

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2000

Chapter 2000

"Fletcher, allow me to introduce you to Mister Wolf..." Scott pointed at Leon and made a brief introduction.

"What?"

"That's... Mister Wolf?"

Fletcher and the other members of the western region Dragon Corps turned to look at Leon, and their jaws dropped instantly.

Leon had put on the golden mask to cover his face, so none of them could see what Leon looked like. However, based on Leon's figure, it was not hard to tell that he was a young man in his twenties.

The mission to eliminate Poisonwielder was extremely dangerous. Since there was no room for mistakes, it would make more sense for the southern region Dragon Corps to assign Scott as the leader.

To their bewilderment, they had assigned a young man as the leader. The arrangement caught all of them off guard.

"What's the meaning of this, Scott? Are you mocking the western region Dragon Corps?" asked a middle-aged man beside Fletcher in a sharp tone.

"That's right!"

"This brat's even wearing a mask to hide his face!"

"You've no respect for the western region branch!"

The others agreed and voiced their frustrations.

It was bad enough that their reinforcements arrived two days late, but an unknown masked man had also been arranged to lead the backup team. It was only normal for the western region Dragon Corps to be upset with that arrangement.

"Well..." Scott was rendered speechless as the others were only telling the truth. Even Scott himself agreed that Alfred had been too reckless to appoint Leon as the leader. Hence, he did not know how to respond to the others' doubts.

"Please calm down, everyone! Mister Wolf here is a Platinum Dragon Guard as well. He might be young, but he's extremely powerful..." Oliver and Abraham attempted to defend Leon.

"He is a Platinum Dragon Guard?"

"What a joke!"

"Is the southern region Dragon Corps running out of talents? How could you promote such a young man to the rank of Platinum Dragon Guards?"

"The southern region is losing its touch!"

The martial artists from the western region snorted and leered at Leon in contempt. They all knew that only martial artists in the Almighty State could be given the title of Platinum Dragon Guard.

None of them had ever heard about someone in the younger generation in Sky County having reached the Almighty State, so they did not believe that Leon had what it takes to be promoted to Platinum Dragon Guard unless he was promoted through his connection to someone important.

However, if that were true, it would only confirm the Southern Dragon Corps ' incompetence in assigning a powerless man as a leader.

"But..." Oliver and Abraham were rendered speechless.

They both knew that Leon was not in the Almighty State and was also aware that there was a possibility that Leon only managed to reach his current status through his connection with someone higher up the chain of command. Given that, they could not refute the others' claims.
