

The Ex-Husband's Revenge By Dragonsky

Chapter 2142

Chapter 2142

"What a cunning and sinister brat!" The Third Guardian hissed when he saw the needles!

There was no way he would dare to face Leon head-on after seeing that. He hurriedly pulled back his true energy, bearing with the risk of his energy rebounding on him as he stopped his attack!

He did not want to fall for Leon's trick!

"You're trying to flee? It's already too late!" Leon sneered before he flicked his wrist.

The two needles immediately shot forward, going right for the Third Guardian's head!

"Not good."

The Third Guardian was shocked.

Even though he saw Leon's poisoned needles in time, he was still too close. It was already too late for him to avoid the attack!

With danger at hand, he could not afford to bother with his noble status. He immediately pathetically rolled on the ground, barely managing to avoid the needles!

"Old dog, die!"

There was no way Leon would let the Third Guardian off easily after what the Third Guardian tried to pull with Iris and the others!

He shot forward, using Phantom Steps again as he appeared in front of the Third Guardian!

After that, he viciously kicked at the Third Guardian's Energy Sea Point!

He was planning on crippling his opponent and ending the fight!

"No."

The Third Guardian was completely horrified.

When it came to a battle between experts, just a slight difference meant the world!

He was already incredibly lucky to avoid the poisoned needles just now!

His strength was already spent, and he was quite heavily injured before. There was no way he could avoid the speed of Phantom Steps anymore!

Right after that, before he could even get up, he felt an intense pain coming from the vital point in his abdomen. Leon crippled his Energy Sea Point!

"Ah!"

The Third Guardian let out a cry of agony. He looked defeated as he completely crumpled on the ground!

After that, a surge of intense pain came up and he immediately fainted on the spot!

"It's ended"!

After crippling the Third Guardian, Leon stopped his attacks.

He was never someone who killed others recklessly. After crippling the Third Guardian, he already took revenge for the man attacking Iris and the others!

So, he no longer needed to kill the man.

Right at that moment, he heard some footsteps. Iris, Henry, and the others quickly arrived in front of Leon.

"Iris, why are all of you here?"

Leon was quite surprised to see the others arrive.

"Oh, we were worried about you, so we came to check on the situation," Iris explained.

"Leon, are you alright?"

"Where's the Third Guardian?"

"Did you lose him?"

Cynthia, Snow, and Ruth asked with concern.

They looked around and could not see any sight of the Third Guardian. They guessed that the man already fled using the trees as cover.

"No, he's already been crippled by me," Leon said as he pointed at the fainted Third Guardian on the ground.

"What?"

Iris and the others were shocked to hear that.

After that, they looked toward where Leon was pointing, finally seeing the Third Guardian not far away from Leon.
