

The Divorced Billionaire Heiress Boss Chapter 1859

Chapter 1859 Can't Save You

The party could no longer continue. While most guests left, some stayed behind.

Ian Carter did not follow Clayton upstairs. He just stood in the place where Nicole was attacked earlier. He looked down at the delicate girl that was crying on the ground with a gloomy and cold face.

It was a different situation from the past when this girl was just pestering him. Back then, he only felt annoyed, but now, Ian had an impulse to beat her up.

The delicate girl whimpered. The makeup on her face was all messed up. Only now did she feel how serious her offense was.

The Stanton family was much more powerful than Riley. If she did not even dare to offend Riley, how did she get the courage to find trouble with Nicole?

At that moment, she did not even know how she would end up.

Ian stood in front of the girl indifferently. His gaze was oozing with cold intent.

"You really are crazy..." He said.

The delicate girl abruptly stopped crying. When she saw Ian standing there, she looked at him like he was her savior.

“Mr. Carter! Please help me! Please help me beg for mercy! Please let me go! »”

Ian sneered. “Let you go? Do you know what you’ve done?”

“I know I was wrong. I was too impulsive. I shouldn’t have done it... Mr. Carter, I really know my mistake!” The girl cried as she spoke.

She did not know her mistake.

She just knew that she was afraid. Ian’s tone was cold and harsh. “No one can save you anymore.”

The deadly silence was truly despairing.

The delicate girl tilted her head and looked at him expectantly.

“Mr. Carter, you have a good relationship with Ms. Stanton, so you can help me plead for mercy. I was just too impulsive and didn’t mean to hit her. As long as they let me go, I definitely won’t come back to find her or pester you again.”

Ian’s gaze was dull as he laughed lightly.

‘What right do you have to state terms? It’s so easy to make you disappear. We just don’t want to get our hands dirty.’

After saying that, Ian never looked at her again. He just turned around and left.

The delicate girl cried even more miserably.

It did not take long for someone to come over and tape her mouth shut so that she could not even cry.

Grant was waiting for the doctor inside to finish examining Nicole before he went down to deal with that woman.

Nicole was unconscious. She did not bleed much, but the laceration on her head looked very serious.

The doctor finished a brief examination before he breathed a sigh of relief.

“Her situation is stable for now. She just fainted, but it’s best to go to the hospital to get a CT scan to see how serious the concussion is.”

Floyd nodded repeatedly. “Great. Thank you, Leo.”

“You’re welcome. I watched Nicole grow up, so I’m also relieved that she’s okay.”

The doctor smiled and called the hospital, asking them to prepare the ward and equipment in advance. Floyd thanked him again and asked Kai to walk the doctor out.

Clayton’s eyes were red as he sat there. His eyes were staring at the unconscious Nicole unblinkingly.

His heart ached to the core as he thought, 'It's been such a short time since she was in the hospital. Why is she always injured?'

Floyd went over and patted Clayton's shoulder.

He sighed and said, "All that matters is that she's okay. Now that the bleeding has stopped, we should bring her to the hospital."

Clayton's eyes were red and bloodshot, and his voice was dull.

"Okay."

Floyd paused. "Who's the attacker? Do you know her?"

Clayton shook his head. A trace of ruthlessness crossed his eyes. "No matter the reason, I won't let that woman get away with it."

Anyone who dared to make a move against Nicole would have to pay it back a hundredfold!

Floyd was stern as he said, "Of course, we can't let that woman go! Otherwise, others will think that our family is easy to bully. How could I not do anything when my daughter was attacked?!"

After Floyd said that, Clayton stood up.

"Dad, please stay here and watch Nicole. I'll go downstairs."

The Divorced Billionaire Heiress Boss Chapter 1860

Chapter 1860 A Moment of Impulse

Floyd knew that Clayton was going downstairs to look for the woman who attacked Nicole, so he did not ask about it and nodded.

The Stanton family could afford the consequences no matter what Clayton decided to do.

Nicole was immersed in happiness just a while ago, so those who ruined her happiness would have to pay the price.

Kai came back after sending off the guests. He did not go upstairs but stood there with Grant, staring at the crazy woman on the ground.

The hotel manager was scared out of his wits. He had been outside attending to something else. Who knew such an accident would happen in the hall?

The hotel manager was called Mr. Litt. Mr. Litt's face was pale as he explained on the side, "Mr. Stanton, it's our mistake. We didn't let her in on purpose. We just hired some temporary staff when we were setting up the venue because we were short-handed... I didn't know that they'd recruit such a crazy person who even hurt Ms. Stanton. We're truly sorry..." Grant's face was glum, and he did not say anything.

Instead, Kai could not help but laugh. "Do you think being sorry will suffice? It's not like you haven't held a party like this before. How could a temporary waiter be allowed to come in here? Our guests are all carefully selected, yet you don't even have a standard for hiring waiters?"

In a place like this, they should only allow reliable and trusted waiters who have worked for more than three years and were specially trained to serve such high-profile guests. However, this woman in front of them was only recruited three days ago.

She even had a grudge against Nicole. Mr. Litt wiped away the cold sweat on his forehead and apologized repeatedly.

“I really didn’t know that the recruiter would make such a low- level mistake. We value our cooperation with Stanton Corporation so much that we will never make such a mistake. There must be some misunderstanding. Mr. Stanton, we’ll pay for Ms. Stanton’s medical expenses to express our apologies. Do you think this is okay?”

Kai sneered. “Are we short of that money for Nicole’s medical expenses? If others hear this, they’ll think that our family is going bankrupt!”

Mr. Litt’s face turned pale. He fully understood why Kai was being so bossy.

The one who got injured was Nicole. If anything happened to Nicole, who could afford to take that kind of responsibility?

Mr. Litt looked at the woman on the ground and clenched his teeth.

“I’ll immediately check this woman’s background and hold her accountable. I’ll also hold the recruiter accountable.”

If this was not dealt with properly, the Stanton family would not just let it slide.

Kai did not make a sound.

Clayton's footsteps approached with a bitterly cold sense of oppression.

Mr. Litt hurriedly retreated to the side. "Mr. Sloan, is Ms. Stanton alright?" Clayton glanced at him and did not answer.

He walked straight up to that delicate girl and could not remember if he had seen her before, but the girl looked somewhat familiar.

Since Clayton could not remember, it meant that this person was not worth remembering.

He also did not want to bother.

The delicate girl cried until she almost fainted. She was truly scared to death when she saw the three men in front of her.

Grant glanced at Clayton. His voice was extremely cold.

"What should we do with her?" Clayton lifted his head. ""Remove the tape."

The bodyguard at the side immediately tore off the tape on the girl's mouth.

The delicate girl felt such a burning pain that she winced.

“Mr. Sloan, please spare me! I won’t dare to do this again! I just acted on a moment of impulse!”

Clayton looked at her with a chilly gaze and walked over. His knuckles were white from clenching his fists so hard as he restrained his emotions. He tugged on the collar of his shirt and loosened his tie. His gaze was cold and harsh.

“You have a grudge against her?”