

Arabella 91

Chapter 91

“Mr. Collins is in the loop and he’s cool with you staying over.” The butler added.

Arabella was puzzled. Her dad agreed, just like that?!

No way!!

“Here’s a voice message from your dad.” Phillip opened his phone and played it for her.

“I’m definitely more at ease with Arabella staying at your place, so I guess I won’t wait up for her tonight.” Kenneth’s voice came out.

After all, she was bound to become a McMillian sooner or later. Plus, Phillip promised there’d be no room-sharing with Romeo. He just fancied his future daughter-in-law and wanted her to stay a night at Fairfield Manor. With dozens of servants around the manor, there was no way anything could happen under their watch.

really object and had to let it not expect her dad to agree so had it cleaned.” After Phillip finished, he turned to the butler, “Get Arabella

a lantern

reached out to take it, from the lantern and the you afraid of the dark?” Romeo turned Romeo put his arm around her shoulders, “If you are, just stay close to ghosts, let alone darkness. It was nothing compared to what she had been through. When they arrived at the room, Arabella realized that the lantern was kind of unnecessary. The room was so large that girl in front of him. Her sparkling eyes were like stars in the night sky, radiating a captivating until the power’s back.” He couldn’t resist touching her face.

how soft, tender, and smooth her face was. It was a bit small,