

Arabella 102

Chapter 102

Did he make a billion-dollar deal, Or maybe he pulled one over on a rival? Or did he just acquire a couple of powerhouse companies?

If not, then why the grin that won't leave his face?

"Look up popular restaurants and places of interest that young women might enjoy in the area."

Hearing Romeo's words, Carl had an 'aha' moment. So, his good mood has something to do with Ms. Bella! When he walked into the office earlier, he saw Romeo on the phone with someone. Could that someone be Ms. Bella?

"Mr. McMillian, you're taking quite an interest in Ms. Bella, aren't you?"

In the past, Romeo never asked him to search for popular restaurants and attractions. A simple meal was enough before returning to work. But ever since he met Ms. Bella, the aloof Romeo seemed to be warming up. At least his eyes were no longer only occupied by work.

"It can't be all about work. It's time to consider a personal life," this, Carl was left with a few questions

"Yes, Mr. McMillian, what do you need?" Carl felt a bit uneasy.

"Have I ever treated you poorly since you started working with me at eight?"

Romeo's question took Carl aback.

"No, you've given me the highest salary in the industry! I'm delighted!"

"No, you can't just look at the present, be content with the status quo."

Carl was a bit puzzled.

"From this month on, your salary will be doubled."
