

Chapter 990 Cyan Gang

"Fire Mahoney! He shouldn't be here anymore. We will never tolerate traitors like him!"

"Yes! I have been wondering why our rivals can always compete with our products right after we launch them. It turns out Mahoney is a traitor. We can't let him off the hook!"

"Not only that, he should be sued too!"

In the meeting room of Sapphelle Group, the people gathered there were furious. Trevor looked around. All he could see was their faces burning in rage as if they were eager to execute Mahoney on the spot.

Effie, the CEO, shared their sentiment as well. With fiery eyes, she gritted her teeth and scowled, "Mahoney, you'll see! You will pay the price for what you've done. We will sue you for stealing confidential data and you'll stay in prison for years."

Slumped on the floor, Mahoney broke down, shaking and crying.

"No! You can't do this to me. I have worked so hard for this company. How can you be so cruel? Look, I was tempted, and that was it. Any senior executive could have made the same mistake as I did. Please give me one more chance to stay here and prove my worth. I'll do better from now on, I swear! I'm begging you, don't sue me. I don't want to go to jail!"

Much to his chagrin, Effie ignored his plea as she called the guards and ordered, "Get Mahoney out."

After that, she contacted the HR department to expedite the process of terminating Mahoney's employment.

However, the problem wouldn't end with Mahoney. They still had to deal with the spies and traitors in Sapphelle Group. However, Trevor stopped Effie and whispered, "Dooley Sanderson is behind this. He has great resources and connections, so I hope you won't be impulsive about exposing him. If you trust me and do as I say, I can destroy Dooley."

Biting her lower lip, Effie contemplated what he suggested and frowned. "It's not that I don't trust you. You've gained my respect and trust by giving me the document, Dragon. But you should know this is not a game. It's more complicated than that. Although Sapphelle Group is a big name in Esterham, I should be careful when facing anyone from the Sanderson family."

Dooley's infiltration of Effie's company was the last straw for her.

She wouldn't let him have his way anymore. It was time to fight him back.

Trevor smiled and said, "Since I can give you the list of traitors in Sapphelle Group, it means I have the lists of traitors in other companies. You will have a higher chance of winning against Dooley if we join hands with the other companies. Don't you think so?"

Effie's eyes lit up. It would be best to have Trevor reach out to other companies.

She finally agreed.

"Alright. I'm willing to cooperate with you."

Effie stretched out and shook hands with Trevor, marking their cooperation. Afterward, they exchanged contact details.

Trevor breathed a sigh of relief, happy with how things turned out.

It was just the beginning. Dooley's influence would eventually weaken down to nothing.

With Sapphelle Group's support, Trevor was ready to take the next step.

Trevor went back to the front desk in glee, informing the receptionist of the good news.

"Hi, Greta. Mahoney just got fired. You don't have to worry about your work anymore."

With a smile, Greta shrugged.

"Oh, I already submitted my resignation letter to avoid getting fired. They finished processing it already."

Trevor was shocked. He did not expect her to be so efficient.

She was a real personality.

Greta twirled some strands of her hair and continued, "Don't get this the wrong way. I find this workplace boring. I didn't enjoy the job my parents arranged for me, so I settled with being a receptionist here. After thinking it over, I believe it's better to go back and accept the job my parents arranged for me."

Upon hearing that, Trevor raised his eyebrows.

He wondered if Greta was a rebellious girl from a rich family who wanted to experience life as a poor person.

It made sense. Greta didn't faze when Mahoney threatened her. Perhaps, Trevor's guess had some weight to it.

The two left the building together. Trevor was about to ask her something when two familiar figures caught his eye.

He squinted his eyes.

Not far away, Sigrid and Zakai were talking with a group of strangers by the door of a cafe.

Noticing that Trevor suddenly stopped in his tracks, Greta followed his gaze. She frowned and said in a somewhat disgusted voice, "Do you know that those gangsters? They're from Cyan Gang, mainly engaged in pimping. I heard that they force girls to become prostitutes secretly. The police have investigated them several times already!"
