

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2451

Chapter 2451

"Kid, you better know your place! Cynthion Group is just a small pharmaceutical firm in the southern region. The Morrisons are already making great sacrifices to split the profit in half! Don't get cocky!" Jayden was displeased upon hearing Leon's refusal.

Though Cynthion Group gathered tremendous fame in the southern region and became the most successful enterprise in the area. However, the western region was too far away and the Morrisons did not know anything about Cynthion Group or its success.

Jayden decided that Cynthion Group was a small pharmaceutical firm with no connections in the western region. Without the Morrisons' help, it would be almost impossible for them to open a branch there.

Hence, Jayden and Georgie felt a sense of superiority, thinking that the Morrisons were above Cynthion Group. If Cynthion Group wanted to expand to the western region, Leon would have to agree to their terms.

"Yeah, Jayden's right! Fifty-fifty is the best we can do! Mister Wolf, please consider this again!"

The other elders agreed along. They all shared Caleb's stance, thinking that Cynthion Group was merely an insignificant pharmaceutical firm that needed to rely on the Morrisons to survive in the western region.

They even felt that Cynthion Group should consider this opportunity an honor. Caleb already made a compromise regarding the division of profit, yet Hugh wouldn't agree to it and in their eyes, this translated into arrogance.

Instantly, they were all provoked by what Jayden said and started to apply pressure on Leon, hoping that he would cave.

"There's nothing to consider. I told you that the share for our branch in the western region will not be given to anyone else! This is non-negotiable!" Facing the Morrisons' confrontation, Leon maintained his composure and determination.

"Why you-" Jayden and the others stared at him darkly with resignation.

"Mister Wolf, don't be so sure of this. Why don't you make a call to your chairman to seek his opinion on the matter?

Maybe he will feel differently." Caleb frowned.

Though he did not look down on Cynthion Group like the others did, the Morrisons prided themselves as the most powerful family in the western region, which made Cynthion Group an insignificant firm in comparison. He knew that Cynthion Group would surely benefit from working with the Morrisons and if Leon was told about this, there might be a way for them to reach a consensus.

However, Leon did not come and if Caleb wanted to communicate with Leon, he would have to do so through Hugh. So long as Hugh reported this to Leon, Caleb was certain that Leon would agree to their proposal. Naturally, he was not aware that the man before him was Leon and not just some young man, so there was no way that Leon would agree to such unreasonable terms.
