

After Prison 611

Chapter 611

Diane breathed a sigh of relief after hearing that Severin would be back in another two days. Though she also knew that Lillie and the others were already strong enough, the way they respectfully addressed Severin as their master made it obvious that Severin was even stronger than them.

Severin chatted with Diane for some time before they ended the call and went to bed.

However, another couple who were lying in bed had insomnia at about an hour past midnight. None of Cain's calls to Mehdi were answered, so both he and Lucy had a bad feeling in their heart. "Darling, they couldn't have been killed, right?" Lucy finally asked Cain after some time had passed. Cain answered gloomily, "I don't discount that possibility. I can't get in touch with them even though it's already passed midnight, so it's quite possible that they were killed too. Are the female bodyguards working for Severin really that powerful? Not even Mehdi and his men are a match for them even though Severin was not around."

"Didn't you say that warrior kings are all super strong? Why are they still no match for Severin's bodyguards?" Lucy shook her head in disbelief and still could not believe what she heard.

Severin had let her off the hook several times already, so there was no telling whether or not he would lose his patience on that occasion and decide to kill them both.

Cain pondered over the situation. "Don't panic. If he does come looking for us, we'll just tell him that we didn't send those men. He killed the Slasher Gang's men previously and incurred their wrath, which is why they sent another batch of men to kill him!"

Lucy rolled her eyes at Cain and said, "Do you think Severin is an idiot? Why would he believe us? Based on his current status and strength in Brookbourn, he could easily kill us if he wanted to!"

Cain frowned, knowing that that the lack of evidence would never stop Severin from killing them as long as he suspected them of playing a part in this.

"What should we do? How about we escape, Cain? Didn't Edward leave Brookbourn too? As long as we leave Brookbourn and fly far away, then Severin won't be able to find us! The money you have will allow us to live comfortably too!" Lucy finally suggested to Cain after giving it some thought.

Cain frowned when he heard that and smiled wryly at her. "Oh, Lucy. I'm a member of the Slasher Gang, and it won't be that easy for me to escape. The circumstances surrounding Theo's and Mehdi's death are known by the higher-ups. Do you honestly think the Slasher Gang would let me off the hook if the two of us run away? If they know that Mehdi was killed, they would send a more powerful person to take revenge on Severin! All we have to do is wait!"

Lucy, however, said, "I'm worried that Severin might kill us both before that powerful person succeeds in killing him. Are you sure the Slasher Gang will hunt us down if we run away?"

Cain nodded without hesitation. "They don't know of your existence, but since Mehdi and Theo died in the process of avenging me, the gang will come for me and kill me if I just upped and left out of fear. I know their character too well. They have never and will never tolerate deserters! By running away, I'll become a deserter in their eyes!"

Lucy was speechless for a moment because the situation seemed to have passed the point of no return.

Chapter 612

After thinking about how dire everything was, Lucy could not help but ask Cain, "What should we do now? How am I going to spend the rest of my life if you end up being killed by the Slasher Gang one day? Doesn't that mean your wealth will all disappear too? How am I supposed to survive then?!"

Cain frowned and sneered. 'All she thinks about is money! It's as if her sole concern is how she'll be able to survive if I'm dead! However, when he thought about how Lucy had been taking care of him the past few days after his legs were broken, he said to her, "I have a lot of money on me, but I can't transfer everything to you. How about I give you a hundred and fifty million for now, so you'll have enough to sustain you for the rest of your life if someone from the Slasher Gang kills me one day? Does that sound all right?"

"A hundred and fifty million?!" Lucy gasped when she heard that and felt excitement deep in her heart. However, she soon calmed herself down as much as possible and said to him, "You've been so kind to me, Cain. I hope you can understand where I'm coming from because it's not easy for men to understand women. This isn't about me loving money. I'm just worried that I won't have anyone to rely on if you're not around anymore. Besides, you know that my parents are getting old too!"

"Yes, Lucy, I understand!" Cain nodded, and said, "But I believe that the Slasher Gang will send an even stronger person once they get word of what happened here. Severin's fate is now sealed, so we can't run away now. If we stay here, we might still be able to witness the moment they kill Severin!"

Lucy, however, said, "But Cherridom is so far from here! They would take some time to come here, and I'm worried that Severin might capture us and kill us before the Slasher Gang's strong people arrive!"

Cain thought for a while and said, "Well, if you are worried, then we can move to an old neighborhood for the time being. Severin won't be able to find us so easily that way!"

"Old neighborhood?" Lucy was not too happy when she heard that she would have to stay in that sort of old community again. After all, it was not easy for her to lower her living standards after finally being able to live in the big villa that was the stuff of her dreams.

However, she could only nod bitterly because it was a necessary move to save her life. The two of them hired some people to help them move in that one night and temporarily stayed in a ghetto community.

The next morning, Cain picked up his cell phone and called the Slasher Gang's higher-ups after confirming that Mehdi and the others were all dead.

For safety's sake, Diane and the others stayed at home the next day, with Lillie and the other girls breathing a sigh of relief after knowing that Severin would be back in just another day.

However, they were taken by surprise when Sheila brought a few bodyguards over to their villa that afternoon. She was a little disappointed when she saw that Severin had not returned yet. "Hasn't he returned yet, Diane?"

Diane could not help but smile when she saw Sheila's disappointed expression. "He'll probably be back tomorrow. You might be able to see him if you come a little later in the day tomorrow."

Sheila's eyes lit up instantly when she heard that. "Thanks for letting me know, Diane! I'll be back tomorrow then!"

Chapter 613

However, what Diane and others did not expect was that Quintus had already driven to Severin's residence with his father, Barrie, and other elite fighters. Another man in his twenties came along with them too.

"This is Severin's home, Eugene!" Quintus led his distant cousin over and pointed out Severin's house.

Eugene could not help but smile and say, "The Novaks are a second-tier family in Riverson, and you're their scion too! I didn't expect you to suffer so much in this small city. I wouldn't have known if you didn't tell me about it!"

Jada smiled wryly from one side, "We're lucky that none of our acquaintances in Riverson know about this, otherwise I'd be ashamed to go out and meet people. I hope you're able to help us reclaim our dignity today!"

Eugene looked at Jada and said, "Don't worry. You'll have my help for sure!"

"Indeed. Eugene has enjoyed practicing martial arts since he was a child, and I've always known that he'll grow up to become someone promising. Quintus, on the other hand, always spent his time playing, and he's never shown himself to be a promising person even until the present day!" The stocky Barrie could not help but remark with a smile.

"What are you talking about, Dad? Am I really that terrible in your eyes?" Quintus remarked, unable to accept his father's criticism of him.

However, Barrie glared at him and said, "You wouldn't have been bullied in such a small city like Brookbourn if you aren't so unpromising. Besides, all you do is eat, drink, and have fun all day long. I wouldn't have to worry as much if you had even a fraction of Eugene's excellence!"

As they spoke, they finally arrived at the gate of the villa where Severin stayed.

"Come out, Severin! This is Quintus looking for you!" Quintus had a boost of confidence at that moment because his cousin was a junior general who, being a warrior king, had a high level of attainment.

Though Severin's bodyguards might be formidable individuals, he believed that they were no match at all for his cousin.

"Quintus, you son-of-a-b*tch! You're here again?" Lillie and the girls stormed out with Diane. After seeing Quintus and Jada bringing several men over, Lillie immediately stepped forward and said, "You're as bold as they come, aren't you, Quintus? You deserve a beating!"

"Girls? That's all? And your guardians couldn't even handle them?" Eugene glanced at Lillie's group and remarked nonchalantly. In his eyes, the girls probably had relatively high attainment than most, and a place like Brookbourn would have even fewer warrior kings.

Chapter 614

Quintus immediately said, "It's these girls, all right. The head of our bodyguards are no match for them at all! Even though none of our guardians have taken action as of yet, I can tell that they're no match for any of these women. That's the reason I'm asking you for your help, Eugene!"

After saying that, Quintus still saw no sign of Severin and could not help but frown. He then said to Diane, "Where's your man? Hehe, did he run off with his tail between his legs after knowing that I brought my guys over today?"

Diane's face soured as she said, "Severin went out, but he'll be back by today." After a pause, Diane continued, "Didn't you just swear a few days ago that you'll walk the other way and avoid messing with us again? Why are you here now? Aren't you ashamed of being a man who doesn't keep his word?"

Quintus did not get angry after hearing that and laughed instead. "Haha! I am flexible man, if you get my drift. I had no choice but to give in under those circumstances. Today, you're all done for now that I brought my elder cousin brother over!"

Wendy looked at Eugene. There were many junior generals in Dracodom assigned to many different armies, so it could be expected that the girls would not know who Eugene was. Wendy had a frown as she asked him, "Are you that junior general that the b*stard Quintus mentioned?"

Eugene took a step forward and cupped his hands in a polite gesture while saying, "Yes, I'm his cousin. It would've been fine if you didn't want to cooperate with my cousin in the contract, but it wasn't necessary for you to beat him up, make him kneel, demand an apology from him, and kill one of their family's strong men. I will have to stand up for my family!"

Diane was speechless when she heard that and immediately stepped forward to argue. "Don't you have any idea what sort of person your cousin is? My bodyguards only beat him up because he threatened me and wanted to force himself on me! He then came to our home and said that he wanted to kill us, so you can't blame us for having to take some measures and protect ourselves! How could you believe all his nonsense?"

Jada immediately looked at Quintus with a frown because his version of the events was the exact opposite of what Diane said.

Quintus immediately protested. "Don't listen to her! She's spewing a bunch of bull! Everything she says is slander because she hasn't got any evidence to back up her claims!"

Although Eugene had an inkling that Diane was probably telling the truth, he could not back down since he had already agreed to help Quintus and Barrie.

He could not help but sneer and say, "My cousin is right. How am I supposed to believe you when you don't have any evidence? Besides, my cousin has a fiancée, and he's about to get married soon. Why would he be attracted to a married woman when he will get a beautiful wife?"

After ending his sentence, Eugene could not help but surreptitiously wipe off several beads of cold sweat. He had never lied so blatantly in his life, and it was not often that he met a woman who was that beautiful. She was a charmer, and his cousin might have had certain malicious intentions toward her!

Besides, anything was tolerable as long as a woman was beautiful enough, whether she be married or even if she had a child.

Abigail took one step forward and shielded Diane in the blink of an eye as she said, "Ma'am, there's no point talking nonsense to a bunch of people who are here to cause trouble. Does he think he's all that just because he's a junior general? Let's talk with our fists!"

"Haha, now that's more like it." Eugene could not help but laugh when he saw Abigail, because people who came from the battlefield usually preferred to speak with their fists. It had been a long time since he engaged in a fight, so he naturally planned to teach them a lesson with his fists. After all, being looked down upon by these women would make him a laughingstock if word got out.

Eugene took a step forward, clenched his fist, and said, "Come at me! If either one of the six of you can defeat me, then we'll leave immediately and consider this debt settled!"

Chapter 615

"Arrogant much? Let's see what you're made of then!" Naomi could not stand it any longer. She took one step forward, clenched her fist, and manifested a gust of spiritual energy on her fists.

Upon seeing the strong fluctuation of Naomi's spiritual energy, Eugene frowned instantly and clenched his fists before throwing a punch.

A slight boom was heard, and the force pushed Naomi back seven or eight steps behind before successfully stabilizing her firm figure. Meanwhile, Eugene only took two steps back. Judging from the confrontation between the two, it was clear that Eugene had the upper hand.

"Awesome! My cousin is better than Severin's bodyguards!" Quintus was not that dumb, and he could immediately tell that his cousin was stronger than the opponent. As a result, he felt even more reassured, thinking that his cousin might have only used less than one-tenth of his strength to throw that punch. At long last, they could all finally avenge themselves for the shame that they suffered!

Jada breathed a sigh of relief after seeing that development.

However, both Naomi and Eugene's expressions turned serious at the same time, and it appeared that neither of them expected the other party's attainment to be so high. For the record, junior warriors usually had an attainment of a level nine profound master or a level one warrior king.

Individuals such as Naomi and Wendy were considered to have attainment beyond that of the norm, and their combat strength was thus much stronger as compared to the majority of junior generals. That was also why Warren sent them when Severin requested his help to find some bodyguards.

Be that as it may, Naomi did not expect Eugene's combat strength to be about par with theirs, and his attainment was high enough that he reached the attainment of a level four warrior king.

"His attainment level is slightly higher than yours!" Wendy pointed out with a frown, but she soon reassured with a smile, "Don't be afraid though. He can't do anything with all of us here!"

Naomi still did not give up as she said, "Don't worry. I haven't used my punches yet, and I haven't even utilized any spiritual energy in my attacks. His physical strength is stronger than mine, and his attainment is higher than mine too, but I might still be able to take him in a fight!" After ending her sentence, she flew several meters high in a flicker and said to Eugene below, "I can't showcase my skills on the ground. How about we take things to the air?"

"Sure!" Eugene smiled, flew up in a flash, and stood opposite Naomi. "Show me your skills!"

"Holy hell! They're flying!" Quintus and everyone else on his side was completely shocked to be in the presence of people who were so strong that they could fly.

"Warrior kings can keep themselves in the air for a short time. That's just how amazing they are!" Many of the Novaks' bodyguards were envious too.

Naomi and Eugene fought for a long time, but Naomi was simply no match for the man. After fighting for some time, Naomi got injured and fell from the sky.

After Eugene secured victory, he could not help but laugh as he flew up to Quintus and asked, "Hehe, does that satisfy your desire for revenge, Quintus?"

Quintus said with a chuckle, "Haha, it sure did, but this isn't enough. You said that you wanted Severin's family to kneel before me and slap themselves while apologizing to me, and you also mentioned wanting to break Severin's limbs! It doesn't matter that he's not here right now. You can deal with his bodyguards for the time being and handle him once after he arrives!"

"No problem! I can help you destroy Severin's attainment!" Eugene thought about it and said with a smile. Quintus was even happier to hear that. Although Eugene had earlier said that he would not kill anyone, Quintus would be more than happy to see Severin being humiliated, especially if he crippled Severin and destroyed Severin's attainment.

'Severin is as good as dead, and I'll have plenty of opportunities to torment him in the future. Diane probably wouldn't want to be with someone useless too, so I'd still stand a chance of snagging her for myself! Quintus was buzzing with excitement when he thought of all that.

Chapter 616

"I'll do it!" Wendy knew the limits of Naomi's strength, and if Naomi could not hold her own against the opponent, then the outcome would probably be the same even if either Abigail or Lillie came forward.

"Oh? You're not going to surrender, then?" Eugene then smiled slightly as he flew up and said to Wendy, "I must say, Severin is quite amazing. I can't figure out how he managed to invite such strong people like you to become his bodyguard!"

"Enough with your nonsense! Come at me!" Wendy waved at the other party with a goading look on her face.

"Hmph! You think I'm afraid of you?"

Eugene flew even higher, and the two of them began to fight! Several minutes into the fight, Eugene realized that something was amiss-Wendy's attainment level was the same as his, but she was better than him in terms of combat power. Although he was able to hold out for several minutes, he was still no match for Wendy and was struck so heavily that he fell back to the ground. He spat out a mouthful of blood and his face paled instantly.

“How is this happening?! Are you all right, Eugene?” Quintus ran over with a panicked expression, and he never could have imagined that his cousin would be defeated.

After Quintus helped him up, Eugene said to Wendy, “I’ve always been one of the strongest among the level four warrior kings, but I didn’t expect that you’d be stronger than me even though our attainment is the same.”

“Hehe, you’re not too bad yourself, but you’ve ruined your reputation in front of us. It’s a shame that one of Dracodom’s junior generals would be so willing to help these good-for-nothing people!” Wendy chuckled with a hint of disdain in her eyes.

Eugene nearly fainted because he was so angry to hear that. “Let’s go!” He gritted his teeth and finally said to Quintus, “Forget it, Quintus. They’re too powerful!”

“Hold it right there. Did you people think that you could just come and go as you please?” To everyone’s surprise, a familiar voice was heard at that moment as Severin showed up at the villa gate and walked in.

“Honey!” Diane was so excited to see him that she ran over and threw herself into Severin’s arms. “I thought you said you’ll only be coming home later in the evening?”

Severin smiled. “I drove over the speed limit because I missed you!”

“Hey, you should be careful on the road! Why did you have to drive so fast!” Diane then realized that a lot of people were watching her, so she hurriedly backed away and blushed.

“Haha, it’s because I’m worried about everyone.” Severin laughed. Diane’s phone call left him feeling incredibly worried, so he rushed as fast as he could and arrived before noon,

“So, you’re Severin?” Barrie looked at Severin and asked angrily.

Chapter 617

Severin glanced insipidly at him. “I take it you’re the old b*stard?”

“Old b*stard?” Barrie gritted his teeth angrily after being called that. He immediately glared at Severin and lashed out, “Pretty brave of you to call me that! You must’ve grown sick of life?”

Severin smiled and said, “Well, your son is a little b*stard, and rather than doing what a father should do by educating your son, you brought a whole host of people to my house just to terrorize my family. Calling you an ‘old b*stard’ is justified!”

“Why you little...” Barrie had never been humiliated so terribly before, and he wanted to step forward and punch Severin as soon as he clenched his fist.

His men, who were all standing behind him, stopped him immediately. Even if they combined all their strength, they would probably not be able to withstand one of Severin's punches with their grandmaster-level attainment.

"We lost because we were unlucky today. I didn't expect the bodyguards you hired to be so powerful. We acknowledge our defeat!" Eugene looked at Severin and said again, "I promise to take them away and make sure they never trouble you again!"

"Hehe!" Severin chuckled after hearing that. "Quintus and his fiancée Jada said the very same thing when knelt in front of me the other day. He swore that he would never trouble our family again and will walk the other way if he sees us around, but he still came to my house to look for me."

Severin paused for a moment after saying that and continued with a cold expression, "Your words mean nothing. How am I supposed to believe your nonsense?"

"What do you want then?" Barrie looked at Severin and felt incredibly angry. Eugene was a junior general, yet Severin did not seem to show any respect toward the man.

Severin then said coldly, "I previously said that I won't show any mercy if Quintus came to stir trouble again. I've already forgiven him for his attempt to castrate me, but I'm afraid I have no room for forgiveness now that he's come here again!"

"I dare you!" Barrie glared at Severin.

"I'll take up your dare then!" Severin did not take Barrie seriously at all.

Eugene's expression soured too, and he looked at Severin while saying, "I'm a junior general, so I hope you can show a bit of courtesy to me today!"

"Hehe, I won't let the same thing happen three times. Quintus had already gone past my bottom line!" Severin chuckled and walked right toward the man in question.

"W-w-w-what are you going to do?" Quintus was so frightened that he began retreating backward.

"Grab him!" Severin's expression was cold and he was in no mood for any negotiation.

"Yes, sir" Wendy and Lillie immediately appeared behind Quintus and grabbed the man.

When Barrie saw that Severin was about to attack his son, he shouted immediately at the guardians behind him, "Kill him!"

Those guardians had a decent level of attainment and were all profound masters, but as soon as they rushed up, Severin threw them one after one and then them flying into the air. Every single one landed on the ground and vomited blood after suffering a serious injury.

"Grahhh!" Eugene appeared in front of Severin in a flash to try and punch him.

"You think that'll work?" Severin was fuming. He had given Quintus more than one chance in the past, yet Quintus continued to cause trouble for them to the point where he completely lost his patience.

Chapter 618

To make things worse, Quintus brought his men there when Severin was not at home. If Wendy and the others had not been strong enough to fend them off, the result would have been much worse.

Severin clenched his fist and sent his opponent flying with a punch. Eugene fell heavily on the ground and spat out a mouthful of blood.

“What? You’re no match for him either, Eugene?” Barrie thought that Eugene could stop Severin, but his face immediately turned pale with fright when he saw that Eugene had been sent flying several meters back.

“What sort of attainment level does he have? His punch is at least that of a level six or level seven warrior king” Eugene’s heart was filled with turmoil, and Severin’s strength had exceeded his expectations.

Severin could only smile coldly. He held back from using much of his strength earlier because Eugene would have died from his punch if he did. He then walked slowly toward Quintus with an ice-cold expression.

“Dad, save me!” Quintus yelled, his legs trembling in fright. He pressed both thighs tightly against each other to protect his crotch as he pleaded, “I know I made a mistake, Severin. I promise I wouldn’t dare to do it again! I’ll walk away when I see you in the future!”

Severin sneered and said, “I’m tired of hearing your crap!” Severin moved at lightning speed as he separated Quintus’s thighs open and delivered a sharp kick to Quintus’s crotch!

“Agh!” Quintus wailed like a pig going to slaughter and passed out from the pain. His manhood had been destroyed for good. Jada, who was beside him, took two steps back in fright and could not believe what had happened.

She had warned Quintus many times that Severin would not let them go that easily if their attempt to end his life ended in another failure. Unfortunately, Quintus’s tunnel vision was so fixated on revenge that he ignored her advice and believed that there would not be a problem if Eugene made a move.

Sadly, Eugene was no match for Severin, and Quintus had been reduced to becoming sterile. From the looks of it, the Stones might not be able to prosper by relying on the Novaks.

“Son!” Barrie wanted to rush over, but the remaining bodyguards held him back. They knew that there was nothing Barrie could do even if he rushed over, and his actions might even end up angering Severin.

Severin turned around and said with a calm expression, “I’ve shown you an incredible amount of mercy by not killing you this time around. If something like this happens again, I promise you I’ll wipe the Novaks from the face of the earth.”

“You...” Barrie was so angry that the veins on his forehead popped up, but there was unfortunately nothing he could do about it.

“Leave!” Severin waved his hand.

“Let’s go.” Barrie had no choice but to bring his men away. He then had Quintus sent to the hospital to check whether or not Quintus had been rendered sterile

The doctor examined Quintus and informed everyone that the only option was complete removal of his genitalia.

Barrie was completely dumbfounded as he stood in the hospital corridor and listened to the doctor's explanation.

Victor happened to arrive with his people at the time too.

"Dad...Quintus...he's sterile now!" Jada stepped forward and frowned with an extremely sour expression.

After hearing that, Victor nodded. "I see. You're lucky that Severin didn't go on a killing spree, or else you might probably end up dead!"

Victor then looked at Barrie. "Victor, I'm afraid his marriage to Jada will have to be called off. She's still young, and she hasn't officially gotten married yet. I can't let her be childless for the rest of her life!"

Chapter 619

Barrie could only nod with a listless expression. "I understand that Jada is a good girl, Victor. She persuaded me and Quintus not to trouble Severin anymore, but my son and I didn't listen to her advice. We thought Eugene could help avenge us, but we didn't expect things to turn out this way!"

"Sigh." Victor sighed and then said to Barrie, "I should remind you again not to think about getting revenge on Severin in the future. It's unfortunate, but we can't afford to provoke him. I was surprised that you came here and went directly to him without telling me. I would've persuaded you against it if I knew that you wanted to cause trouble to them!"

"What do you mean by that?" Barrie frowned, sensing that there was more to Victor's statement from the latter's tone.

Victor then explained, "You might not know this, but a group of elite fighters from Cherridom came over just a few days ago. They were all powerful people, but they all ended up dead after fighting with Severin's female bodyguards. I asked the guardians of our family and were told that all those girls are warrior kings. If they are already that strong, God knows how much stronger Severin would be!"

"Sigh!" Barrie sighed and said, "It's too late to talk about all that!"

Victor thought for a moment and then said to Barrie, "Jada and I will be heading off then, Barrie! We might not be in-laws anymore, but we can still be friends!"

Barrie then sighed to himself before saying to them. "Take care then. I won't see you off!"

On the way home, Victor smiled bitterly. "Severin isn't a bad person, to be honest. He would have killed you without batting an eye if he was. Now that Quintus ended up like this, I urge you not to think about causing trouble for his family. Having a peaceful, worry-free life is good enough!"

Jada's bad temper had mellowed significantly and she could not help but say, "I understand. Severin isn't the kind of person that we can provoke. I hope Quintus and Barrie will be able to reflect on their mistakes and know better than to provoke Severin in the future."

"How are you, Eugene?" Barrie then went to check up on Eugene

Eugene looked at Barrie and said, "I'm fine, Uncle"

Barrie then asked, "Aren't you the right-hand man of senior general Arthur? Will you please ask him to help us?"

To his surprise, Eugene smiled wryly and said, "I'm afraid even Arthur might not be a match for him. From what I sensed of Severin's punch, his attainment level is at least level six or level seven warrior king. Arthur is only level eight, and if Severin didn't use his full strength earlier, then there won't be any difference Arthur came to help!" Eugene then sighed again, and persuaded Barrie, "I think you should just forget about it, Uncle Arthur is a senior general, and he doesn't like to concern himself with such things. If he knew that everything resulted from Quintus's lust for Severin's wife, he will be even less inclined to help! I'm not stupid, you know! It's as clear as day that Quintus didn't tell us the truth?"

"Sigh. I guess I can only concede this time" Barrie did not know what else to say and he could only accept his fate "Guess Severin is the kind of person that no one can afford to offend!"

"Dad's home! Dad's home? Selene ran out when Maurice and Judith opened the door

Severin walked over immediately and hugged her. "Did you miss me?"

Selene pursed her lips. "Didn't you say you'd bring me toys when you came back?"

"Haha, how could I forget?"

Severin laughed. "They're all in the trunk of the car! Let's go get them!"

Chapter 620

The viciousness and coldness that Severin had toward his enemies had long since disappeared when Selene showed up. It was replaced by a warm look of gentleness.

"You're finally back!" Diane went up to Severin and said with a smile, "It mustn't have been easy for you. Why don't you catch up on your sleep and have some rest?"

Severin smiled and said, "Nah, I'm not sleepy! It makes me happy to see that everyone's safe and sound!"

Diane was still a little worried as she said to Severin, "We might not need to fear the Novaks, but Eugene is a junior general. Do you think he'll come and cause trouble after being humiliated like this today?"

Severin smiled. "Don't worry. There's nothing to be afraid of if your husband is around!"

He then glanced at everyone else and said to the bodyguards, "You've worked very hard these past few days, so how about I will all of you to a big dinner later tonight? It's about time you get some well-deserved rest!"

“Yay! We get to eat good food tonight!” Wendy immediately exclaimed with glee.

“Finally, a chance to relax!” Lillie added.

The male bodyguards were just as happy too.

Severin put Selene on the ground and left her to play with her new toys. He then said to Diane, “Could you come upstairs with me, honey? I have some good news for you!”

Diane’s eyes lit up immediately and she immediately followed him in.

The two of them soon arrived at the second-floor room, and Diane asked him eagerly, “What’s the good news? Tell me!”

Severin looked at the beautiful woman in front of him and could not resist stepping forward to hug her and kiss her on the lips.

“Mhghh!” Diane’s eyes widened and a blush appeared on her face.

Severin finally let go of Diane after kissing her for some time. She gave him an annoyed look and said, “You rascal! Is this the good news you had for me?”

Severin smiled awkwardly. “No, there’s another piece of good news, but it’s been too long since I saw my lovely wife, and I couldn’t help but kiss you because I missed you so much!”

Diane felt all sweet in her heart and said with a slight smile, “Is that so? You were only gone for a few days, but your skill at coaxing people has improved even more!”

Severin smiled and said, “I’m being honest. Not being able to see you for a couple of days makes me miss you a lot!” Severin then went straight to the point and said, “By the way, the good news that I have for you is that I acquired a lot of treasures after going to Dracodeus Isle. I also managed to confirm the existence of a treasure that can help change a person’s attainment. My uncle-master said that he would help me locate it, and he told me that he’ll give it to me if I bring you to meet him on August fifteenth next year!”

“Is that true?” Diane’s heart felt ecstatic and she could not help but pump her fists in the air! “That’s amazing! I can finally step into the world of attainment when the time comes!”
