Chapter 2226 His Parents

The man on the side also stood up and shook Nicole's hand.

It turned out that Fischer's parents shared the same last name, which was a coincidence.

Nicole shook his hands with a smile and looked around. "Where's Fischer? He misses you two very much, so why isn't he here?"

Camille and Leighton looked at each other. Camille curled her lips and said, "Last time, we had something urgent to do, so we sent him back. He's mad at US because of that and refuses to see US this time."

Nicole paused and smiled.

"Don't worry. He'll be here in a while. He's a sensible child."

Camille smiled and looked at Nicole with sincerity and gratitude.

"I heard from my father that your family took really good care of Fischer during this time. I really don't know how to thank you all.

We're really too busy, and because of what happened last time, my dad scolded US and insisted that we spend a day with our kid. I discussed it with Leighton and finally managed to squeeze out some time today. We want to accompany him and bring him around. Do you think it's okay?"

Nicole was stunned and suddenly laughed.

"You don't need to ask me this. Of course, I won't prevent you from seeing Fischer. I know you're both busy, so I brought him on this business trip intending for you all to meet each other. Fischer is a clever kid with his own mind, and we love him. He's already my godson, so we'll naturally take good care of him. You guys should go out and have fun. You can send him back here anytime."

Camille looked at her gratefully and nodded.

"Thank you so much. We know we owe him a lot, and I also know how much harm it'll do to a child without parental love, but there's nothing we can do. Leighton and I have devoted our whole lives here, so we can't just walk away from all this."

Leighton put his elbows on his knees and nodded.

"Back then, our father accompanied Fischer, and now we have you. We're very relieved that Fischer is in such good care, and we hope he didn't bring you too much trouble.”

Nicole smiled. "It's no trouble at all. My daughter also likes to play with Fischer. We have a few kids at home, so it's very lively and not troublesome."

Camille looked at Leighton and smiled. The both of them breathed a sigh of relief.

At this time, Logan held the hands of the two children and led them out of the small living room next door.

"President, here are the kids."

Nicole gave him an appreciative glance. Logan was very tactful and quick to catch on.

Chatty looked normal. She was fair, tender, and adorable. She looked at the two strangers with her beautiful eyes and smiled sweetly, "Hello, Uncle. Hello, Auntie..."

Camille's heart melted when she saw Chatty. Then, she happily went over to hug her.

"Hello! You must be Chatty, right? You're so pretty and adorable! You're the cutest little angel I have ever seen!"

Chatty knew that it was a nice compliment and nodded with her chin raised high, expressing her approval of Camille's compliment.

Camille turned to look at Fischer. Just when she was about to touch him, Fischer dodged to the back. His big eyes were watery, and his fair and tender face looked so aggrieved, which made the others feel distressed.

At this time, Fischer looked at them with an unhappy face.

Camille was guilty and sad. She withdrew her hand, squatted on the ground, and looked at him.

"Fischer... Daddy and Mommy purposely took time off today to be with you.

I'm really sorry about what happened last time, and it certainly won't happen again today. We promise not to leave you behind.

We can accompany you wherever you want to go."

Fischer's eyes were red, but he stubbornly refused to forgive them.

He was left behind so many times that it left a deep imprint on his innocent mind.

His distrust for them grew day by day. His parents could even lie to children, so Fischer no longer wanted to get close to them.

However, the parents he missed so much were right in front of him.

This was something that he could not even dream of!

If he missed them this time, would it be years until he saw them again?

Fischer looked like he was in a pickle.

Chatty tugged on Fischer's arm.

"Fischer, you should go! Don't you miss your daddy and mommy very much? They're such great scientists. Don't you want to be like them too?"

Camille was slightly shocked.

She subconsciously glanced at Chatty.

Tears filled her eyes instantly.

She covered her mouth and stood up to look at Leighton.

"Leighton, I always thought he hated US as scientists..."

Leighton was also touched. He stood up and went to hug Fischer.

"I'm sorry, Fischer. You are Daddy and Mommy's little angel. Although we don't spend much time with you, we still love you the most. Will you forgive us if we accompany you today?"

Fischer sniffled and obediently leaned on his dad's body.

"Mm."

A child's forgiveness was that simple.

Fischer also knew that throwing a temper tantrum was useless.

He should cherish the days when he was with his parents.

Fischer looked down at Chatty and had an idea.

"Chatty, will you go with me?"

Just as Chatty was about to agree, Nicole quickly interrupted her.

"She can't go out today. Fischer, you should follow your parents. I have to attend an event today and was going to take you and Chatty. Since you can't go, I'll just take Chatty with me."

Nicole smiled. She could not let Chatty interrupt their little family reunion.

Chatty tilted her head to look at Nicole and nodded obediently.

"I'll go with Mommy."

Fischer was a little disappointed.

"Okay then. I'll be back soon!"

Chatty nodded.

Camille looked at Nicole and said gratefully, "Ms. Stanton, we'll get going then. I'll send him back in the evening. Please continue to take care of him."

"Don't worry. There are so many people here, and everyone can take care of our little fish."

Camille nodded and touched Fischer's face.

Seeing that he had such a good relationship with Chatty, she suddenly remembered something.

"By the way, we came in a hurry and didn't get to buy any presents. But we brought a gift for Chatty."

Camille took out a book from her bag and handed it to Chatty.

Chatty planned to receive the gift with great interest, but the moment she saw the book, she raised her head in shock.

Her beautiful big eyes were full of fear and shock as she thought, 'Fischer's mommy is really not cute!'

Seeing the little girl's resistance, Camille looked at Nicole in confusion.

The corners of Nicole's mouth twitched as she quickly took the book over.

"Thank you. Although she doesn't know much at the moment, she really likes to read. She'll be very happy when she's old enough to understand this book."

Camille nodded without a doubt.

"Leighton and I picked this book for a long time. It'll be a useful book for her to read from elementary school to university."
