

Arabella 116

Chapter 116

“Will you miss me?” Romeo seemed determined to get an answer.

With no other choice, Arabella firmly replied, “Yes.”

“I’ll

miss you too.” Romeo lowered his head and gently kissed her lips. His affectionate eyes were filled with longing and love. “I’ll pick you up after work.”

“Okay.” Arabella blushed a bit, grabbed her stuff, and prepared to leave.

Romeo still held her hand, unwilling to let go. “I don’t want you to leave.”

Whenever he saw her, he couldn’t care about anything else. He just wanted to be with her.

Arabella had no idea that Mr. McMillan, reputed to be cold-hearted, would be so bold in public. Now that she knew, she found it amusing.

“So, you want me to stand here chatting with you while holding all this heavy stuff?”

“Do you need me to carry it to your office?”

Arabella pulled her hand back. “I’m off work in an hour; you should go.”

“Bella.”

looked

I said on the Ferris wheel today

liked her.

so that he saw his serious eyes and simply replied, “I know.”

her leave and quietly followed a step, and Romeo followed. They maintained a short distance until Arabella disappeared into the company. Only then did Romeo stop, take out his

and call her.

own way, he quietly protected and accompanied with rage. She could hardly believe the usually top wasn’t incapable of love or eyes were filled with love and tenderness, something Serena had

Why?!

rude girl receive Romeo's favor?.

the one receiving

Serena's nails dug into her palms. She couldn't just sit by and appearance, knowledge, or ability, Romeo

incomparable to anyone

that unique