

After Prison 131

Chapter 131

We are not just going to go out for lunch. I think we should at least eat at a five stars hotel. That's the only way for you to show us that you love my sister, right? If you don't treat her family with respect, how are you going to prove that you love her?"

"Besides, for someone who could afford that amount of dowry, he won't bother paying for lunch at all," Megan said. She was not stupid. If Severin was really that rich, he would agree to take them out to eat without any hesitation. However, if he hesitated just a little, it meant he was just stalling the time when he promised to give the dowry. She glared at Severin to monitor his reaction.

"Sure! I have that idea too!" Severin answered.

Unexpectedly, Severin agreed without even giving it a thought and answered indifferently. "Diane's parent is my parent. Look at how big Selene is now. I haven't treated all of you to a meal before. Since this is the first time I'm buying lunch, we have to go somewhere classy!"

"Master, should we follow you to protect all of you?" Wendy asked after giving it a thought.

Severin thought about it before answering. "Not this time. We're just going out for a meal and I'm around. But you have to follow my parent or my wife when they are going out in the future when I'm not around."

"Yes, master!" The beautiful women responded by nodding their heads.

"We even have bodyguards protecting us now. I'm still not used to it!" Maurice laughed. The big difference in their life had him wondered he was dreaming.

"Master, since there's nothing for us to do today. Can the six of us go out shopping? We would like to buy something!" Lillie asked for Severin's permission.

"Sure. Go do your shopping. It's alright for you to go out when there's nothing to do. But under the condition that someone must be protecting my parent's safety when they go out if I'm not around. Other than that, you are all free to make plans!" This was the answer Severin gave after consideration.

"Thank you, master!" The six beautiful women exchanged looks with each other and were feeling glad.

"Sigh. Ever since Diane is no longer General Manager, we don't even have a car to get around. Do you know how we get here just now? We have to take a cab. How pathetic!" Megan complained.

When they were at the door, Megan looked at the Chevrolet that is parked in the garage. "At least Diane has a cheap car to drive. Look at us. We don't even have a car..."

She paused and deliberately made things difficult for Severin. “Hey, Severin, what are you guys thinking of? I mean if you can afford the dowry, why don’t you buy an Audi or BMW those cars instead? Isn’t a Chevrolet too low class for people who stay here?”

Once that was said, Felicia’s heart dropped. She was really looking forward to receiving the dowry from Severin. Now that Megan put it that way, she wondered if Severin could really fork out the dowry. If Severin was really that rich, he would have bought a better car.

‘Don’t tell me this little brat is really fooling me!’ she thought.

The more she thought of it the angrier she was. What if Severin was just trying to fool her and got along with them now? Once they could get along together, Diane would have more feelings for me. By then, he could ask Diane to beg us to accept them. It was really hard to say but there was definitely a possibility that it could happen.

With that thought in Felicia’s mind, her face suddenly looked gloomy. “Severin. Shouldn’t you give us an explanation why you bought such a cheap car?”

Without a doubt, Severin knew very well what was Felicia afraid of. It did not bother him. He smiled. “I actually wanted to buy a more expensive car like Audi, BMW, Ferrari, or Porsche But Diane said it was not necessary. She only wanted a normal car to drive around. I have no choice but I like to listen to everything my wife said. I will buy anything that she wants. Besides, I think this is a good car. It can fit all of us.”

Diane’s expression looked a little weird. No one would actually refuse a better car. At that time, she did not know the amount of money Severin had in his bank. If she did, she would probably also ask to buy a better car too.

At that moment, she thought Severin was after the money when he risked everything to ruin Lucy. and Easton’s wedding. If Severin was willing to risk his life because of that money, she presume he was poor and was too desperate to find money to do that kind of thing.

Looking back at it, she knew she was wrong. Severin was rich but he still fought hard to get the money back because the money was Judith and Maurice’s money they worked hard to earn it.

“Diane, are you really the one who asked him to buy this car?” Felicia and Megan gazed and placed their attention on Diane.

Diane smiled embarrassingly and nodded. “Yes, I did. I was just thinking of getting a car for convenience purposes. After all, he was just released from jail. It’s better for us to get a less showy car.”

“Diane, are you helping him to fool us? You can just say he didn’t have the money to afford an expensive card. If he really has the money, buying an Audi A6 is nothing to him. You can keep a low profile but not too low too.”

Megan just could not tolerate it anymore. From where she sees it, Severin was fooling them and her sister was covering for him because of Selene.

“Megan, I’m not lying. Severin is actually quite rich!” Diane smiled bitterly. She finally understood. the feeling to be unable to give a convincing explanation. She had told the truth but neither of her family believed in her.

“Really? If that’s the case, why don’t you ask him to buy us a car? I’m sure that’s not too over, right?”
“Megan rolled her eyes.

“Yes!” Once that proposal was out, Felicia’s eyes brightened. She took a step and smiled at Severin. “My wonderful son-in-law. Since you are already willing to give us the dowry, it’s not a big problem buying William and me a car. Look at us. We don’t even own a car. It’s not very convenient especially when William has to go to work. He is commuting to work as we speak!”

Severin was speechless. Felicia was being too snobbish, especially how she was willing to call Severin just to ask him to buy a car.

Despite the fake and pretentious feeling, Severin was happy to be called that. He thought about.

how he had money that he could not possibly finish spending for the rest of his life. He said,“ Felicia, you’re right. It’s just a car. Go pick one. You can buy any car that is below a hundred and fifty dollars.”

“Brother-in-law! What about me? My dad needs to go to work. I-I’m not working yet but sooner or later, I need to work. It’s going to be troublesome for me if I don’t have a car too,” Megan said. Once she knew Severin had a high budget, Megan was willing to call him sweetly.

“What did you just call me? Brother-in-law?” Severin was stunned for a while. He later giggled.” Didn’t you refuse to call me because you think I’m poor? Why are you calling me that now?”

“If you buy me a luxury car, I will accept you to be my brother-in-law. But don’t you dare try to fool us! We expect not a single cent less from the dowry!” Megan said.

Chapter 133

“Megan, what are you doing?” Diane could not tolerate it anymore. “Severin is buying dad a car so dad can drive to work. And that’s very kind of him. Why should you ask Severin to buy you a car too? Can you afford the gas money if you have a car?”

“Hmph! Who said I can’t afford to put gas into the car? As long as I have a car, I’ll be able to afford it!” Megan snorted coldly and begged Severin again. “Oh, come on. You’re going to buy one anyway. Another one won’t hurt!”.

Severin smiled. “Actually, I don’t mind. I’m going to be your brother-in-law anyway. I have enough. money that would last me ten lifetimes. Buying a car for you is not a difficult task!”

“Really?” Megan was thrilled to hear that.

Even though she still thought Severin was just bluffing. If Severin was really as rich as he said, she would receive a car. Otherwise, this would be a good chance to test him out and she could reveal his true identity. Nevertheless, it was a win-win situation for her.

“But you have to call me brother-in-law ten times. If not, I’m going to buy a car for you. Severin smiled evilly.

“Not a problem. Brother-in-law, brother-in-law, brother-in-law...”

Obviously, Megan did not care about that. For the sake of the luxury car, she did not mind calling Severin her brother-in-law.

Severin was delighted. As the saying goes, ‘Gifts blind the eyes. He just need to settle Megan and the rest were nothing. In the future, she would be on his side and help him. By then, Diane’s parents would have no choice but to accept him as Diane’s husband.

Maurice and Judith exchanged looks at each other. Their face looked weird. ‘Is our son kidding? Does he really have that much money? Perhaps the mysterious savant did give Severin tons of money. From the looks of it, it’s real.’

The thought of spending a lot of money hit Diane hard. She gave Megan a look. “Where’s your bottom line? I thought you despise Severin before. Why are you calling him so sweetly now?”

Megan raised his head. “I looked down on him because I thought he was poor. He’s probably not poor like I thought since he promised to buy a luxury car for me. Maybe I bark at the wrong tree.”

“Let’s go. It’s still early now. We can head over to Autocity to buy the car now. After that, we can drive it to have our lunch,” Felicia suggested because she was worried Severin would regret it.

“That’s right! That’s right! Severin, you’ve promised me. I already called you as you asked. If you are not buying the cars, there’s no saying what mom and I will do to you!” Megan quickly said.

“Sure. Let’s take the cab!” Severin said.

After a while, he said to Diane, “Hey, Diane. Why don’t we buy a new car too? It’s going to be more convenient if we have two cars.”

Diane gave Severin a look and said, “I think you are just feeling unfair that they have better cars and you want to feel it yourself too!”

“Haha! Why not?” Maurice laughed out loud.

During that time, he had been keeping quiet. “You’re still young and you should drive a better car. So the others won’t look down on you. Your mom and I could drive the Chevrolet when we are free.

“Do you remember I have the driving license but not you?”

Chapter 134

Judith rolled her eyes at Maurice and smiled as she reminded Maurice.

Maurice raised his brow and said, “It’s easy. I’ll just sign up for a driving course and learn it. Now we have a car to drive, I surely must get a driving license *

“Yes! Yes! That’s the way to think. You guys are not poor like you used to be. Plus, you guys are not that old too. You should definitely go learn how to drive. Maybe you two can even go for a road trip in the future. Isn’t that nice?” Felicia joined the conversation.

“Huh? Sounds nice. Felicia, that’s a very good suggestion. We can think about going on road trips!” Maurice heard that and his eyes sparkled.

There was nothing they could do because they were poor in the past. Now that they had the money and the time, it was time for them to enjoy their lives.

“Let’s go! Let’s go! Time to grab a cab!” Megan was very excited knowing she was going to own a car and led the way. “There’re many cars in Autocity!”

Soon, the group arrived at Autocity. After a few shops, Megan frowned, thought for a while, and said, “Severin, can we go take a look at Mercedes-Benz?”

Severin nodded. “No problem. Let’s go!”

Diane quickly reminded, “Megan! I know Severin said anything within a hundred and fifty thousand dollars. It means you can also buy those around thirty thousand dollars to forty thousand dollars. It doesn’t necessarily have to cost nearly a hundred and fifty thousand dollars!”

“Oh, come on!” Megan frowned when she heard that. “Diane, this is my first car. Why are you spoiling the fun for me?”

Felicia was unhappy too. “Diane. Severin was the one who said it was not a problem. Why are you so stingy? We’re his family too. And he has never bought anything for us too. So just stand there and watch.”

Diane pouted and said nothing else.

“Wow! This is so gorgeous! Look at how supreme it feels with this red color! I like this one!”

Soon, Megan saw a red color GLE sports car. She ran over excitedly and placed herself on the bonnet while patting it lightly. “Severin. I want this. Can I have this? Does it cost less than a hundred and fifty thousand dollars?”

“Hey, you! What are you doing? You’re going to break the car!”

Suddenly, a saleswoman came over. She took a good look at Megan and rolled her eyes. “This car is very expensive. Can you afford it?”

Megan was infuriated. She stood up and placed her hands on her waist. “What the hell are you talking about? How do you know we can’t afford it? Don’t look down on us, okay??

The saleswoman mocked, “I have been working here for a long time. Obviously, I can easily differentiate between those who can afford it and those who can’t. Look at what you’re wearing.

Obviously, you don’t look like someone who can afford it. I bet your clothes are quite cheap.”

Megan was speechless. When Diane was General Manager, they were able to afford luxury items and they would wear branded clothing too. During the past few years, they had less to spend. Thus, they could only afford cheaper clothing.

While that being said, even her friends drifted away from her and despise her no matter how close they were before.

“What’s wrong with my clothes? So they are not expensive. I just need to look pretty when I wear them. Say it, how much is this car? I, no, wait. My brother-in-law can afford it!” Megan exclaimed angrily with her gritted teeth.

She tried to overpower and pressured the saleswoman from acting stronger.

Chapter 135

“Brother-in-law?” the saleswoman frowned. When she saw Severin, her eyes brightened up

A while ago, Severin went to buy new clothes from an international luxury branded shop. With his look and the clothes, he immediately transformed looking like a successful person.

The saleswoman’s eyes sparkled. “Oh, my. So you have a rich brother-in-law.”

After that, she immediately changed her attitude, “Miss, we are having a promotion for this car. The price is eighty-five thousand dollars. Roughly a thousand and five hundred dollars cheaper than the normal price.”

“Tsk. It’s just eighty-five thousand dollars and you dare to say I can’t afford it. You are so blind!” Megan talked back arrogantly knowing the saleswoman had changed her attitude.

“Wow, wow, wow. Look who it is. Miss Diane and Miss Mega!”

Suddenly, an obese rich kid walked over. His name was Rufus Chavez. He smiled. “I was signing the paper over there and I didn’t see you two coming.”

“Mister Rufus!” Megan’s face became sullen when she saw it was him and was quite unhappy to see him too.

Rufus had tried to date Diane in the past. However, he was ugly and fat too. Diane never liked him and Megan hated him too. Thus, the sisters had never bothered to talk with him in the past.

Rufus walked over with a smile. “Haha. Miss Megan, you remember me. What’s up? Buying a car? Can you even afford this car?”

“It’s none of your business. I can’t afford it but my brother-in-law can. Besides, we are not just buying one car. We are buying at least three cars!” Megan scoffed pleasingly as she crossed her arms and placed them in front of her chest.

“Three cars!” The saleswoman’s eyes sparkled when she knew Megan could be buying three cars.

Rufus directly exposed them. “Are you really believe in her b*llshit? Let me tell you. This lady here is Miss Diane. Five years ago, she was pregnant before marrying anyone. Then she got kicked out. of the house. And this lady is her sister, Miss Megan. They could probably afford it if it was five years ago. But they are no longer important to their family. Probably living the same life as the commoner!”

“Miss Diane Shanahan?”

The saleswoman had been working here long enough to know a thing or two. Very often, rich kids would come over to buy a car and she would eavesdrop on their conversation.

“You’re damn right. Her man just got out of jail a couple of days ago. Do you think someone like him can afford to buy this car?” Rufus mocked coldly.

“But his clothes look expensive!” The saleswoman was still hoping a little. If Severin really bought three cars, she would receive a hefty commission and she would become the top sales for this month. It was the end of the month, exactly the time to hit the numbers!”

“Tsk. I bet he’s wearing a counterfeit. It does look real!” Rufus said contemptuously. “They are probably just here to test drive and use an excuse to go away later. I suggest you stop wasting your time on them. Wait. It’s almost lunchtime. Maybe they are thinking about getting a free meal here too. You never know for sure!”

“Brother-in-law?” the saleswoman frowned. When she saw Severin, her eyes brightened up

"Miss Diane Shanahan?"

The saleswoman had been working here long enough to know a thing or two. Very often, rich kids. would come over to buy a car and she would eavesdrop on their conversation.

"You're damn right. Her man just got out of jail a couple of days ago. Do you think someone like him can afford to buy this car?" Rufus mocked coldly.

"But his clothes look expensive!" The saleswoman was still hoping a little. If Severin really bought three cars, she would receive a hefty commission and she would become the top sales for this month. It was the end of the month, exactly the time to hit the numbers!"

Chapter 136

The saleswoman's face got pulled after hearing what Rufus said. This was not the first time she saw this type of person. However, she had never seen someone pretend to be rich and brought at whole bunch of people together with him to get free meals.

Severin smiled coldly and glared at Rufus. "Hey, fat boy! I don't ever recall crossing you before. Do you have to insult me and my family?"

"Tsk!" Rufus smiled contemptuously. "You never cross me but I just dislike you the moment I see you. What are you going to do about that? I'm going to insult you however I want just because I don't like you. You should be grateful I'm not asking my bodyguards to beat you up!"

Severin looked back at the door. There were a few men in suit smoking. They should be the bodyguards Rufus mentioned.

"Hey, please stop it. Do you have the money or not? If you are here thinking you can get a free meal, please stop wasting my time, okay?" The saleswoman's attitude changed immediately and wanted to kick them out of the shop.

“Haha. It doesn’t matter. If you are worried, we are going to waste your time. We can always go buy the car from Audi!” Severin laughed.

“Tsk, tsk. You’re really very full of yourself!” Rufus laughed.

“Fat boy, I think you’re asking for someone to beat you. I have been tolerating it. Don’t force me to hit you!”

At first, Severin had already thought about leaving. His parent and Diane’s parent were with him. He did not want to fight here because he was afraid he would scare them and he did not want to spoil the good mood. Yet, Rufus had been acting so annoyingly. Severin nearly had enough of him.

“Hey, what did you call me? I hated when people call me fat! You asked me not to force you right? That’s what I do! Come on and hit me if you dare! Luckily for you, it’s been quite a while since my bodyguards fight. I believe their hands must be itchy!” Rufus took a step forward and raised his head to reveal his arrogant face.

“Mister Rufus, please don’t be angry. My son-in-law has a bad temper. Surely he won’t dare to hit you. He’s just joking with you!” Felicia quickly approached, trying to unleash the tension.

“Joking? I’m sorry. But I never like to joke! Didn’t he ask me not to force him to hit me? That’s exactly what I’m going to do today! Come hit me if you dare!” Rufus continued to provoke. “You’re just an idiot that got out of fail. Do you think I will be afraid of you? Who do you think you are? I know you went to cause trouble at your ex-girlfriend’s wedding and leave without a scratch. Well, you got lucky. Do you think I’m useless like Easton?”

Megan too was afraid Severin would act recklessly and fight with Rufus. She quickly grabbed him.

“Severin, swallow it. We need to endure it. He is Rufus Chavez from a second-tier upper-class family. We Shanahans never dare to offend them. If you offend him, we are going to be in big trouble. Don’t let him provoke you so easily. He used to like Diane but Diane rejected him. I’m sure he’s jealous of you now.”

Chapter 137

Rufus looked at Severin and the others who were ready to leave. His face looked so mad that it was turning green. His desire to rip Severin apart had reached the maximum level. Especially after Severin knew he was jealous of him. His face was burning hot.

“Stop them!” Rufus shouted out loud when Severin and the others were about to leave the shop. The bodyguards immediately stopped Severin and the others as there were instructed.

“Mister Rufus, what is the meaning of this? We’re from the Shanahans. Are you really going to hit us?” Felicia said. This was the first time she got involved in this type of incident. It infuriated her so badly knowing she was from a three-tier upper-class family too..

Rufus smiled. “Missus Felicia, what are you talking about? I like your daughter. If she is willing to marry, I don’t mind raising her child too. And you can pick any cars that you want from here. I can buy ten cars for you if that’s what you want. You’re going to be my future mother-in-law. How would I think about hitting you?”

Felicia's eyes and mouth twitched. She was never fond of Rufus. 'He's fat like a pig and he thinks he can marry Diane?'

Out of all those rich kids who liked Diane, Felicia liked Edward the most. He was the only son in the family and without a doubt, he would be the one inheriting all the wealth of the family.

Rufus was the son of Chavezs, a second-tier upper-class family too. However, the head of the family of the Chavezs had two sons. Rufus being the eldest son was derelict without proper work. All he did every day was fool around, splurged money by buying expensive cars, and drink at the bar.

The second son had a good appearance and was smart too. He was talented in dealing with business too. With that said, even an idiot could tell Rufus was never going to have the chance to be in charge of the Chavezs in the future.

That was the main reason Felicia disliked Rufus. She smiled and yet, she knew she had to give face to the Chavezs. "If that's the case, can we leave now?"

Rufus shook his head. "No, no, no. Of course, I'm not going to do anything to you guys because you are the Shanahans, a three-tier upper-class family. Maybe we're going to have some business deal happening in the future, right?"

He paused and continued, "But Severin can't leave. How dare he say my mouth stinks just now? How would the other see of me if I let him leave?"

William's face became sullen. He walked up and helped Severin. "Mister Rufus. Severin is also our family. He's my son-in-law!"

"F*ck!" Rufus cursed. "He's from the Shanahans too? He's your son-in-law? I never heard that your family has ever held a wedding. I was never invited if there is one. Haha. How many people actually know he's your son-in-law?"

"Hey, Williams. I'm giving you more than enough respect by letting you guys leave because you are the Shanahans. Do you really think I don't know? When I talked to Stanley, he mentioned you are just a warehouse supervisor in one of the warehouses. Who do you really think you are?" he continued to mock.

"Rufus Chavez! You are way out of line!" Diane was so angry that her face turned white when Rufus humiliated her father. She glared angrily at him. "It's my call to say if Severin is my husband or not! I don't have the obligation to invite you to my wedding!"

"Tsk, ts, tsk."

It only added more fumes to Rufus' feelings seeing how Diane protected Severin. He mocked. Miss Diane, you are a Shanahan. You used to be the President of the Shanahan family business and the most beautiful woman in Brookbourn. Look at you now! Have you abandoned yourself? It doesn't matter that you have fallen in love with a man who was in jail before. Aren't you ashamed. that you can't even afford to throw a wedding?"

Chapter 138

“I’m going to make it up to her by throwing her a wedding in the future!” Severin approached and rubbed his fist. “You’re so annoying and disgusting pig. I’m going to beat the hell out of you for humiliating my wife and insulting her parent!”

“Haha. You’re just talking. Do you really dare to hit me? Obviously, you don’t! If you did, the Shanahans could never protect you. But I can absolutely ask my bodyguards to hit you for humiliating me just now!”

Rufus also walked forward and stood in front of Severin. He raised his head slightly to show his pleasing face.

Severin had tolerated it because Diane and the others had been asking him to do so. However, he just could not imagine how annoying Rufus could be. He looked back at Diane. “Honey, I want to beat the crap out of him. Can I? He’s too annoying!”

“What a pussy. Do you have to get permission from your wife to do that? Are you a man or not? Haha!” Rufus was laughing so badly seeing that.

“Diane, look at you. What kind of man have you chosen? Why do you pick such a pussy to be your man? You have wasted five miserable years. I told you to be with me. Would it be better to enjoy life with me?” he said.

Diane gripped her fists tightly. In the beginning, she wanted to let it pass and tolerate it. Yet, Rufus was cruel enough to poke the place where it hurt the most.

She was so mad that she yelled out. “Severin! Beat the crap out of him! I’m so angry! You’re not a pussy!”

“Punch!” Severin had waited for this moment for far too long. As soon as Diane gave him her words, he punched directly at Rufus’ nose.

With the loud cracking sound, Rufus was seen flying away and dropped heavily to the ground a second later.

“Ouch!” Rufus landed on his buttock. He felt like his buttock was about to rip apart into two. The pain was indescribable. He touched his nose and saw blood flowing out of his nose.

“I’m bleeding! Oh my god!” Rufus was scared. “You useless bunch of people! Haven’t you watched enough? What are you waiting for?”

The bodyguards were enjoying the show and only reacted after Rufus scolded them. They quickly bolted toward Severin with their fists ready to punch Severin.

“Ahh!” Felicia and the rest were frightened as they quickly stumbled back.

“You-you really hit him?” Diane regretted instantly seeing Rufus bleeding.

The fit of rage controlled her mind just now. She thought Severin would not do it even when she shouted out just now because he knew she was infuriated.

She took a deep breath. "It's alright. As Severin said, the damage is done. There's nothing he can do about it. Besides, we are the Shanahans. I don't believe Rufus would actually dare to fight us."

It did not console Felicia. Instead, she nearly passed out. "You stupid girl! What are you thinking of? Your grandmother has not accepted him yet. Do you seriously think your grandmother will offend the Chavez because of him?"

"Mom, don't worry. I will bear my own responsibility and I will ask the Shanahans to help me or burden the Shanahans!" Severin said.

"Deal. Remember what you said? Just don't involve my daughter!" Felicia said.

"Come on, mom. Let's go to Audi to buy our cars!" Severin smiled faintly.

"That's right! We're not going to buy from here! Lousy attitude!" Felicia rolled her eyes at the saleswoman and walked proudly.

"Hmph! I don't believe you guys can really afford it. What a bluff!"

Chapter 139

Fury roared through the saleswoman's mind when she watched Severin and the rest leave the shop..

Soon, the saleswoman discovered three Audi A8 were driven out of Audi's shop. Most importantly, the cars were the limited edition which cost two hundred thousand dollars each.

"Seriously? They can afford those expensive cars?" The saleswoman was dumbstruck.

Megan who was driving at the front even rolled down her window to make a ghost face at the saleswoman.

"No! No way! Those cars are probably near seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars!" The saleswoman regretted it so much. 'I shouldn't have listened to that d*ckhead Rufus! There goes my commission!"

Megan was driving the first car and Felicia was driving the second car.

At this moment, Felicia had forgotten about the unhappiness from before as she was driving the luxury car. "Go figure! Severin really has the money to buy us cars. Do you remember when he said his budget was a hundred and fifty thousand dollars? Now he actually bought us this car!"

Williams did not look happy like Felicia did. "Megan was the one who asked him to buy this car because she wanted to provoke the saleswoman.

"Megan only gave him a suggestion to buy this car. She didn't force him to buy it. He also agreed with Megan's idea to provoke the saleswoman. Besides, didn't you see the look on the saleswoman's face when we drove past?" Felicia said pleasingly.

"It feels so good to be driving a luxury car! I feel so good. I think my body has reached a new level!" she lamented.

Williams on the other hand did not share the same feelings as his wife. He smiled bitterly. "Severin is a nice guy. He was trying to protect us and he could not bear having Rufus insult Diane. But he has crossed Rufus this time. I'm afraid to know what is going to happen to Severin."

"Who cares? I mean he said he can settle it. We don't have to do anything!" Felicia said. "If he really can settle it, it means he is capable and he is not an ordinary person. Then he is worthy of our daughter. If he can't, it just proves that he does not deserve to be together with Diane. Besides, Diane gave birth to a daughter for him. We deserve to receive this car as a gift from him."

"It's two cars, not one!" Williams reminded.

Judith and Maurice were sitting in the last car. They were surprised Severin could afford to buy such expensive cars. Although it hurt them to see Severin spend that much money, they did not think it was right to say it when Diane was sitting in the passenger seat in front.

Moreover, they knew Diane was a very good daughter-in-law. When Severin was in jail, she secretly looked after them and helped them. Because of that, they thought they owed Diane and her family a lot.

Judith gave it a thought and thought it was better to ask. "Severin. What are we going to do if Rufus really comes to seek trouble? Aren't you afraid?"

Judith gave it a thought and thought it was better to ask. "Severin. What are we going to do if Rufus really comes to seek trouble? Aren't you afraid?"

Severin looked indifferent. "Why should I be afraid? Different situations call for different actions. Don't worry, mom, I'm a different person now!"

He thought about it and said, "Mom, Dad. Why don't we sell the Chevrolet? I can buy a better car for you two!"

"Don't. I haven't got my driving license yet. Besides, we don't need to drive an expensive car. After I got the license, I can drive the Chevrolet. At least if I accidentally knocked it, I would feel too bad about it," Maurice answered.

"Huh? What did you say? The Chevrolet is a new car too. What do you mean by you won't feel bad if you knocked it? I will!" Judith said.

Maurice quickly explained embarrassingly. "I don't mean that. I mean I will feel even worse if it is an expensive car!"

"That's more like it!" Judith was satisfied with the answer.

Severin saw his mom's grey hair. They turned grey because Judith had been worried about him. Mom, why don't I give you a treatment for your hair two days later? I'm sure it's going to turn black soon!"

"Really? If my hair will turn black again, I'm going to look ten years younger!" Judith joked.

"Twenty years younger!" Severin said with a smile.
