Chapter 1844 One Secret per Sentence

Riley looked at the girl next to him with frustration and pushed her forward.

“What are you waiting for? Go and help Ms. Stanton! If you dare to neglect her and ruin my business, I’ll settle the score with you!”

The delicate girl looked at Riley aggrievedly and silently went in the direction that Nicole left.

In the bathroom.

Nicole was wearing a white dress, so the red wine stain was particularly obvious.

It was not something that could be washed away with water.

Nicole had already sent a text message to the driver outside to bring in her spare clothes while she waited in the bathroom.

In less than a minute, someone that Nicole did not want to see appeared at the door.

“Ms. Stanton...”

It was that little delicate girl.

She would not leave Nicole alone. Nicole looked away. “Did Riley ask you to come? Tell him to give up. I won’t invest in him.”

If Nicole spent her money on something that could see, at least she would feel happy.

Investing in Riley would be the same as having her money go into a bottomless pit.

The delicate girl looked at Nicole and bit her lower lip.

"I'm not here because of him."

Nicole raised her eyebrows. "Then..." The girl took a deep breath. "Ms. Stanton, I'm here to ask you not to tell Riley that you know me. Please, I beg you."

Nicole tilted her head and looked at her without any expression, but her heart was pounding.

When did Nicole know this girl?

The girl looked at Nicole's indifferent face and became a little emotional.

"I was lied to when I was with Ian previously. He didn't like me at all. No matter how hard I tried, he didn't want to look at me or think of me. But Riley's different. Riley is willing to coax me, take care of me, buy me things, and spend money on me. We're really happy together. But... Riley doesn't know that I used to date Ian. If he knew, he probably wouldn't let me off the hook. So, can you please keep this a secret?" The girl raised her eyes and looked at Nicole with a pleading face.

Nicole gritted her teeth and simply could not stay calm as she thought, ' What did I just hear? This girl dated Ian, and now, she's hooking up with Riley. More importantly, Riley's clueless about it? I didn't even know about their relationship until now.'

The delicate girl was about to cry. "Ms. Stanton, I admit that I shouldn't have hit on Mr. Sloan. I didn't know that he was your man! Otherwise, I wouldn't have done it even if I had the guts. Please keep this a secret for me, okay?" This sentence was like a strike of lightning.

Hit on Clayton?

Wow!

It seemed like that did not work. Otherwise, that girl would not have clung to Riley.

Her taste certainly got worse.

Nicole laughed lightly and was not as enthusiastic as before.

"I'm not that idle. You don't need to beg me because I'm not the only one who knows about this, right? Let's just pretend that we don't know each other." This way Nicole would not get annoyed. The delicate girl still wanted to chase Nicole and get her word.

However, Nicole's driver already rushed over with a bag. "Miss..."

Nicole nodded and gave the driver a look. The driver then separated Nicole and the delicate girl and looked at the girl warily.

The girl could not get close to Nicole, so she stood there reluctantly by herself. After Nicole changed her dress and came out again, she sighed in relief because Riley and the delicate girl were no longer around.

Kai came over to Nicole soon after he was done talking business.

Nicole followed Kai to the car and left.

Chapter 1845 Only I Can Do It

Two days later, Nicole received a call from Julie. Ian did not plan to have a big birthday party and decided to just have a simple gathering near Julie's set. Yvette also went.

Nicole told Clayton about it and went with the driver.

It was only after Nicole arrived that she found out that Jan had invested in the film that Julie was involved in, so he was there to visit the set.

Ian sized Nicole up and went over to hug her.

"My precious darling! I'm so glad that you're okay!"

Nicole clicked her tongue and pushed him away. "Go away. Of course, I'm fine." Ian's smile deepened.

"I heard that you forgot all about Clayton but still remember me. I'm so touched..."

"You don't need to be touched. I even remember the death of my family's Tibetan mastiff when I was ten years old, so of course, I can remember you." Ian rolled his eyes in frustration. "Ugh, you're no fun."

Julie came out to bring Nicole inside. "It just so happened that today is the film's closing celebration, which collided with Carter's birthday, so we just decided to celebrate together."

Nicole was shocked. "Ian actually agreed to this?"

Ian chuckled and said, "I can't help it. But I'm quite satisfied with this drama, so don't mind."

The filming crew and cast had already arrived.

Nicole and Julie went inside arm in arm. Ian followed behind them with his hands in his pockets.

It was very bright inside as the lights swayed. The atmosphere was very lively.

Julie leaned into Nicole. "There are a lot of people here. I guess they all heard that Ian's here today and came over to wish him. They're all in the entertainment industry, so you can deal with them if you want to. If you don't, we can leave in advance and change the venue."

Nicole raised her eyebrows. "Well, let's just follow Carter's mood. After all, it's his birthday."

Even if Nicole did not want to deal with these people, she could not just leave like that.

Julie nodded. She was considered part of the entertainment industry. Thus, she was naturally familiar with the people present and their relationships with each other.

Ian was wearing black pants and a black shirt with his sleeves rolled up. He looked like a typical trust fund kid as he swept a glance around.

If he was not Ian Carter, he could have been an award-winning actor with his looks.

Nicole and Julie admired the handsome men and women around them for a while. They then saw a beautiful woman in a long red dress at the other side of the room sashaying over.

The two ladies laughed.

It was Yvette.

"Ms. Quimbey, you're so gorgeous today that I thought I saw the wrong person!" Nicole joked.

Yvette raised her chin arrogantly. "My husband said that I'm gorgeous every day!"

Julie said, "Doesn't he feel guilty for saying that?"

Nicole held back a laugh. "I think it's a pity that Mr. Sheldon isn't here. He didn't get to see Ms. Quimbey all dressed up!"

Yvette pouted. "Don't make fun of me! I've been working overtime for the past few days, and I have a headache from exhaustion."

"Is everyone at your company that busy?"

"Not everyone. I'm the only one that's busy. Ugh, I'm a vice president at Lance's stupid company, but I gotta do an assistant's work. I don't even have free time every day, and I fall asleep as soon as I see the bed!"

Nicole and Julie opened their mouths wide in shock.

No wonder Yvette did not take the initiative to ask them out for dinner these days. It was probably due to this.

"Why didn't you ask someone else to do it?" Nicole asked.

"Lance said that it's confidential, so only I can do it!"

Yvette speechlessly rolled her eyes. She was exasperated and extremely aggrieved.

Nicole felt a little strange. "How can an assistant's work be confidential?"

Julie was also very doubtful. "Right..." Yvette's expression changed. She also felt that something was off.

Chapter 1846 Blind Date

Yvette was just about to think of something when a few directors saw the three ladies standing together. They went over with a glass of wine after toasting Ian.

"Ms. Stanton, Ms. Quimbey, Ms. Nixon, you three are really good friends. Thank you for supporting our film!"

Nicole smiled and raised her glass.

The three ladies took a shallow sip of wine. "You're welcome."

After everyone finished exchanging pleasantries, Yvette swept a glance around and asked, "Where's Ian?"

A director who just saw Jan pondered for a moment.

"He seemed to have been called away by his girlfriend..."

The three ladies were wide-eyed.

"He has a girlfriend?!"

The director smiled in embarrassment, knowing that he had misspoken. "A female friend. Sorry, it was a slip of the tongue."

Julie frowned slightly. "Why haven't I heard anything about it?"

Nicole went close to Julie's ear and whispered. "I heard that he has been going on blind dates recently, so she may be his blind date."

The other two people suddenly realized something.

No wonder.

After all, Ian would never take the initiative to speak of this sort of thing. The ladies walked around. At this time, some celebrities who used to be very popular modestly carried their wine glasses over and toasted them one by one. The directors and investors also did not let go of Nicole and the ladies. A pleasant-looking woman came out from the crowd of directors, then joked with the other investors. She looked very glamorous and at ease like she was in her element. Nicole saw the woman and could not remember her name.

"Is she the female lead?"

That woman had such a strong presence and control of the room, so it did not make sense if she was not the female lead.

Julie took a glance. "Nope, the female lead isn't here yet."

Yvette said, "The female lead still hasn't arrived at such an occasion? The others are probably fighting for attention now, right?"

Julie laughed. "You don't say. This female lead has a big temper, and she's straightforward. The crew and cast don't like to talk to her."

"Who is it?"

“Kirsi Makinen. She offended a lot of people because of her temper, so even if she has good acting skills, she never won any awards. She only managed to be the female lead in this film because of her acting skills.”

As they spoke, the door was suddenly pushed open from the outside.

A woman wearing a long black dress and exuding cold vibes came in. Her expression made her seem unapproachable.

She was pretty, but her cold aura made it impossible for people to get close.

For a while, the other female celebrities in the hall fell silent. They subconsciously were scared of Kirsi’s appearance.

How interesting.

Kirsi swept a glance around. She seemed to have noticed Julie and was just about to lift her dress to walk over when there was suddenly an ear-piercing voice that joked, “The female lead is finally here! We’ve all been waiting for you for a long time. Mr. Carter is so nice to invite us to his birthday banquet, and this is also our film’s closing ceremony. But look at you, putting on airs and letting everyone wait for you.”

Yvette excitedly grabbed Nicole’s hand. “Are they gonna fight? This is a catfight between actresses!”

Nicole froze for a moment. She really wanted to pretend not to know Yvette when she saw her good-for-nothing face.

The person who spoke was the woman who had been going around the venue acting like she was the female lead, Lorelai.

Earlier, Lorelai was in the limelight since her character and her silver tongue won over almost everyone present.

It was truly admirable.

Julie approached them from the side and spoke.

“These two actresses don’t like each other. Even the director didn’t dare to put them together in the same scene. Kirsi was supposed to be the female lead for this film, but the film’s bigwig investor made the director change the female lead to Lorelai. Later, Kirsi’s fans made a huge scene. Moreover, Lorelai looks more like a servant girl and isn’t popular with the masses, so it’s very risky for her to play the female lead. Finally, they settled on Kirsi. That’s why these two actresses don’t get along since the beginning.”

Chapter 1847 Does It Have Anything to Do With You?

Nicole nodded. "No wonder!"

Such a confrontation in public did not seem very nice, but the two actresses obviously did not care. Anyway, they just wanted the other party to look bad. Kirsi swept a glance around and turned to Lorelai. "Dumbass, does it have anything to do with you?"

The venue fell silent with that remark. Afterward, someone could not help but laugh softly.

Kirsi's retort was loud and clear. Lorelai's face turned pale as she felt embarrassed from being called a dumb* ss.

"You..."

Of course, Lorelai wanted to diss Kirsi too. However, if she did, she would not be able to maintain her cute persona. Lorelai was afraid that someone would film it and circulate it online.

Moreover, Lorelai would not allow herself to fall from grace in front of so many bigwigs.

She gritted her teeth and wanted to tear Kirsi apart.

Fortunately, the director stood out in time to ease the situation. He ignored how Kirsi had insulted Lorelai.

"All that matters is attendance. Kirsi told me that she caught a cold since she filmed an underwater scene until late last night. I told her to rest well before coming over. Kirsi, come over and have a drink with all your colleagues..." Although everyone still wanted to watch the fun, they knew that now was not the time to fan the flames. Everyone quickly went back to their own thing as if nothing happened.

Kirsi listened to the director. Even if she caught a cold, she still took a glass of wine and followed him.

They went to each group of people for a toast and finally went over to Nicole's group.

The ladies saw what happened just now. Julie smiled and said, "Kirsi, sit down and rest for a while."

It looked like Julie took care of Kirsi quite well.

Kirsi did not stand on ceremony. She sat on the opposite side and leaned back lazily.

She was truly worthy of being a female lead. If Kirsi did not have that face and acting skills, there was no way that she would become an A-lister with her temper.

More importantly, Kirsi had a very recognizable, unique, and beautiful face. Out of the three ladies, Julie was the most familiar with Kirsi.

Julie smiled and looked at Nicole and Yvette.

"You guys don't know who Kirsi is yet, do you?"

Nicole and Yvette looked at Julie curiously.

Julie looked at Kirsi and raised her eyebrows. Kirsi smiled and replied.

"Lumi is my sister. I'm from the Makinen family."

Nicole and Yvette were both quite shocked.

Oh my god!

It turned out that Kirsi was part of the Makinen family, who had inextricable ties to the Lindstrom family and several major families in Baltic City.

However, how could such a high- society lady land up in the entertainment industry?

It was no wonder that people were surprised.

Kirsi looked at Nicole and smiled with her eyes.

"I'm a big fan of Kai, so I followed his footsteps to get to where I am today!" Julie laughed, looking like she had known about this for a long time.

Nicole was speechless.

Kai's influence was so great?

If Kai knew about it, he would have been so smug.

"If Kai finds out, he'll be happy for you." Nicole spoke with a smile.

Kirsi raised her eyebrows like she had expected this.

It was really unexpected that Lumi, who had been failing in whatever she invested, had a sister in the entertainment industry.

The key thing was that no one knew about this. No one tried to find out about Kirsi's background either. Otherwise, Lorelai would not have treated Kirsi with that attitude. Originally, this kind of social occasion was to build relationships in order to land the next resource.

However, with the Makinen family's power, it would be easy for Kirsi to get some resources.

This was why Nicole admired Kirsi a little.

Yvette asked at the side. "Your family agreed?"

Kirsi shrugged her shoulders. "What can they do if they disagree? Will they ask me to inherit the family business? There's no way they'll give me the company."

Of course, Kirsi was not interested either.
