Chapter 2209 The Master Stood Out

The next day, even Nicole realized the seriousness of the matter.

When she was having dinner with several high-level executives, someone secretly asked if this matter was true.

Nicole looked at the news on the internet and felt a lump in her chest.

According to Kai's personality, he should have resolved it immediately.

The lack of a timely solution only showed that he was worried about certain things.

Moreover, although the woman in each photo wore a mask and a hat and was tightly wrapped up, Nicole could recognize that it was Julie at a glance! After some thought, Nicole made a phone call.

Julie picked up the call $\text{H}\sigma.\text{V}\epsilon\ell\text{E}\text{B}\sigma\sigma\text{K}.\phi\sigma\text{M}$ calmly.

“Nicole?” Nicole paused.

“Jules, are you still on the set?” Julie replied, “Yeah, I’m here.” “Do you know what’s happening online?”

“Yeah.

Don't worry, I know how to deal with this." Nicole paused.

"Okay. I don't think Kai is doing anything about it, so I think he's just leaving it be.

If you don't feel comfortable at the set, just come back and hide out for a while." "It's okay.

I'm wrapping up my work here and can't get away now. Let's talk after I finish handling the things on set."

Nicole responded.

"Okay, take care." Julie said a few words, and her voice sounded normal, so Nicole was relieved.

As her friend, Nicole could not force Julie to come forward to clarify and testify for Kai.

As her relative, Nicole could not treat Julie as an outsider.

Therefore, they could only let Kai take the hit.

It was just that when she looked at the news online, she would explode with anger.

[So, is everyone tolerant of rich yet unkind people? Shouldn't we boycott this kind of people?!) [Kai is so rich.

Why didn't he donate to the disaster zone? Other celebrities have donated a few hundred thousand dollars! Did he use all his money on women?] [This is about morality.

I hope Kai can come out and explain this clearly.

I'm so disappointed in him!) (He goes around several sets in rotation at the same time? I heard that the people on set are so familiar with him now.

Kai, how could you do such a thing?!) [Everyone, don't morally kidnap him.

The matter hasn't been clarified yet, so y'all don't need to be so aggressive!] (Wasn't Kai dating a producer?

But now, I can't find anything about them online! I'm so surprised!) [Wow!

It turns out that Kai likes women!] Nicole looked at the gossip for a while before Logan knocked on the door and came in.

"President, Roland called and said that you need to attend a meeting at Mr. Sloan's office in 20 minutes.

I've rearranged your schedule." Nicole nodded.

She held something in her hand, stood up, and walked out.

"You can ask my Dominic Young from Falcon Entertainment how he plans to deal with my third brother's scandal.

Leaving it be is not an option..." Although she knew that Kai and Julie were not like that, no one liked being slandered.

She could help in any way.

Logan responded and accompanied her downstairs.

When he lowered his head and scrolled through the webpage, he suddenly saw the latest news that just popped up.

He was shocked for a moment.

“Is this really Kai?” Nicole froze for a moment when she looked at the phone that Logan handed over.

The phone showed the latest news, which was a picture of Kai being a volunteer in the disaster area.

Kai was helping to carry a stretcher and looked very humble.

He looked completely different in the photo compared to his perfect image on the screen.

Kai did not care about his appearance and cleanliness at all.

He was as unkempt as everyone else there.

His body was covered with mud, and his head was covered with plaster.

Kai did not tell anyone about his experience because it was a bad memory for his family.

Therefore, he did not clarify this matter.

However, once the photo was exposed, it instantly triggered an uproar.

Moreover, relevant organizations also posted photos and gratitude letters for Stanton Corporation’s donations and supplies.

Stanton Corporation was one of the first companies to donate to the areas affected by the earthquake.

This photo was released by Stanton Corporation. They also tagged Kai without any other text and attached a gratitude letter from the relevant organizations.

This was enough to stop those who wanted to make trouble.

[Kai is a Stanton, so isn't Stanton Corporation's donation the same as his donation? Do you guys have to be so calculative?]

[Now there's no need for his agency to come forward. Of course, Stanton Corporation must protect their third young master!] [Is this really Kai?] [Kai is so low-key and down-to-earth!

We're right about him.

If he hadn't been slandered by y'all, we might never find out that he volunteered at the earthquake zone in the first place!] [All of you can criticize him, but why didn't y'all become volunteers?] [I can testify to this.

My mother was there $\text{H}\sigma.\text{V}\epsilon\ell\text{E}\text{B}\sigma\text{K}.\text{C}\sigma\text{M}$ at the time, and Kai carried my father out of the rubble.

He's handsome and tall in real life, and he's very friendly! Everyone was too sad at the time that no one took pictures of him.] [I wanted to stand up and say that he did more than that. He was the first celebrity to rush to the disaster area.

How could y'all smear his name and discuss his private life?]) Nicole saw that the comments below took a turn. The netizens were no longer so aggressive, and the situation was not as tense anymore.

However, many still had doubts about the two women. Those people thought Kai was going to use his work at the earthquake to cover up his vile behavior.

It was frustrating.

[Since this is cleared up, why didn't Kai say a few words about what happened with the crew?] Logan muttered, "I haven't heard of this.

Our company's official website posted it.

Could this be from the Chairman?" He looked at Nicole with doubt.

Nicole shrugged and said, "I know just as much as you do." When she got into the car, she turned on her phone and saw that there were countless messages on the family group chat. Kai sent a lot of GIFs.

[Sob sob sob...

Thanks, Dad! Thanks, Big Brother!) [Thank you so much!!!] He kept tagging Floyd and Grant.

Nicole smiled.

It really was them.

Her father and eldest brother still loved Kai.

However, in the next second, Nicole saw that the group chat was deleted.

The admin of the group chat was Floyd.

Soon, a new group chat was created without Kai in it. Kai was speechless as he thought, ‘How could you do this to me?! Nicole hooked her lips.

“It’s almost settled.” She did not have to worry about it. Logan looked back at her.

“Treally didn’t expect that the Chairman would do something.” Nicole had already told him about what happened.

She raised her eyebrows.

“Although my father scolds Kai the most, Kai is the most filial to him, and my father is very protective of his children.

He won't let others bully Kai.” Logan smiled.

“Fortunately, someone took a photo at that time. Otherwise, it'll be hard to explain things...”
