

The Untouchable Ex-Wife

Chapter 1568

Jovan read the contract carefully without missing anything, and the room was silent except for the clicking of Timothy's medical equipment. After a while, he snorted and crushed the contract slowly in his hand. "Haha! It's ridiculous!" Jovan hurled the contract at the floor and burst into laughter, shocking Timothy.

Timothy thought Jovan would accept such a good offer immediately, but the way Jovan was laughing made Timothy feel like he had made the wrong decision. "What are you laughing at?" Timothy asked Jovan seriously.

"I'm laughing at you both and myself." Finally, Jovan finished laughing and calmed himself down. His eyes gleamed dangerously. "Yes, I admit your offer is tempting. All of you see me as a cunning person who'll pay any price to get Hunt Enterprise, right?"

"Aren't you?" Timothy sneered, not knowing what Jovan was getting at. "I won't force you if you don't want it, but you'll never get the company as long as I write in my will that eighty percent of the company shares belong to Stefan." He had compromised and tried to appoint Jovan as the heir of the company because he felt that Jovan was bolder and more decisive than Stefan. Jovan would focus more on the company than his relationships, and it would be a happy ending if both Jovan and Stefan got what they wanted.

However, Jovan had thrown his offer back in his face, them fight it out themselves. After all, he would not live to suffer through their fight.

"Yes, any ordinary man would accept your terms and be thankful for your admiration. I would have accepted it too, but there's one thing... that I find unacceptable." Naturally, Jovan didn't want to let such a good offer slip past him, and wanted to compromise with Timothy.

"What is it? Is it Stefs shares? Or the ratio of the dividend?" Timothy raised his chin proudly and said, "We can discuss that. Stef isn't after wealth and fame, and what he owns now is more than he can spend. I believe it's fine for him to get less than that."

"No, I'm not that kind of man either." A chuckle escaped Jovan. "I want wealth and power because I want to be with the person I care about, but you made that impossible for me in this contract. What's the use of the position then?" Timothy frowned in confusion. "The person you care about?"
