attacked him with a poisoned needle and killed him! You are a complete maniac!" Snow got up and shouted angrily.

"What a load of crap! This poison needle is yours. You killed Darius with Leon this time! It has nothing to do with me!" Gordon laughed as he looked at Snow in amusement.

"Nonsense! You killed Darius, I saw it myself! The moment I leave this place, I'll tell the Hughes what happened. They won't let you off!" Snow said coldly.

"No, you'll never get the chance!" Gordon sneered. After that, he started to walk toward Snow.

"W-what do you mean by that?" Snow's expression changed. She took a step back and felt an uneasy feeling in her heart!

"It's simple! I'm going to kill off all witnesses! Once you're dead. I'll move you and my brother's corpse to somewhere else before I tell Leon to go there! Then, the 'truth' will be revealed. Darius and Leon fought each other, and you were accidentally killed! To take revenge for you, Leon used a poisoned needle to kill Darius! How is it? Isn't the plan perfect?!" Gordon laughed. He looked incredibly pleased with himself!

In truth, he already thought of the plan when he attacked Darius!

The poisoned needle belonged to Snow and Leon. It had nothing to do with him!

Even if Darius was killed, no one would suspect him!

As long as he used the plan to properly frame Leon, everything would be fine.

Otherwise, he would not have dared to attack Darius just now!

"What?" Snow was shocked to hear that!

She never expected that Gordon would not only be planning on killing her, but planning on having Leon shoulder the blame as well!

Gordon was a cunning and scheming person!
