

After Prison 781

Chapter 781

Manny lowered his head as he was boiling with anger. He had no idea why his father suddenly became a coward.

After Jacob finished beating Manny, he turned around and smiled at Regan. "Regan, my brother. The damage is done and we had offended the current governor. No matter how he is the newly appointed South County's Governor!"

At this point, he paused. "Thus, I think we should go apologies to him to show how sincere we are. Regardless if he would come after us in the future or not."

Regan nodded his head after hearing that. "I guess that's the only solution we have now. An apology itself is not enough. We should bring some gifts over!"

"Gifts. Tsk, I don't think he's interested in money or gold. Let's give him some spiritual herbs. I know it's going to break our bank but at least that can show our sincerity." Jacob smiled.

"Dad, seriously? We knelt down and apologized to him today in front of everyone and he said he has let it go. Is it really necessary for us to go apologize to him again?" Manny hated the idea. "I don't want to go and kneel down before him again. It's really very embarrassing!"

Surina nodded. "Honey, I don't want to do that too. Before this, I humiliated him and now I really don't want to kneel down to ask for forgiveness. It's too embarrassing! I think Mister Manny is right. We apologized once and there's no need to embarrass ourselves again."

"But..."

Surina was Regan's beloved mistress. After hearing what Surina said, he did not know what to do. Instantly, he looked at Jacob, hoping Jacob could give him a piece of advice.

"It's different. From Severin's point of view, he might think the only reason we were willing to kneel down and apologize was that the War God, Calum, was there and he was there. Thus, it could not display our sincerity," Jacob expressed

He paused a while before continuing, "If we go apologize one more time and give him some spiritual herbs, that could show our sincerity. What happened between us is actually very minor. If we can show him our sincerity, there's a chance he will truly forgive us and not hold any grudges."

Regan nodded. "Mister Jacob, you're right. Let's do that. Luck was not on our side. We had no idea they would actually appoint an unknown young man to be the governor. If we had known, none of this would happen."

"Dad, you guys can go ahead without me. I'm not going. It's too humiliating!" Manny said to his father. A second after that, he received a slap on his face.

"Dad!" Manny was angry but he did not dare to vent it out.

“You and Surina must go. You two are the reason we are in this mess. If you two don’t go, how are we supposed to show Severin that we are sincerely feeling sorry?” Jacob said angrily.

“That’s right. You two need to go. Let’s go prepare the spiritual herbs. Ten first-grade low-rank, ten first-grade medium-rank, and also ten first-grade high-rank herbs. Are those enough?” Regan asked with gritted teeth.

Yacob thought about it. “I think those are too little. In order to show our sincerity, I think we should prepare twenty each.”

“Twenty!” Regan was shocked and felt terrible that he needed to give that much. It was not the low-rank.

Dad about. It was knowing that he needed to fork out twenty first-grade high-rank spiritual herbs that hurt his heart. After all, the first-grade high-rank spiritual herb was very hard to come by.

“How are we going to show our sincerity and loyalty if we don’t give him that many? It’s going to be this time only!”

Chapter 782

Yacob tried to persuade Regan.

“Okay. Let’s do that and get going!” Regan gave it a thought and finally nodded. Soon, the group drove all the way to Severin’s villa.

“This is it. Let’s go.” Although they were reluctant to go, they forced themselves to do it.

When they were at the entrance, they were stopped by the guards. “Who are you guys?”

Regan approached with a friendly smile. “I’m Namvail’s mayor, Regan Yankov. This is Yacob Ladd, the mayor of Yusky. We are here to see the governor.”

“That’s right. Could you be kind enough to tell the governor that we are here to see him?” Yacob said with a smile.

“Sure. Please come with me. You can wait outside the villa while we inform the governor!” A guard said. Later, he brought Regan and the others in. When they waited in the garden, a guard went inside the house. “Ma’am. Do you know where is the governor? There are two mayors here to see him. They said they are Regan Yakov from Namvail and Yacob from Yusky.”

Since the guard could not find Severin, he reported to Diane who was sitting on the couch. “Okay. You may leave. I’ll go get Severin.”

Diane nodded and stood up. Sheila stood up too. “Diane, are they the ones who offended Severin today? Why are they here? Do you think they haven’t given up and still want to come to look for more trouble?”

Diane smiled bitterly. “I don’t know too. But I don’t think they are here to look for more trouble. They won’t wait and let the guard come in to inform us. Instead, they would just barge in!”

After that, she went upstairs. When she was upstairs, she realized Severin was in the most important alchemy process. Thus she did not disturb him and waited until Severin was done to inform him.

“They are here?”

Severin frowned. “Hmm... I have no idea what are they thinking about. Come on. Let’s go take a look!”

At that moment, Manny and the rest had been waiting for a long while and still, they did not see Severin. Their faces looked terrible and serious.

“What’s the hell with this guy? Is he doing it on purpose? Is this what he wants? Let us stand here and wait for a long time?” Surina said impatiently.

“You better not throw a tantrum now. We’re here to apologize. Even if he is doing it on purpose, we have no choice but to wait for him patiently!” Regan reminded her.

Just then, the villa’s door opened. Severin, Diane, and Sheila walked out. Manny, Surina, and the rest quickly stopped complaining when they saw Severin.

“Mayors, what brings you two here today? I know how busy you two normally are.” Severin chuckled and approached them. “Fellows. Please sit down and tell me the reason for your visit.”

“Do you prefer fruit juice or water? I’ll get the maid to prepare,” Diane asked.

Regan quickly waved his hand. “Ma’am, you don’t have to. We, we’re here to apologize!”

Right after he finished his sentence, he knelt down. “That’s right. Governor, we’re here to apologize for the mess that happened earlier. I hope you could forgive us.”

Yacob, Manny, and the others also knelt down. Although Manny felt resented, he had no choice but to follow since his father was down on his knees.

Severin quickly approached and pull them up. “What is this? Didn’t you guys apologize to me this morning? I have already forgiven you. Why are you guys here again?”

He had no idea what was going on. After some thinking, he chuckled. “Haha. Or do you guys love to kneel at someone because you guys like to lower your reputation and dignity?”

The corner of Yacob and Regan’s mouths twitched a few times. It was unbelievable to see Severin insult them in a mocking tone. Most importantly, they could not talk back and felt utterly embarrassed.

“No, no, no! Yacob and I think our earlier apology was not sincere enough. Thus, we decided to come to apologize one more time,” Regan quickly said.

Yacob quickly took out a spatial ring and passed it to Severin. “Governor, There are twenty first-grade low- rank, twenty first-grade medium-rank, and also twenty first-grade high-rank herbs stored inside. With those, we express our sincere apology,”

“Yes! That’s right. The same goes for me!”

Regan also took out the spatial ring he prepared and passed it to Severin with respect and an obsequious smile.

Severin sighed. "This is not necessary. I already told you guys. As long as you stopped bothering me or do not mess with me anymore, I won't go after you guys. Do you know how busy I am? I have no time to care about you guys at all!"

He really meant what he said. After all, it was going to create chaos for the other mayors if he killed two mayors right after he became a governor. Most importantly, he had already taught them a lesson and he was busy studying alchemy to help Larry and the others leveled up. Time was really of the essence and he did not have the time to bother with other things.

He looked at the spatial rings Regan and Yacob were holding and decided to accept them. "Since your guys have prepared these, I will accept them as you wish. I believe if I don't accept it, you two would have back?" trouble sleeping at night. Alright. I have accepted your apologies. Can you guys now go

"Thank you, governor!"

Chapter 784

Kirk was very mysterious, and no one even knew his name, but as a genius doctor, Sean was different.

He often had to attend medical conventions and didn't hide that he was friends with Kirk, which attracted many people's attention.

Both Jane and Daphne knew his name. Jane knew it because the Collins family was already one of the big four families, so she kept tabs on families more prominent than hers.

Daphne knew Sean's name because she hadn't been able to find any information about Kirk, except that he was good friends with Sean. Hence, his name had left an impression on her.

"That's me." Sean turned around to face the man who had rushed over.

The man hurriedly approached Sean, nodded solemnly, and said, "I'm really sorry! I'm the person in charge of this store. I'll compensate for my subordinates' incompetence. We'll do whatever you want!" The man's tone showed his sincerity.

Sean pointed at Jane and Daphne and ordered, "Ban these two from your store for life."

When the man saw who he was pointing at, he was hesitant.

"What's wrong? Didn't you say you would do anything?" Sean sat down on the couch and crossed his legs.

He smiled very gently, but an imperceptible coldness was hidden in that gentle smile.

"But The man walked up to Sean and glanced at Daphne. "Ms. Dawson is married to Mr. Eddy's second uncle. I can't ban her."

Banning Daphne was equivalent to getting killed. Eddy's second uncle was a respectable man. He didn't dare to offend him either.

Right now, the bridal boutique was silent, so Daphne heard his words clearly.

As if someone was supporting her back, she straightened up. "So, you're Sean. My husband has talked about you."

She said with a smile. "Since you're my husband's friend, you're my friend as well" As she spoke, she stretched her hand to him as a show of goodwill

Sean didn't even look at her. Disgust appeared on his bookish face as he said, "Really? But Ki—he never told me he was married."

Daphne's expression changed slightly. Kirk definitely wouldn't tell Sean that she was pretending to be his wife.

But as his friend, if Sean said he didn't know about her in front of everyone, it would only make them think she was insignificant to Kirk Sure enough, everyone began looking at her differently.

Her face turned pale. She said, "Oh, maybe it's because we just got married, so

Sean waved his hand and interrupted Daphne, "I want them banned from this place. If you can't do even a simple thing like this, I tell Eddy about it and let him handle it himself!"

Sean smiled again. "I find it troublesome to make two phone calls in a row for something so trivial"

Speaking of this, the store manager had just finished packing her things and walked out. When she saw the person in charge, her eyes were red.

The person in charge gritted his teeth and ordered, "Someone escort these two ladies out and ban them from this store!"

"How dare you?" Jane was furious.

She said, "I'm Howard Collins' wife."

The person in charge smiled in response. "I don't have a choice, Mrs. Collins. Please leave."

Seeing that using her status didn't work, Jane hurriedly said, "She's married to Mr. Eddy's second uncle, you know!"

The person in charge couldn't bring himself to keep smiling. If he had to offend Daphne or Sean, he would choose the former.

A rich man's spouse could go away at any time, but if Sean could mingle with the likes of Eddy, it meant that Sean was also from the upper class. Things wouldn't end

Chapter 785

At that moment, Yacob gave them a vicious smile. "Seriously, how naive can you two be? Do you really think I'm scared of him? Although Regan did a very good job with Namvail's development, he did not have many strong fighters in his mansion. It's normal for him to be afraid of Severin."

He paused before continuing, "But I'm not afraid of Severin because we have many strong fighters!"

At this point, more questions popped into Manny's head. He frowned. "Then why did you insist that we have to go kneel down and apologize to him embarrassingly if you aren't afraid of him?"

Yacob sneered coldly. "Because I want to let Severin put his guard down. The war god won't suspect us when Severin got killed if we went to apologize to Severin together with Regan."

That had completely explained everything. Manny's eyes lit up while he gave a thumb up. "Dad, that's a brilliant idea! Why didn't I think of that? This is literally demeaning ourselves before we could accomplish something greater!"

Carlo followed. "You're wrong. It's feigning an illusion while secretly planning something else! I must admit it's really a brilliant plan!"

Manny became so excited. "We have higher chances when we send our men to go kill Severin now that he has let his guard down. And when he's dead, we have Regan to cover for us when the war god asks us about it."

"You didn't know what I was trying to do before and even resented me!"

Yacob laughed out loud and balled up his fist. "Who does Severin think he is to have the nerve to come against me? Hmph! He's not going to have the slightest idea how he ended up dead!"

Manny nodded satisfyingly after hearing that. "Yes. This is great. Even if he is a level five or six warrior king, he can't defeat Great Elder and Second Elder. Moreover, he doesn't know who they are. They could easily find an opportunity to kill him! That's the best plan!"

Yacob looked pleased. "Most importantly, the chance for me to be appointed as governor is only available after he is dead. He must be dreaming that he could remain as governor for long when he has no support or power."

"He's going to die within a month. I think he's going to be the governor with the shortest term in South County's history!" Without any delay, Manny started to fantasize about his future. Instantly, he thought the two slaps his father slapped him did not hurt that much anymore.

Yacob looked at his son. "Manny, you need to remember. Sometimes we have to temporarily act weak to create an illusion for our enemy. It's critical that we need to have a high tolerance level. Your personality is not good enough. You need to go through more tests and training. Otherwise, how are you going to lead our family in the future?"

"Alright. I understand it now!"

Manny nodded. "Dad, then when should we make our moves?"

Yacob smiled. "Let's not rush it now. Other people will easily suspect us if we do it now. Wait for a while. When everyone had forgotten what happened today, we shall send Great Elder and Second Elder to do the job. They are both level seven warrior kings. Severin has no chance of survival once they team up together to kill Severin.”

“Hahah! Great! This is great! Too bad my attainment is too low that I can’t kill him myself. I know it’s going to feel great if I can do that!” Manny laughed out loud with much excitement.

Yacob looked at Manny and said, “You better train hard. You’re only powerful when you have the power to protect yourself. We do have many strong fighters but it’s impossible for the elders to follow you everywhere you go. What happens if your enemy spotted an opportunity to kill you?”

Chapter 786

Manny nodded seriously. “I know it now.”

After that, he looked out the window while he was feeling extremely happy. Once Severin was dead, his family was going down with him. By then, he could bully Diane in any way he liked.

After some thinking, he thought of something. “Oh, Dad, did you see the other woman together with Severin just now? She’s very pretty too and she looks very young and cute. Do you think they are related?*

“Oh, that woman. Her name is Sheila Ballard. The daughter of Zachariah Ballard, the mayor of Brookbourn. Yes, she does look good. It’s very rare to see such an energetic and pretty girl now,” Yacob answered.

“Yes.” Manny nodded with a plan in mind. “Dad, she’s really very pretty. What about we go visit her father and get her father’s permission to marry her? It’s not every day that I get to meet a girl that I like.”

He knew very well that Yacob would never allow him to marry Diane who was already married and the wife of their enemy. Thus, his plan was to bully and play with Diane and not married her.

On the other hand, Sheila was different. Not only was she from a reputable family, but she also looked very young. Most likely, she was still a virgin. A girl like her was a suitable candidate to become his wife.

The suggestion obviously had stunned Yacob. After a while, he looked happy. “You’re finally willing to settle down. It’s good to get married early. You can learn to be a responsible father soon and I can be a grandfather too!”

“Then let’s go propose two days later!”

Manny smiled. He believed as the son of Yusky’s mayor, Zachariah had no reason to reject his proposal since Yusky was one of the most powerful cities in South County. However, he reckoned the reason Sheila had known Severin was because Severin was also from Brookbourn so it was normal for Sheila to go visit Severin when she was here. Or maybe Zachariah sent Sheila there to grovel Severin with gifts.

At the same time, Shane reached Neely’s residence with a bad temper. When he reached the door, he started shouting from the bottom of his lung.

“Yoel Neely! Get the hell out here this instant!”

The last time he saw Yoel walking on the street, he was alone without any bodyguards. Thus, he made the call to ask his bodyguard to bully Yoel. Yet, he ended up being beaten by Severin.

Over these two days, he had been thinking over and over again. He went back to the street to look for Severin. However, he could not find Severin. Thus, he came to look for Yoel and wondered if Yoel knew who Severin was.

Yoel came out together with a few elders. Right beside him was a pretty and pure look girl. It was none other than Delilah, the girl Shane wanted to court too.

“Shane, why are you shouting?” Delilah asked with an angry face.

Chapter 787

“Delilah, I didn’t know you are here,” Shane said with a smile, and simultaneously, the anger on his face. was nowhere to be seen.

“Hmph! I heard that you tried to bully Yoel when you saw him the last time. Is it true?” Delilah snorted. Shane. Yoel’s father and brother had just passed away. His family is in a downturn now. Do you think it was nice of you to bully him now?”

Shane looked embarrassed and quickly explained, “Delilah, you must have gotten the wrong information. How could I do that? Someone must be trying to frame me. Even after suffering a loss, the rich family is still rich. No matter how bad his family is, I couldn’t just bully him as I wish.”

After that, he did not continue with his explanation and asked Yoel instead. “Hey, Yoel. I’m sure you know who that guy was. Where does he live? Give me his address!”

Yoel smiled bitterly. “Are you sure you want his address?”

“Cut to the chase. He beat my men and insulted me. I have a bone to pick with him. I’m going to make him pay if he is still here!” Shane said evilly.

“Sure. I’ll give you his address!” Yoel smiled and wrote down Severin’s address for Shane.

“Good!”

Shane sneered after he got the address from Yoel. He waved his hand and left with the strong fighters he brought together.

Soon, they reached the outskirts of where Severin was staying. At this moment, Severin had asked people, to take down the golden and shimmering signboard that stated this was the South County Mansion. He thought it was too eye-catching.

During the meeting of the inauguration, Severin had already informed the mayors of his address. Thus, he felt it was not necessary to show off any further and requested to have the signboard taken down. On the left side of the entrance, he had people hang a wooden signboard carved with the words, ‘South County

Mansion’.

When Shane and the others were here, they did not notice the small and almost invisible wooden signboard. They tried to barge in without invitation.

“Stop right there. Who are you guys? This is not the place you can go and come as you please!” Two bodyguards, who had leveled up from level nine profound master to level one warrior king, reprimanded when they saw it.

“Haha! Scram! Don’t block my way!” Shane chuckled.

“What? How dare you? How dare you scold us!”

The two bodyguards, who had just leveled up to level one warrior kind, were very excited to finally reach a new level. Even though they were being appointed to guard the door, they were feeling good. With such a big improvement in their attainment, the spiritual energy in their bodies increased many times. They had been dying to find someone to test out their new power and strength.

Their wishes were granted when Shane and his men came looking for trouble and even scolded them. They balled up their hands and attacked.

“Fight them!” Shane waved his hand and shouted seeing how the guards did not let him in.

Immediately, a few bodyguards with lower attainment rushed up and fought the guards. The result at least level six or seven profound masters. Yet, they fail to defeat Severin’s guards. Before long, his bodyguards were beaten to the ground and grunted painfully.

“Warrior king?”

Shane frowned and finally started to realize the situation was not in his favor.

“No way!”

Behind Shane were four warrior kings. Shane had specifically brought them here to fight Severin. After the insult he suffered the other days, he knew he needed to bring more powerful men with him.

“Unbelievable. This guy actually appoints two warrior kings to guard his door!” One of the warrior kings.

Chapter 788

“Indeed. Why would a level one warrior king end up guarding someone else’s door?” A level three warrior king asked.

The strongest of them all was a level five warrior king. Yet, he was stunned to see Severin actually hired two level one warrior kings to guard his door.

South Link City was a place where many strong people hid their true power. It did not lack strong fighters. However, it did not mean warrior kings were everywhere on the street. To become a warrior king, one needed much training and talent. Why would they end up guarding someone’s door?

“What’s wrong with that? We love this job. Do you have something against this?”

One of Severin's guards folded his arms and placed them in front of his chest. It felt too good after testing out their new strength. If they knew who these people were and if they would not be in big trouble, they would have killed those people who had attacked them just now.

"Haha. Young master. I think that guy must be trying to scare us off by arranging this. I don't care why did he hire two level one warrior kings to guard his door. We're here today and we're going to make that guy pay!"

A level four warrior king took a step forward and balled up his hands where there was spiritual energy surrounding his fist.

"F*ck! He's a level four warrior king!" Severin's guard got a shock.

"What's wrong? Did I scare you?" The level four warrior king looked pleased.

"Wait. Our master is going to teach you guys a lesson! Severin's guards exchanged looks with each other and ran into the villa. Shane and his men laughed out loud.

"Mister Severin! We got an emergency! A guy is here with many strong fighters!" The guards ran and shouted. Severin heard the shouting and came out, so did Lillie and the rest.

"Shane Watt?" Severin took a look and smiled bitterly. "My, my. You have some nerves showing up at South County Mansion to find me!"

"South County Mansion?"

The smile on Shane's face froze immediately. "Who are you trying to scare? This is South County Mansion? How come I didn't know?"

"You didn't know this is the South County Mansion?" Severin frowned and laughed later. "No wonder you got the audacity to come here to look for my trouble. You really didn't know this is the South County Mansion!"

"Haha! Stop kidding me! Do you think you can scare me by saying that?" Shane chuckled. His eyes brightened up again. "Gosh, there're so many pretty girls in your home!"

"I'll fight your men together. Don't waste my time!"

Shane's arrogance had pissed Severin off. Severin waved his hand to invite Shane's men to a fight. "Hey, kid! So you're the one who beat our young master. I'm going to break your limbs today!"

The level four warrior king flashed and reappeared in front of Severin. A second later, he got blasted away like a fallen kite. When he dropped to the ground, he splurged a mouthful of blood. His injury was severe.

Chapter 789

"How-how is that possible?" The remaining three warrior kings were shocked to see a level four warrior king being beaten instantly.

Shane's face looked bad. "You three! What are you guys waiting for? Fight him now! Isn't one of you a level five warrior king? It's not going to be a problem to kill him with two level three warrior kings!"

Although that was what Shane said, the truth was he did not feel confident too. Especially how the level four warrior king was defeated so quickly. It might mean Severin could be a level six warrior king. If that was real, Shane's men did not have a chance at all.

"Let's fight him together!"

The level five warrior king felt the same too. Yet, he thought that he might stand a chance when they outnumbered Severin. With his gritted teeth, he decided to fight Severin together with the other two warrior kings. The three of them only lasted for a while before they were defeated and ended up lying on the ground.

Moreover, Severin killed two of them. One being the strongest of them all, the level five warrior king.

"Ouch! My ribs are broken!"

The one who stayed alive pressed his chest. Blood was bleeding from the corner of his mouth and his face looked pale. At that time, the rest of the bodyguards of the South County Mansion arrived.

"Oh, my god! Mister Severin is so fantastic! He actually killed them with just one punch! Does that mean he is at least a level six warrior king?"

Musa looked at Severin with admiration as if Severin was his idol.

The guy beside him laughed. "Haha. Mister Severin is really very strong. I heard the two mayors who offended him came here personally to apologize to Mister Severin and even knelt down before Mister Severin too. They also gifted Mister Severin with plenty of spiritual herbs."

The thirty-one bodyguards Severin hired were now mostly level one warrior kings. Those who had not achieved needed just two or three more days before they became one. Before this, they worried much when Severin had crossed Manny. They were afraid they would be in danger if they became Severin's bodyguards. Only did they know it now, they were lucky to be a member of the South County Mansions' bodyguard. A dream for many others.

Most importantly, Severin gave them a type of medicine that could help them achieve higher attainment- and stronger power. Shane was dumbstruck to hear it.

It took him a while before he could talk with his trembling voice. "Is this place really the South County Mansion?"

"Do you think we need to lie to you?"

A bodyguard folded his arms, placed them in front of his chest, and sneered. "You have offended the governor. I must say you're a brave one."

"I-I'm sorry!" Instantly, Shane lost his energy and dropped to the floor. He finally understood why Yoel would give him Severin's address without any hesitation.

It turned out Yoel had already known Severin was the newly appointed governor. He was not afraid to see Shane come looking for Severin's trouble. In fact, he dreaded to see Shane do that.

“Alright. I have killed two of your men. That shall teach you a lesson and stop you from causing trouble for Yoel.

Chapter 790

Severin chuckled. At least, the Watts suffered huge damage after losing a level five and level three warrior kings. There was no way Shane would have the ability to go look for Yoel’s trouble anymore in the future.

“Young master, let’s go!” The rest of the bodyguards ran over and helped Shane to get on his feet.

Severin looked at the two dead bodies and said, “Wait. Take these two dead bodies with you when you leave!”

Shane nearly vomited blood after hearing that. However, he did not have a choice. He ordered the bodyguards with less severe injury to carry the two dead bodies.

When he was at the door, he looked up and said sorrowfully, “F*ck him! Where is the signboard? I don’t see it! This is ridiculous! If I know this is the South County Mansion, I would never dare to barge in!”

“Young master, look over there. There’s a little wooden signboard. I think it has the words, ‘South County Mansion’ carved on it!”

A bodyguard looked around and pointed at the wooden signboard. Looking at the rectangular wooden signboard, Shane felt speechless. “Sh*t! Does he need to be so low profile? Who the hell would notice that damn signboard? It’s so f*cking small!”

The two guards who were on duty to guard the door went back to their stations.

“What’s wrong? Mister Shane, we’ve already informed you. This is not a place where you can go and leave as you like. But you did not believe me. You didn’t give us the time to explain to you at all.”

One of the guards said with a smile and it managed to make Shane angry again. Without any delay, Shane and the rest hurried back home.

Dillon, the head of the family was taking a walk in the garden when he saw Shane come back in a mess. He approached and asked, “What’s going on? Why is Mister Arun dead? Who killed him? Who did you offend?”

Shane looked at his father and nearly broke down in tears. “Dad, I-I have offended the governor!”

After hearing that, Dillon nearly fainted. He pointed at Shane angrily. “You, you! Idiot! He was just appointed as governor yesterday and you have already offended him today! You...”

“Dad, no one told me who the new governor was!” Shane looked at Dillon with an innocent face.

“I overheard a conversation that our governor is called Severin Feuillet. Those who attended the inauguration were mostly mayors. Not many upper-class families in South Link City actually attended it.” Dillon sighed. After knowing what happened, he suddenly aged vehemently. It took great effort for the family to reach this level. It ached his heart to see they lost two strong fighters in a day.

“Master. Why don’t we patrol the gate more often when we are free? I discover there have been many people coming in looking for trouble over these two days,” Wendy suggested after Shane and his men left.

Severin heard that and smiled faintly. “There’s no need for that. I think those who want to come seek trouble have come already. None of them dare to come anymore. Regan, Yacob, and the others are going to leave here to go back to their cities soon. I can finally have the time to study the method to produce the second-grade low-rank medicine in peace now!”

“Second-grade low-rank medicine!”

The eyes of Wendy, Lillie, and the others lit up immediately after hearing that. Based on their attainment, ade low-rank medicine could bring many benefits to them.

Severin laughed. “Don’t worry. When I successfully produce it, I will give each of you one. You girls have been stuck in this level of attainment for far too long. One medicine each should be enough to level up!”
