

Chapter 986 Sapphelleore Group

When Sigrid and Zakai left together, Martin returned with a complacent look.

He immediately told the news to his friends. And this scene was also witnessed by the other bodyguards.

The bodyguards hired by Trevor decided to tell Trevor that Martin spoke ill of him before Sigrid.

One of the bodyguards pretended to go to the restroom and sneaked into a corner to call Trevor.

"Dragon, you have to come back now. Just now, that slutty secretary came again and found that you are not here. She said she's going to fire you."

Upon hearing this, Trevor smiled lightly. "It's okay. You don't have to worry about me."

He had already anticipated this.

He was well aware of Zakai's attitude towards him.

After Trevor helped Zakai defeat Giant, who was hired by Cyril, Zakai wanted his help in pursuing Sally.

However, Trevor never thought of helping such a scumbag like Zakai to harm women.

He estimated that Zakai's patience had reached its limit. So it was already difficult for him to continue working in Glory Company.

Fortunately, he was prepared for this.

At this moment, Trevor was standing at the door of a large company.

"It's time for these documents to be released," Trevor murmured with a smile, touching the folder in his arms.

The folder contained the secret documents he had found and photographed in the study of the Sanderson family's villa.

These documents involved industrial espionage and core product secrets of many companies.

The company in front of him now, Sapphelle Group, had been secretly targeted by Dooley many times. He had bribed significant employees in the company, planted commercial spies, and even stole many of its business secrets for a long time.

What Trevor had to do now was to tell this secret to the top management of Sapphelle Group.

"Hello! I want to see anyone from the top management of your company," Trevor said to the receptionist of Sapphelle Group. He looked at the receptionist's name tag and found that the name of this young and beautiful woman was Greta Perez.

Greta smiled and said, "I'm sorry, sir. I can help you make an appointment and inform the senior executives. But they may not meet you."

Trevor nodded in understanding. The senior executives of a large company were usually busy with their own affairs. Naturally, it was not easy to meet them.

It was even almost impossible for them to see someone like Trevor who didn't make an appointment through a phone call. But Greta was polite enough not to say anything to drive him away.

Trevor recalled the contents of the documents in his folder. Dooley had secretly done something to this company before he went on a business trip.

He guessed that the senior executives of Sapphelle Group must be very anxious now. Once the core confidential information was leaked and not handled properly, it was very likely to damage the foundation of the company.

"The senior executives of Sapphelle Group must be very busy recently, right?" Trevor asked to start a conversation with the receptionist.

"Yes," Greta replied with a nod. Obviously, she didn't mean to have a long conversation with Trevor.

At this moment, the elevator doors opened, and a fat-bellied middle-aged man in a suit and leather shoes walked out.

He was not wearing a company badge, but he looked like one of the leaders.

But the expression on his face didn't look good. He was obviously very unhappy. When he saw Trevor, he walked over quickly and asked loudly, "Who are you? What are you doing in our company?"

The middle-aged man looked at Trevor and checked the guestbook. Then he said to the receptionist coldly, "How many times do I have to tell you that most strangers like him come to the company to sell stuff? Don't even register them for an appointment. Greta, you're so stupid that only our company is willing to hire you. Take your work more seriously. Otherwise, you will lose your job."

As he spoke, he rested his hands on his hips. Somehow, his mood lightened up after scolding the receptionist.

He had been coveting Greta for a long time. He planned to belittle her and find a way to make her obedient to him, so he could take advantage of the opportunity to take her to bed.

Then he turned to Trevor and sneered, "Get out of here! A salesman is not welcome in Sapphelle Group! Fuck off!"

Exclusive Offer For You

GO NOW