

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2426

Chapter 2426

"Uncle Angus, you're too kind. I'm just lucky." Leon smiled modestly.

"How modest! As expected of a young, talented man! You'll achieve greatness in the future!" Arthur and the others nodded in approval.

For someone as young as Leon to create the Elegante Group and Cynthion Group, and defeat the Southern Boss and the Spears, he was undoubtedly the most talented individual in the southern region. Even martial artists in the previous generation would struggle to hold a candle to his accomplishments.

Still, despite what he achieved, Leon remained modest.

It was incredibly rare for one to possess such virtue and they all believed that Leon would achieve greatness in the future.

"Uncle Angus, Elder Thompson, if this is all, I'll head home now." Seeing that it was getting late, Leon decided to leave since he achieved what he came for.

"Sure. Mister Wolf, about the underground community, let me know if you need anything. The Thompsons will do our best to help," Angus said.

Though the Thompsons did not wish to be involved with the underground community, they could help Leon with controlling it if Leon intended to send one of his subordinates to replace the Southern Boss.

That way, the Thompsons could maintain their reputation and repay the debt they owed Leon at the same time.

"Sure!" Leon said, before leaving.

Though the Thompsons did not help resolve the issue with the underground community, Arthur's suggestion gave Leon a new perspective, and he would need to return home and make certain arrangements.

After Leon left, Arthur, Angus, and the others were left in the yard.

"Alright! Roanne, go pack your things and move out of Mister Wolf's place later!" Angus changed the subject and recalled the decision he made earlier.

"Dad, I'm doing great living there. I don't want to move out," Roanne said bitterly.

Out of hope to see Leon every day, she refused to give up and attempted to convince her family.

"That won't do," Angus said and was about to reprimand Roanne when he was interrupted by Arthur.

"Forget it! Angus, if Roanne doesn't want to move back in with us, let her stay with Mister Wolf!" Arthur said thoughtfully.

"What?" Angus was stunned.

It was Arthur who proposed for Roanne to move out of Leon's house, yet he suddenly changed his mind and intended to let Roanne stay with Leon instead.

This caught Angus by surprise and left him confused by how quickly Arthur changed his mind.

"Uncle, didn't you say that Roanne's an unmarried single woman and that her virtue and our reputation would be in question if she continues to stay with Mister Wolf?" Angus asked worriedly.
