

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2105

Chapter 2105

"Grandpa, I'm just telling the truth!" Yonas said stubbornly.

"How dare you argue with me?! Didn't you hear me when I said that it's enough?! Apologize to your uncle right now, or I shall punish you!" Arthur was instantly enraged by his rebellious attitude.

"But," Yonas shivered and swallowed his words when he realized that Arthur was angry.

"Apologize now!" Arthur roared.

"A- Alright, Uncle Angus, I'm sorry. I just really want the Sun Pill and lost control of my words. Please forgive me," Yonas said reluctantly with resignation.

"Forget it! You're still young and don't know any better. Just watch your mouth in the future!" Angus sighed.

He knew that Yonas was prideful and always wanted to compete with Yuri to become the heir.

Thankfully, Arthur always remained just and fair.

Yuri was talented and brilliant in every aspect, so Arthur trained him to be the future leader and was prepared to hand the control back to the first bloodline.

Hence, Angus did not mind whatever plot Yonas had.

"Angus, Yonas might have stepped out of line, but he is right about one thing. If the Sun Pill can indeed get people from the Semi-Almighty State to the Almighty State, it is something we have to get our hands on! If possible, see if you can buy a few Sun Pills from Mister Wolf. This only benefits the Thompsons," Arthur said thoughtfully.

Powerful families like the Thompsons took pride in the Almighty martial artists in their bloodlines as symbols of their strength.

If Angus could purchase a few Sun Pills from Leon, the Thompsons would be able to gain a few more martial artists in the Almighty State.

On the other hand, the Southern Boss's power extended in the past few years and was close to overpowering the Thompsons.

The addition of a few more Almighty martial artists would reinforce the Thompsons' position as the head of all families.

Though Arthur was asking for the same thing, he was doing so out of consideration for his family unlike Yonas, who did so for his gain.

"Yeah, I'll try my best." Angus nodded as he could understand Arthur's concern.

Though the Southern Boss was a second-generation martial artist, he was extremely talented and already reached the Advanced Almighty State, which was a level that most martial artists older than he struggled to reach.

Since there were conflicts of interest between the Southern Boss and the Thompsons, the Thompsons would need to reinforce their strength to keep the Southern Boss under control.

Since the Sun Pills could help to produce Almighty martial artists, they were crucial to increasing the Thompsons' strength.

However, since the Sun Pills were scarce and Leon showed no intention of selling them, Angus was unsure how he could ask for the Sun Pills.

"Alright. I'll leave this to you, then!" Arthur said, before leaving with Yonas and other members of the second bloodline.