

Chapter 979 Sigrid's Revenge

Tap! Tap!

Sigrid's footfalls echoed around the parking lot with each step she took.

A look of arrogance lay visible on her face.

"Why is it a mere Toyota?"

Sigrid was unhappy about the car being a plain Toyota.

The car was owned by Trevor. He bought it just after his arrival at Esterham.

Trevor rolled down the window. With a faint smile, he said, "If you don't like it, you can choose to not get in."

Sigrid gritted her teeth in anger. However, she ignored his comment when she remembered her plan for revenge on Trevor.

With a snort, she said, "Next time, choose a car that goes along with my status."

Sigrid began provoking Trevor with silly demands as soon as she got in.

"Why is the air conditioner on 26 degrees Celsius? Adjust it to 25."

"Why is the music not on? Hurry up and turn on the music. Make sure to change the channel so it plays the popular music."

However, Trevor refused to react.

He had already seen through Sigrid's plan.

Sigrid wanted to order him to do all kinds of trivial tasks so as to feel superior to him.

However, Trevor ignored her and drove on without saying a word.

Sigrid was furious. How dare Trevor ignore her?

When Sigrid was about to lose her temper, Trevor pulled over.

"What are you doing? Drive!" Sigrid screamed.

With a sneer, Trevor said, "Get out of the car."

Sigrid's eyes widened in surprise, giving her a comical look.

"What are you talking about? How dare you ask me to get out of the car? How dare you disobey Zakai's order?"

Sigrid was forced to get out of the car before she could enjoy the high she got from bossing people around.

Trevor took out his phone and pointed at the time on the screen and said, "Sorry, it's six o'clock. I'm off duty. You want me to work overtime? No problem, but you have to pay more."

Sigrid's neck turned red and her face distorted in anger.

She stamped her foot on the car and yelled, "I asked you to work for me because I thought you were capable. How dare you demand overtime pay? I will report you to Zakai tomorrow and make sure he fires you!"

Sigrid emphasized that Zakai was behind her to intimidate Trevor.

"Are you done?" Trevor asked, impatience audible in his tone. "If you are, then get out of here."

Trevor had planned to see what Sigrid was really made of, but he found that she was nothing.

She was the type of woman who relied on her body to get what she wanted.

Trevor lost interest upon the realization of this fact.

He opened the door and pushed Sigrid out of the car.

For a moment, Sigrid's brain didn't seem to register that she had been pushed out of the car.

It wasn't until she stumbled and nearly fell that her brain caught up and her rage swelled.

"Jerk! How dare you!"

Sigrid stamped her foot on the ground angrily.

Rage turned her eyes red.

She hadn't been able to make fun of Peter yet. How could she let him go?

No way!

Sigrid found this completely unacceptable.

To her, Trevor was just a useless bodyguard and, as such, should obey her every command. No matter how far she pushed him, he was supposed to sit there and take it.

But Trevor dared to resist!

Sigrid stood in front of the car, staring at Trevor with visible resentment when a diabolical plan popped into her mind.

She quickly removed her suit jacket and ripped open her white shirt, revealing her shoulders and a part of her breasts.

In an instant, her clothes were a mess, and she was half naked. She then began to scream.

"Help! Help! I've been molested! He's trying to rape me! Help!"
